AFRO poll favors Agnew

The AFRO's fifth poll for the Nov. 8 gubernatorial race was taken this week in the upper 15th Ward of the 4th District at Garrison, Liberty Heights, Forest Park, Springdale and Callaway Aves.

The question: If you were to vote today, who would be your choice for Governor? The results are:

Agnew	29
Mahoney	18
Pressman	15
No Choice	38

Previous polls were made in the 2nd District, the 15th Ward of the 4th District, and in Cherry Hill and South Baltimore in the 6th District. Of the 500 voters polled to date, Spiro T. Agnew holds a lead over the other candidates with 30.8 percent; Mahoney, 16.8 percent; Pressman, 16.2 percent. 36.2 percent of the voters questioned have not yet made up their minds.

Summary of the polls shows:

Agnew	154
Mahoney	84
Pressman	81
No Choice	181

The undecided vote makes it impossible to get a true guideline to make it determinative.

If we are to have a 90 percent vote, everybody will have to make up his mind in the next few days.

'Target City' sets Halloween party for kids

The Congress of Racial Equality's "Target City" office has announced a Halloween party for children Oct. 29 at the St. James Hall, 1031 Aisquith St., from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

There will be plenty of fun, surprises and refreshments for everyone.

Youngsters will have to have a free ticket to be admitted. Tickets may be picked up from the following

PTA wants streets fixed

Protesting failure to repair damaged concrete footwalks on the Douglass High School grounds, the Rev. O. St. Clair Franklin, president of the PTA, sent a letter to the School Administration this week.

The PTA charged that conditions on the walks leading from Windsor Ave. and Bentalou St. to the school are in badly-damaged and dangerous condition and appeals for repairs have fallen on deaf ears the past six years.

Car doors flew open, 4 teens fell out before auto smashed into tree

"They're lucky they didn't come home in a coffin."

The above remark was made Wednesday by a Juvenile Court master as he listened to police officers report on an Oct. 20, 8:45 a.m. accident four teenaged boys had in a stolen car.

According to Western District officers, the youngsters, ages 12, 13 and 14 were driving the stolen 1961 model car in Druid Hill Park when they saw police nearby and sped up to 65 miles an hour.

At a curve near the Mansion House, they cut across the grass.

The car sailed off a hill into the air. All four doors flew open and the four boys fell out while the car was in the air, one out each door. They landed on the ground about the same time the car hit a tree and smashed to smithereens.

At the conclusion of the report, Master John F. O'Grady inserted, "Im always amazed at how God takes care of children.

"If it had been adults, they would all be on the way to the graveyard."

* * *

DURING TESTIMONY, it was revealed the 14-year-old who took the car when he found it unlocked, asked his teenaged friends to go for a ride. He told them he had borrowed the car from an uncle.

According to evidence he had a driver's license not his own and a registration card that was the property of an adult driver who resided literally miles away and did not know either the boys nor the rightful owner of the car.

The 14 - year old stopped for his friends at a store "hangout" near School 42 where he had been suspended from the 8th Grade a day or so before.

Nicknamed "Puppy," the youth was described as a child who "is crazy about

Ministers staging mass political rally Saturday

"Heretofore we as religious leaders have given only 30 percent of our efforts to political action.

"We are not now asking for 90 per cent effort of ourselves and our parishioners.

"We must have 100 per cent. If we don't get it, it will be political suicide."

The Rev. Marion C. Bascom, pastor of Douglas Memorial Community Church and chairman of the Community Affairs Committee of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, was sounding the call Thursday for a city rally.

The rally, designed "to alert both the community's leadership and grass roots of what is about to happen politically," will be held 3 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple, 1307 Eutaw Pl.

Detailing the purpose of the ministers-sponsored gathering, the Rev. Mr. Bascom told the AFRO:

"It is absolutely mandatory that we get out the vote on both the leadership and grass roots level, explain the Modified Bard Redistricting Plan and defeat Mahoney."

George P. Mahoney is Democratic nominee for governor who won the primary on an anti-Fair housing slogan.

* * *

THE MINISTER added that pastors throughout the city are finalizing plans wherein "each person who attends church the first Sunday in November will automatically become a block campaigner."

Three community leaders will "put the facts in their perspective" during the afternoon meeting, according to Rev. Bascom.

They are Fourth District Councilman Henry G. Parks, Jr., Bishop Edgar Love, of the Methodist Church, and John Berry, veteran Republican and business executive.

