Series receipts provide $166,242 player jackpot

By SAM LACY

The World Series — one of the most lucrative in the history of major league baseball — netted a total of $166,242.05 to 70 players under contract to teams which finished in the first division of their respective leagues the past summer.

A larger share of the money went to athletes of the National League, which paid off 40, as opposed to 30 in the American, pointing up the fact that the NL is far more heavily integrated than the junior circuit.

THE 40 National leaguers were members of the pennant-winning Dodgers, the second place Giants, third place Pirates, fourth place Phillies and fifth place Atlanta Braves.

They totalled $103,900.93.

THE 30 AL recipients are led by the world champion Orioles, who divvied the smallest number (3) than any club in either league.

Members of the Twins Tigers, White Sox and Indians combined with the Birds to make the total in the winning league $62,341.12.

Paul Blair, Sam Bowens and Frank Robinson received $11,683.04 a piece for a sum of $35,049.12. Their pot fell considerably short of the total money collected by the losing Dodgers, the latter having voted eight shares of $8,198.36 for a total of $65,514.88.

TAKING FULL Los Angeles splits were Wes Covington; Willie and Tommy Davis, Lou Johnson, Nate Oliver, John Roseboro and Maury Wills.

Other NL clubs receiving cuts and the players who benefited are as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS (8 full, 1 part) — Tito Fuentes, Jim Hart, Juan Marichal, Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Ozzie Virgil, Jesus Alou, Ollie Brown and Frank Johnson (part). Each earned $2,256.40 as a full portion.

PITTSBURGH PIRATES (ten full, 1 part) — Matty Alou, Roberto Clemente, Donn Clendenon, Vince Co-der, Al McBean, Manny Mota, Jose Pagan, Andre Rodgers, Willie Stargell, Bob Veale and George Spriggs (part). Each full cut was $1,052.46.

PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES (5 full — Richie Allen, John Briggs, Tony Gonzalez, Tony Taylor and Bill White, all receiving $710.55 apiece.

ATLANTA BRAVES (8 full, 2 part) — Hank Aaron, Felipe Alou, Rico Carty, Mack Jones, Clu Chi Olive; Felix Millan and Sany Alomar (part). Full spilt were worth $361.28.

AMERICAN LEAGUE recipients in addition to the three Baltimore players were:

MINNESOTA TWINS (8 full, 1 part) — Earl Battey, Jim Grant, Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar, Zoilo Versalles and Sandy Valenzuela (part). Full spilts were $1,235.18 each.

DETROIT TIGERS (6 full) — Gates Brown, Willie Horton, Orlando McFarlane, Orlando Pena, Jake Wood and Earl Wilson, each receiving $1,300.34.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX (8 full, 1 part) — Tommy Agee, Don Buford, Tommy Davis, Juan Pizarro, Floyd Robinson and Grover Jones (part). Amount $713 apiece.

CLEVELAND INDIANS (8 full, 1 part) — Pedro Gonzalez, Chuck Hinton, Chico Salmon, Luis Tiant, Leon Wagner, Willard Davis, Tony Martinez, Jose Vidal and George Banks (part).

Hawks seek to check slide at Norfolk

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., Badly in need of a victory to check their disappointing slide from CIAA title contention, Maryland State College footballers journey to Portsmouth (Va.) tomorrow (Saturday) in search of a victim in the person of Norfolk State College.

Surprised last week by North Carolina College, the Hawks are in a brutal mood as they take their 3-2 record against a Spartan aggregation that has won but 2 of its 5 starts.

Norfolk lost to a strong Livingstone eleven last week but lists hard-hitting Leon Harris among the conference's rushing leaders and are shown fifth in the total offense department with 219 yards per game. The Hawks won last year's meeting, 14-0.

BY VIRTUE of their 12-6 loss to North Carolina, the Hawks skidded from second to ninth in the CIAA standings and desperately need a win to get back into the first division if they are to realize a post-season goal.

Despite the loss, the Maryland Staters were happy to get good service from their 250-pound freshman fullback, Roy Kirksey, who now appears ready for full time duty. Kirksey is the team rushing leader with 237 yards in 52 attempts.

And in spite of plaguing interceptions, Charlie Stukes appears to have his air attack under better control. Sophomore end, Erwin Willimas, has sprouted as the team's leading receiver, snaring five last week.

Tht Hawk defensive unit, led by Art Shell, Gerald Irons and Cornell Parsons, continues to impress the coaching staff, holding opponents to 80.8 yards a game.

