—Kids see and do

appeared before Judge O'Grady Tuesday.

He and a 16 - year - old friend, a youth of the 4000 block Kathland Dr., (and other members yet to be brought to justice of the "older gang") committed crimes of robbery and vandalism either on the way home or to school, on "hooky" days and during vacation.

The 16 - year - old youth has been sentenced to three years in the Maryland Correctional Institute for Males.

The older youth is the son of a preacher, it was testified in court.

The 14 - year - old youth said he and his companion pretended they were grass-cutters during summer vacation robberies.

He stated they would ring door bells in the rust to see who was home. If there was an answer, he stated they said they were making appointments to come back Saturday."

If no one answered, they cut through back screens and doors, he told Judge O'Grady.

* * *

AT HOME, the 14 - year - old youth was known as "the essence of neatness." with his room, lessons and clothes and personal habits always in order.

Astonished parents told Judge O'Grady they were "shocked beyond words." They wept throughout the hearing in Juvenile Court.

The boy was sentenced to "hard labor" at home under the direction of the father to make his part of cash restitution for damage done and articles taken from the homes the two entered.

HERE IS a partial account of deeds done by the 14 and 16 - year - old boys:

In five cases of robbery of homes on Wesley, Belville Fermpark, Howard Park and Forest Park Aves., damage done to interiors and furnishings exceeded $5,000.

The youngster admitted "taking only cash" but did not deny testimony of the home owners who said:

Beer, whisky and perfume were poured on mattresses and rugs.

Food emptied from freezers and refrigerators was strewed over ceilings, walls, floors and ground into rugs. Eggs were splattered on walls, ceilings.

Also, according to statements before the court, mirrors, windows, glass on pictures were smashed. Telephones were snatched from connections to prevent calls, one was taken apart.

In another home, the owner said, "Not a shoe box, pocketbook, drawer nor cabinet was left unturned from cellar to attic. Silverware was bent in half. A 50 - year - old heirloom watch was taken as well as a gun. Neither has been recovered.

The gun owner said the culprit fired the gun and broke a rare vase.

At this point, the youth said the 16 - year - old wanted to see if the gun was filled with blanks or real bullets.

* * *

ALSO IN this home, ginger ale from the refrigerator was poured all over books. Cookies were ground into rugs, bananas half - eaten and half - full sasparilla bottles were found. A bank book was torn in four pieces and put under a rug.

A safe, already unlocked, was pried open from the hinge edge and, a camera was taken.

At the conclusion of the case, owners asked the 14 - year - old to "stay away from bad company." One stated, "My insurance paid for damage and I would feel amply repaid if this young sister turns over a new leaf."

NEXT WEEK

A 15 - year - old boy, a 7th grader at School 75, told Juvenile authorities he led his interracial gang in crimes "to impress his older friends."

Another chronic truant, he has been present only one day in school and absent all other days since Sept. 6.

In addition to robbing autos, homes, schools and pupils, his groun "beat up other kids" for fun.

* * *

ANOTHER LAD, age 10, a 5th grader at School 141, is required by the court to "never go in a store again" since he took toy soldiers, a toy electric shaver and other items from a super market.

Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey
86 Proof. Six Years Old.

Mister, here's your bourbon.

It's made by hand.
With meticulous care.
The hopelessly antiquated, deliciously
old-fashioned way.
Made by men who know good corn and won't take less. Who stop making whiskey when their limestone pond drops below the "perfect bourbon water" level.
If you've never tasted hand made Kentucky whiskey, try Henry McKenna. It's bourbon, Mister.
Could be your bourbon.

Miss Ianthe C. Harris to address nurses here

MISS IANTHE C. HARRIS

"Twentieth Century Nursing" will be the theme of the 63rd annual convention of the Maryland Nurses Association on Wednesday, Oct. 19 and Thursday, Oct. 20 at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel.