"The whole city is invited," the minister said.

BROKEN CEMENT lines several places on a main walk of the Douglass High School campus, a constant danger to students. Requests for repairs have gone unanswered for six years. Students here are Miss Stella Brown and Miss Anna Mae Chase, both tenth graders. PTA President O. St. Clair Franklin and PTA members are registering a further request for action this week.

Time to pay SS for maids, cooks, handymen

Anyone who paid a household worker $50 or more during July, August and September must file a social security tax report before the end of October, district manager Marshall Barney reminded Baltimore residents today.

Maids, cooks, housekeeper-employees are by law covered under social security. Persons who employ such a worker and pay him over $50 in a three-month quarter are considered employers.

'Bold soul' heists truck, $10 G cargo

Central and Eastern District police are searching what they term a "bold soul" suspected of stealing a two-and-half ton truck loaded with $10,000 worth of new copper tubing and a roto rooter machine.

The truck and its cargo were located in the rear of the 700 block Sterling St., a short distance from a scrap metal shop.

Eastern District Patrolman H. W. Sanders reported the truck was stolen at the intersection of Harford Ave. and Lanvale St. while the driver and his helping were having a cup of coffee.

The driver, Robert Megenhardt, 23, 1900 block Frederick Ave., and his helper Reginald Metcalf, 22, 100 block S. Payson St., told police "we weren't in the place for more than two minutes before we saw the truck drive away."

Mr. Megenhardt told reporters he left the key in the ignition because, "who would think anybody would steal a big truck in broad daylight?"

* * *

THE TRUCK, tubing and machine are the property of the Ingleside Plumbing and Heating Co., and the driver said they were enroute to deliver the plumbing material to city and county firms.

Patrolman Sanders, who learned of the theft while patrolling in Radio Car 303, said the bulky stolen items were located when a citizen, noticing a man nastily unloading the tubing, notified police.

When he and his partner arrived, however, officer Sanders said they found only the truck hidden in a vacant lot. The suspects were gone.

Railroader gives $300 to United Fund Appeal

Willie Jackson of 3621 Columbus Dr., has pledged the largest single contribution to date — for an hourly-rated employee — to the 1966 United Appeal of Central Maryland campaign.

Mr. Jackson, a trackman for 11 years at the Patapsco and Back Rivers Railroad, has pledged $25 a month for 12 months, or a total of $300.

He was presented a certificate of appreciation this week by William J. Witte, general chairman of the 1966 United Appeal campaign, at the dutch - treat report lunch-

Mrs. Moss backs 'Task Force' on school proposal

"I am in agreement with the recommendation of Mayor McKeldin's Task Force Committee. Our nine-member school board has only two colored persons. There should be more.

"In fact, with our school population approximating 70 percent, I would go so far as to say at least 70 percent of the board members should be scored . . ."

Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy Moss, one of two colored members of the Baltimore School Board, was giving her reaction to the proposals advanced by the commission urging representation of the total community. I. Percy Bond is the other colored member.

Mrs. Moss added: I agree that boards of education like ours should have members with children in public school but I also feel we need on such boards representative citizens of both races who are expert in education and finance.'

But, she said, the 22 percent representation we have now is not enough.

Mr. Bond said he also

Cherry Hill youths guilty

John McEntyre, 400 block Seagull Ave. and Thomas Weems, 600 block Cheraton St., were found guilty Tuesday of the June 17 rape of a 37-year-old Cherry Hill Woman.

Following the verdict by Judge J. Gilbert Prendergast, attorneys for the youths said they would file motions for new trials and sentence was withheld.

According to testimony the mother of three children was criminally attacked about 2 a.m. in her bedroom after the defendants entered the house by breaking in the screen. She was threatened with a knife, it was stated.

An argument between the attackers awakened the children, according to testimony, and the victim was able to escape and call for help.

RENT STRIKE — People's Court Judge Henry L. Rogers tours house of Mrs. Rosie Perry (right), who has withheld her rent for five weeks.

Rent Court judge visits 'striker'

By ROGER J. NISSLY

"Disgusting" was one of the comments of a People's Court judge as he toured the home of a family on rent strike Wednesday morning.

Before 9 a.m. — even before the arrival of repairman — Judge Henry L. Rogers visited a house in the 2000 block of Pulaski St., where Mrs. Rosie Perry rents the second and third floors.