Frank Robinson Hickok choice

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Robinson, slugging outfielder of the world champion Baltimore Orioles and winner of the American League triple batting crown, Wednesday was named winner of the September balloting in the quest for the 17th annual S. Rae Hickok "professional athlete of the year" Award.

Robinson pulled down 69 votes for first place and 220 points to top Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Koufax had 16 first place votes and 101 points. Joe Namath of the New York Jets, was third with 61 points and golfer Gene Littler was fourth with 47.

Auto crash hurts Marichal, trial off

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juan Marichal suffered a whiplash injury when his car struck another last Friday, it was revealed Tuesday before the star San Francisco pitcher left for his winter home in the Dominican Republic.

The disclosure was made by his attorney, S. Lee Vavauris, while he announced he had received a 40-day continuance for Marichal on a city charge he had illegally erected an oversized greenhouse in the back lot of his San Francisco home.

Harris said Marichal will likely return to San Francisco for further legal action. Marichal, 28, was 25-6 for the Giants last season despite a run of minor injuries which forced him to miss several starts.

Fast broken, Bullets eye weekend wins

Their victory fast unexpectedly broken by a win over the Cincinnati Royals Wednesday night, the Baltimore Bullets are eagerly anticipating two weekend opportunities to hypo their record today (Friday).

After losing their first five games of the campaign, Bullets offered little hope to the brave, 2,639 fans who attended the Civic Center contest, since Oscar Robertson and Company always loom tough even when Baltimore is at its peak form.

TONIGHT (FRIDAY), the Bullets play host to the San Francisco Warriors, and tomorrow they travel to Detroit for an engagement with the Pistons.

It is conceivable that coach Mike Farmer and his charges want these two very much, because their next date is with the Chicago Bulls, hottest team in the Western Division at the moment. They play in the Windy City next Wednesday night.

terracial group of officers of the law, attorneys, bondsmen, well-known businessmen and citizens of all walks and stations around town and out-of-town "big as life and twice as natural" on the scene . . . how were they made?

The film, four rolls in all, was first flashed on the screen and entered into the record in Criminal Court Oct. 7, holding the judge, attorneys, members of the states attorneys office, defendants, witnesses, police officers and spectators over until after 9 p.m.

Onlookers chorussed "Ohs, ahs and wows" as they recognized faces but most cement came when a portly, jolly, 250-pound man, came in full-view, looking into the camera head-on.

How were the films made? All information is a matter of record given from the witness stand under oath the first day of the trial.

Information disclosed to the court related that the photos were taken by Officers Michael Pucci and Paul Karaskavecz as "observation" of the 1500 block Pennsylvania Ave. scene prior to the raid.

Officer Pucci testified he was concealed in a truck that had the appearance of an old moving van directly across the street so that he could see "goings on" at Joe's Snack Bar, the York Bar, the Birdland Barber Shop, Simon's Barber Shop, from 1502 to 1514 Pennsylvania Ave.

At one point during his testimony he testified he became overheated inside the truck and was taken suddenly ill.

Notations were made during the filming of the scene, he stated.

His testimony follows:

April 11 - 10:05 a.m. to 1:55 p.m. — observing the York Bar and Joe's Snack Bar and area from 1502-04-06 Pennsylvania Ave.

12:20 p.m. - 1:55 p.m. — Joe's Snack Bar traffic showed 167 persons going in, 159 persons coming out.

April 12 - 9:30 a.m. — observation at the same location — traffic increasing.

April 25—11:25 a.m. — Bond and Carter observed "going in and out of the York Bar."

May 2 — 10:30 a.m. - 1:15 p.m. —Observation of the Birdland Barber Shop, 1506-10, Gladson Bond seen "going and coming."

"A man got out of a Cadillac, Bond handed him a slip. Both went into the barber shop. Bond was seen through the window making a phone call. Simon, in shop next door, left 70 people out."

May 2 —Same scene, same time. Gladson Bond noted standing at the window. More than 70 people went in the barber shop at 11:05 a.m. with a paper bag in his hand. He was observed going and coming at 12 noon and at 12:30 p.m.

AT THIS time, activity at the York Bar started.

May 6 — 12:15 p.m. - 2 p.m. "great" activity at the York Bar and Joe's Snack Bar. Traffic "heavy." 169 people in, 157 coming out by 2:10 p.m.

John Carter, entering and leaving Joe's Snack Bar, and York Bar in a three-tone sweater.

WHAT HAPPENED in the back room at the York Bar?

The scene inside the York Bar when the warrant disappeared, was described from the witness stand as follows:

Judge Carter: — This all-important paper, your authority for the raid, why didn't you get it back?

