-Orioles aim

mitted — three by the pitiful Willie Davis and one each by Jim Gilliam, Ron Fairly and reliever Ron Perranoski — equaled a World Series record held by three clubs, the first of which were the 1917 White Sox.

Things got so bad as the Orioles collected eight hits and ran the bases at random that the crowd of 55,947 booed their sad sack one-time Dodger heroes, particularly Willie Davis, any time a ball was caught.

MERCIFULLY, dodger manager Alston lifted Koufax after six innings. During his tenure on the mound, the Dodgers' south paw ace yielded six hits and only one earned run but still saw his string of 28 consecutive scoreless innings come to an end in World Series competition.

Strictly for laughs, because that's what the crowd was doing to the Dodgers, the Orioles added two more runs they didn't need in the eighth on a walk, Brooks Robinson's single, a sacrifice, another single by Dave Johnson and a throwing error by Perranoski.

-How to score

fielder, 9.

(2) Base hits are marked in the upper left hand corner of the square, thusly: single, one line —; double, two lines —; triple, three lines ; home run, four lines ;

(3) Runs are marked in the ower right hand corner with a parenthesized dot: ().

(4) Putouts are listed in the square with the number or numbers of the players handling the ball mentioned. Examples are:

9-8 means the batter flied out to centerfield, and usually a small one is put below the 0-8 to indicate that this was out No. 1 for the inning; F-5 means batter fouled out to third baseman.

6-3 means the batter grounded out to shortstop, with the shortstop (6) assisting the putout by throwing him out at first; 0-6 means batter flied out to shortstop.

E-5 means the batter reached first base on an error by the third baseman (5) and 4-3E means the batter hit to second base (4) and tossed the ball to first (3) but the first baseman errored allowing the runner to reach base safely.

(5) Other important symbols are: K-strikeout, with the catcher (2) getting credit for a putout and the pitcher credit for a strikeout in the pitching statistics; BB—base on balls and IBB meaning intentional base on balls; FC — fielder's choice, which means the batter was safe because the fielder elected to make the play on some other base other than first base; FO — forced out (when runner is forced out on a hit ball by another player; DP — double play with the numbers of the players involved listed as follows: 6-4-3 DP; WP — wild pitch; PB — passed ball; SB — stolen base; MB — muffed ball.

(6) Asterisks or parenthesized small letters (a), etc. are used preceding the name of a player with the explanation listed below to designate him as a substitute for a starting player. Thus if Jones replaced Brown as a pitcher in the sixth inning, it would be recorded as follows in the lineup: (a) Jones (6), and below: (a) Jones replaced Brown in sixth.

(7) At the conclusion of each inning the number of hits should be listed in the top half of the lower square with the number of runs in the lower half, and thus giving you an inning-by-inning record of the hits and runs as the game progresses. At the same time you should add to the pitcher's record the number of strikeouts, walks and runs he allowed during the inning so that a quick tabulation on the pitcher's record may be made in the event he is replaced before the end of the game.

Also the number of men left on bases should be tabulated and recorded so that an inning by inning count is always available.

As mentioned earlier, experts vary these symbols for their own personal use and in some instances use other symbols that will give them a more detailed description of the game. Some, for instance, slant the hit symbols to the left or right to show which side of the field the ball was hit, and others put the number of each player adding the advance of the base runner in the corner of the square as he advances to home plate, thus enabling them to tell how each runner advanced from first to home plate if he scores.

RBI is listed beside the player's name driving in a run.

Try these symbols with your AFRO scorecard and it is dollars to doughnuts you will get more fun out of the game. —ART CARTER

"My son's skin was rough, chapped...a neighbor told me how good pure 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly was. It didn't fail"

Mrs. Betty Washington, Chicago, Ill.

From a child's dry, chapped skin to the dry, ashy-gray condition that plagues grown-ups, 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly, applied as a continuous film, is the soothing answer. No other softener, no other skin cream, no skin lotion provides better moisture protection. Try it.

closing deadline, added votes to Mrs. Ruth Dotson that brought her into 16th place — ahead of the previously-announced Mrs. Anna Davis for that position.

Final count showed Dotson, 39,600; Davis, 39,200.

The AFRO immediately extended the prizes to cover 17, rather than the original 16 winners.

Mrs. Davis, too, was awarded a World Series ticket.

International romance links Morgan students

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

Cupid has not been the least bit discouraged by overcast skies and the constant patter of rain on the roof this fall. Rather, the rainy season seems to have contributed to romance.

Among hundreds of persons who applied for marriage licenses at the Court House late in September and the first days of October were two Morgan State College students whose romance blossomed on the campus minus sunny skies or the moon at night.

ALSO, DECIDING to tie the knot during the downpour is a young Glen Burnie couple separated by divorce five years ago.

Add to them as victims of Cupid's arrow, several servicemen hurrying to select the wedding date before too late a window cleaner, two printers, a glass cutter and a couple of cooks who will keep the home fires burning, stewing, frying and baking this winter, rain or shine.

JOINING HANDS across the sea so to speak are Septimus Kaikai, 25, a sophomore at Morgan who is a native of Sierra Leone, West Africa, and a Baltimorean, Miss Regina Blackburn, 22, an elementary education senior there.

Mrs. Lillie Tucker, 31, 1531 Rutland Ave., will not change her name when she weds Howard Tucker, 36, a Glen Burnie contractor.

The couple was divorced March 22, 1961 and have since renewed their romance.

Servicemen include William Beverly, 20, 1206 Myrtle Ave., of the Army, who will wed Miss Diann Holman, 19, 117 N. Carey St.; Tyrone Cooper, 21, 2919 Windsor Ave., of the Air Force, who will wed Miss Judith Fowlkes, 19, 405 N. Calhoun St.

ALSO, NAVYMAN Wayne Thomas, 19, 221 N. Fremont Ave. and Miss Agnes Snell, 16, 925 W. Franklin St.; Arnyman Glenn Taylor, 18, 217 N. Fulton Ave., and Miss Yvonne Nelson, 17, 243 N. Bruce St.

Window cleaner Johnny Small, 23, 1918 Eutaw Place, has selected Miss Katherine Washington, 16, 2206 Eutaw Pl.

Printer Jerry Gough, 22, 2608 Park Heights Ave., will wed Miss Marlene Campbell, 19, 2307 Edgemont Ave.; press operator Elton Barnes 27, of Waterbury, Conn., will wed Miss Violet Smith, 41, also of the Connecticut city.

Glass cutter Grant Hardy, 27, 403 Ballou Ave., and Miss Doretha Goodwin, 24, 1360 E. Fayette St., have plans.

Two cooks and their brides-to-be are Earl Williams, 20, 2601 Spellman Rd., and Miss Yvonne Dorsey, 20, 3116 Brighton St. and John Kelley, 28, 2012 N. Calvert St., and Miss Blondine Dallas, 30, 409 E. Federal St.
