Over 200 beauticians expected at convention here Sept. 24-27

More than 200 Maryland beauticians will be present here, each day, Saturday through Tuesday, to attend the annual Maryland State Beauty Culturist Association Trade Show and workshops.

All activities will be held at The Sheraton Belvedere Hotel.

The Saturday Dinner Dance in the Charles Room from 7 to 1 p.m., officially opens the occasion which attracts hundreds of out-of-towners each year.

Following the Sunday worship services at St. Marks Institutional Church is the annual 1:30 p.m. luncheon also at the Belvedere Charles Room. Mrs. Edna DeCoursey Johnson is scheduled as guest speaker.

Dr. Katie E. Wickham, New Orleans, La., president of the National Beauty Culturist League, is the honored guest.

The 6 to 8 p.m. social hour will be held in the Main Ballroom and will witness the introduction of manufacturers and jobbers and the guest artist, Walter Black of New York and Washington.

Monday's program opens with registration at the Belvedere at 8:30 a.m. Workshops begin at 9 a.m. in the 12th Floor Assembly Room where booths, exhibits and demonstrations will be located.

Shop owners will be in charge of the official opening at 11 a.m.

HIGHLIGHT of the convention, Hairstyle Competition, begins at 7 p.m. Monday on the 12th floor. Mrs. Christina M. Jenkins of Cleveland, Ohio, will be featured in a hair weaving demonstration.

A total of 10 trophies will be awarded Monday night. Tuesday's competition winners will receive nine trophies.

A special trophy will be awarded the beauty school with the largest number of students enrolled.

Tuesday exhibits and demonstrations open at 9 a.m. while the Student Hairstyle Contest begins at noon.

Mrs. Margare C. Mitchell is general chairman. Mrs. Virgie W. Waters is ticket chairman.

Quakers to aid N., S. Viet Nam

Quaker efforts to ship medical aid to suffering people in both North and South Viet Nam will be the theme of a public "Viet Nam Hunger Meal" to be held this Sunday, Sept. 25 at 5:30 p.m. in Stony Run Friends Meeting, 5116 N. Charles St.

Following a supper of rice and tea, Dr. Frank Epp, Mennonite clergyman and Editor of THE CANADIAN MENNONITE, will show colored slides of pictures taken during his recent investigation of the effects of the war upon the Vietnamese people. Dr. Epp's "Report on Viet Nam" will begin at 7 p.m.

On Peace Corps

Job session set Oct. 1

Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., is the time set for the second Joborama sponsored by the Metropolitan Council for Employment.

The Baltimore County Youth Council will be on hand to assist in the activities to be held at the Social Security Building at Woodlawn.

The youth group will provide registrars and guides for the affair.

The Joborama is set up to provide contacts between job seekers and employers with job opportunities available.

Some 50 companies representing business and industry will be on hand to interview persons of all ages and job skills.

Representatives of the Maryland State Employment Service and the Federal State and City Civil Service bureaus will also attend.

* * *

THE JOBORAMA will provide opportunities for persons wanting information concerning available jobs to investigate a number of them all in one place in one day.

The unemployed and under - employed are invited to take advantage of the day.

GERTRUDE GORMAN, national NAACP director, will conduct the fall membership campaign beginning Oct. 7 for the Baltimore branch.

NAACP drive opens Fri., Oct. 7

The 12th fall membership campaign of the Baltimore NAACP is scheduled for a kick - off Friday, Oct. 7.

The opening mass meeting will be held at Masonic Temple, 1307 N. Eutaw Place.

Mrs. Gertrude Gorman, of the national NAACP office in New York, will direct the campaign and has set a goal of 10,000 members.

Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore branch, promises to have some outstanding speakers and urges all members and friends to attend the rally.

Volunteer workers are also being called for. You may contact the NAACP office at 1234 Druid Hill Ave., or call LA. 3-8503 or 8504.

Food poison can come from home canned food

When in doubt about the freshness of home - canned food, the Health Department says, "Throw it out."

Other precautions issued at home-canning time of year include (1) be sure food being prepared for home canning is heated to 240 degrees Fahrenheit (2) select food that is fresh, without blemishes and washed thoroughly (3) pack food in clean jars, seal, place in pressure cooker (4) Consult canning book to determine proper heating time of each type food (5) store jars in clean, dry place.

Gas formation, rancidity or milky appearance are signs of spoilage. Such canned food contains dangerous botulism, a frequently fatal type of food poisoning caused by improperly processed canned foods.

Child care

The first of a new series of four child care seminars under the auspicies of the Maryland Department of Public Welfare will be held Tuesday, Sept. 27, at St. Vincent's Infant Home, 2600 Potts Spring Rd., Timonium.

FRANK ROBINSON SWINGS WITH Blue Ribbon Action!

Power! That's what Frank Robinson's got! And it takes plenty of it to smash out those long home runs. That's why Schmidt's Blue Ribbon's the bread for Frank. He likes the way it tastes . . . and the freshness . . . but best of all he likes all the food energy he gets from Schmidt's sun-ripened wheats. That's what we mean by Blue Ribbon action! Get it!