Officer Charles Marshall—I was instructed by Sgt. Tabeling to do something else. I never saw what Beau Jack did with the warrant. I was busy going through two large bundles of money.

Judge —Where was all this? Start all over again.

Answer — Officer Bessling, Officer Pucci, a uniformed officer and I went into the York Bar. I had the warrant.

Jackson (Beau Jack) was seated at the bar.

I informed Jackson of the warrant and privilege to search his person. We moved from the front of the bar to the back. People in the bar left.

I removed all things from his person, emptied his pockets and put the things on the table.

He (Beau Jack) said he wanted to read the warrant. He submitted to the search willingly. Officer Spencer had left.

Sgt. Tabeling came back and told me to inspect the stuff. He said Jackson (Beau Jack) had a right to read the warrant. He had been handed the warrant.

A uniformed officer wanted him to remove his clothes but he was told he did not have to take off his clothes.

It took 45 minutes to an hour to go through the things on the table. There was a whole pile of money ($1,298 in bills). He had been searched thoroughly, his socks and cuffs, everything.

The cruising patrol was waiting to take him to Western. Members of the raiding party were in the cruiser.

JUDGE — What happened to the warrant?

Answer — I don't know. I was busy at the table. Beau Jack was seated across from me at the table. Officer Bessling and the uniformed officer were there while I was going through the things on the table.

Beau Jack was never out of the presence of officers.

Judge — In 45 minutes or more in custody of officers, no one saw what happened to the warrant? Were there any windows? Where was the bathroom?

Answer — There wasn't any window. No one went to the bathroom.

Judge — ,You had him (Beau Jack) sitting in a chair. Why didn't you get the warrant and put it back in your pocket?

Answer — I was conducting the physical search and going through all those things and all that money. I never saw what he did with the warrant.

JUDGE CARTER then made the pronouncement that opened the investigation and placed the four rolls of film and all testimony before the Police Commissioner.

The jurist opened with, "It all spells Jackson's funeral" and noted at this point "There are other elements in this case that bother me more than these four men."

Continuing he stated, "All are guilty as charged. But with respect to the warrant, I'm going to ask that a high level investigation be conducted by the Police Commissioner to ascertain what actually happened to the warrant in this case.

"I am ordering all testimony to be written up and recorded for the investigation. I want all possible investigation into "Where is the missing warrant."

"Even Sgt. Tabeling's copy of the warrant disappeared from his file. It was taken from the jury room during his testimony from the witness stand in the court room.

"This calls for an inquiry

"I don't know who is responsible but this calls for as complete an investigation as the license in a transfer from Mrs. Leah Mplofsky, who has never opened the place.

Actually, the case has been in litigation from last November until Sept. 21, when the Court of Appeals dismissed an appeal asking an over ruling of a lower court's opinion that granted the license.

The Liquor Board had denied the license on July 29, 1965, but was reversed in City Court on an appeal by Judge James K. Cullen.

THUS, THE only question before the board Thursday was the character and physical fitness of the applicants to operate the proposed establishment.

Some 50 or more protestants were present for the hear and 25 - minute hearing, with Charles P. Howard Jr. as their attorney.

Mr. Howard attempted to link Mr. Butler with some unnamed underworld figures, but was halted by Jerome A. Dashner, board chairman.

"We have nothing before us by way of charges," he said. "We must be careful of what we delve into."

Under questioning, Mr. Butler denied such association.

He owns one percent of the business, with $100 outlay, as does Mr. Simnson.

MR. BROWN is the principal owner with 98 percent of the stock.

Protestants who testified dwelt largely on the harm a liquor store could do to their community.

Neither Mr. Brown nor Mr. Butler live in Cherry Hill.

can possibly be made."

POLICE officers who composed the raiding party included Sgt. Stephen Tabeling, Officers Charles Marshall, Milton Spencer, Michael Pucci, Paul Karaskavecz, Vernon Bessling and about 20 uniformed personnel.

Attorneys representing persons arrested in the raid are Alan H. Murrell, Harry A. Cole, James Murphy and Joseph Burke.

Due to come to Criminal Court for lottery trials are Carter, Bond, Gladson, Jackson, Higdon and Eric Simon Jr., 40 1500 block Pennsylvania Ave., owner of Simon's Bar at 1514 Pennsylvania Ave.

George York Gardner, 1500 block Argyle Ave., arrested along with the others pleaded guilty, turned informer as a state's witness and was recommended for a suspended sentence.

Carter, Bond, Jackson and Higdon are at liberty under $2,000 bond each.