Miss Ianthe C. Harris, director of the program on education for the American Nurses' Association, will be the featured guest at the conference, addressing the group at various times during the two days.

She will talk on "Past Convention Views on the ANA Position Paper," "Some Current NA Programs" and "Where We Go From Here?"

The convention, which will begin at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 19, will include a keynote speech by Dr. Katherine R. Nelson, associate professor of nursing education at Columbia University Teachers College on "New Perspectives in Nursing and Nursing Education" and a luncheon talk by Dr. Ruth B. Freeman, professor of Public Health Administration at the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, entitled "No Walls."

Afternoon sessions will consist of section meetings.

Wednesday evening, at Eudowood Gardens, a dutch treat social hour is scheduled at 6 p.m., followed by dinner and entertainment at 7.

The second day of the convention will open with a breakfast meeting in the hotel at 7 a.m., followed by registration and a coffee hour. A business meeting will be held at 9 a.m. and a luncheon meeting is planned for 12:30.

The convention will close with clinical sessions to be held at 3 p.m. at Sinai Hospital, which are part of the hospital's Centennial Celebration.

OCT. 20

The PTA of Cherry Hill Junior High School will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. All parents are urged to attend.

FRANK ROBINSON at GAGE Gentlemen's Corner

The fabulous baseball triple crown winner Frank Robinson shown with Harry Gage at Gage Gentlemen's Corner — the home of fabulous Gage Clothes — at Baltimore and Liberty Sts. Gage complimented Robinson on his success, and wished for him more of the same kind.

Frank enjoyed every minute at Gage store with their unusually large selection of distinctive Men's Wear. Mr. Robinson gave out autographs, posed for pictures, selected two suits—a Petrocelli and an Eagle—ordered two customed-made double breasted vest to complement his wardrobe, and went on to California to break more records during the World Series.

AFL-CIO backs GOP's Agnew

The State AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education made history this week by endorsing Republican Ted Agnew for governor.

The influential labor group, which has always backed the Democratic candidate for governor, backed Democrats Francis B. Burch for attorney general and Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller.

Charles A. Della, president of the Maryland-District of Columbia AFL-CIO and head of the state COPE, which represents some 200,000 workers, said "about 85 percent of the delegates favored Mr. Agnew."

Mr. Agnew also picked up the support of the Fourth District faction led by Del. Clarence W. Mitchell III, one of the Democratic nominees for state senate.

Mr. Mitchell said, "we feel that the major issue is ability — we do not believe that the Democratic nominee for governor is competent to run the state government."

6th graders tour AFRO

Students in Grade 6 of Collington Square Elementary School, Collington Ave. and Hoffman St., were recent visitors at the AFRO AMERICAN Newspapers offices.

The students were accompanied by Miss Melva Powell, their teacher, and were conducted on a tour of the plant.

They saw firsthand the many operations required to publish a newspaper.

AA NAACP seeks members

An intensive membership drive will soon be initiated by the Anne Arundel County Branch of the NAACP.

Membership chairman Dorothy Hunt announced the campaign following a strategy meeting last week attended by NAACP board members and area chairmen.

The drive, according to Mrs. Hunt, will begin on Friday, Oct. 14, and will continue for the next two months, culminating in the annual branch meeting and election of officers in mid-December.

S. D. police unit to meet

The Southern District Police and Community Relations Council will meet on Oct 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cherry Hill Recreation Center. Mrs. Laurence Johnson will speak on "Consumer Protection."

Any resident of South Baltimore is welcome to attend these meetings and be put on the mailing list by seeing any of the chairmen present. The meeting will be chaired by Mrs. M. Richmond Farring and Mrs. Laurence Johnson.

Openings in army for more women

"The Women's Army Corps still has opening in almost 100 special fields for the young girl who wants to take advantage of the Army's technical training, "says Army recruiting sergeant SFC Robert E. Burton of 2718 Pennsylvania Ave.

But vacancies in these classes, running through December, are fast filling up, Sgt. Burton said.