Shown to the judge, trailed by U-JOIN staffers and newsmen, was a bathroom with holes in the floor (the lost his footing on one of them), rooting boards and a bathtub lacking a drainpipe.

Mrs. Perry's other complaints included infestation by rats, a toilet outlet that spills into her back yard, bad paint and wallpaper and leaks in the roof.

Until Wednesday she said she had had no heat.

* * *

MRS. PERRY, with three small children, said the water would not drain out of the bathtub when she moved in last June and that the landlord had promised to fix it.

Since then she has had to dip the water by hand out of the tub.

Five weeks ago she began withholding her $17-a-week rent.

Tuesday the case came up

Girlfriend's brother held in man's death

A 21 - year - old man was indicted after special presentment before the Grand Jury yesterday on charges of stabbing to death his sister's boyfriend early Monday morning.

The victim had earlier been linked to the narcotics trade, according to a report the girlfriend gave Central District police.

Melvin Kennard, 22, 800 block McAleer Ct., was found unconscious in the 1200 block of Valley St. about 2:30 a.m. Monday and pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital.

Miss Marie Cheateam, whom police identified as his girlfriend, had told Central officers that the dead man pushed narcotics and did not pay off his employers.

Indicted Thursday was Raymond Kent, of the 200 block Bethel Ct.

Police identified him as brother of the girlfriend and said he surrendered himself about 10 a.m. that day.

Gordon Reed gets 15 years

Gordon Reed, 19, 500 block Baker St., was found guilty of rape and sentenced to 15 years in prison Tuesday by Judge Joseph R. Byrnes.

The incident involved a 15-year-old girl said to have been criminally attacked by seven youths.

One of them, Earl J. Smith, 20, 2200 block Brunt St., was found guilty earlier. Judge George L. Russell, Jr. withheld sentence pending motion for a new trial.

FAMILY HAS SIX IN SERVICE — Mrs. Gladys Russell, mother of 14 children, six of them in military service, was presented tokens of appreciation by Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Here, she is shown with a son, Cadet 1/c Merritt Russell and a daughter, Capt Beverly Russell, Army nurse at Walter Reed Hospital. (Cabell Photo)

Mother of six in service honored by Vice President

By BERNARD GARNETT
WASHINGTON

It isn't every day a citizen gets to meet the vice President of the United States.

Mrs. Gladys Russell, round to be the parent with the most children in the active Armed Forces, got the opportunity, Wednesday.

A national publisher was looking through the country and discovered that right here in Washington, the parent of six active servicemen resides.

Mrs. Russell, of the 2200 block of Randolph St., NE, was so thrilled at shaking hands with Vice President Humphrey, she did not want to wash her right hand.

"I was so thrilled," she said after the award ceremonies were over, "that I can't express my feeling. I started not to wash my hands, after shaking Mr. Humphrey's."

* * *

FOR THIS distinction, Mrs. Russell received a handsome plaque from the Vice President. She and her daughters were given gold-plated bracelets with the Vice Presidential seal, and her youngest son was presented with a tie clasp, bearing the seal.

When Mrs. Russell's oldest son, Edward, now 30, joined the Navy and served in Okinawa during World War II, he had no idea he was starting a family trend.

But that's the way it happened. All of her sons, except the youngest, have been in service. The youngest plans to join, soon.

Of 14 children, one daughter has also boarded the bandwagon and is the only commissioned officer in the family. The youngest girl plans to follow in her older sister's footsteps.

* * *

THE SIX now employed by the Defense Dept. are:

1) Walter, 36, of Burgettstown, Pa., a 19-year Army veteran, now in Viet Nam with the Fourth Infantry;

2) James, 30, of Germania, a 12-year Air Force veteran.

Lottery trials delayed during judge's illness

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

The States Attorney's Office denies that all lottery cases have been taken off the Criminal Court trial schedule until the Police Department's investigation now in progress on numbers in Baltimore is concluded.

According to States Attorney Charles E. Moylan, all lottery cases have been postponed only because Judge Joseph Carter was taken suddenly ill two weeks ago.

He told the AFRO Wednesday, "Judge Carter has been the only judge to hear lottery cases since January. We are holding out all lottery cases until we are able to talk with him on what he wishes us to do.

"At this point, the judge is not seeing visitors and we understand when he gets home he will be confined there 30 days. He had a critical appendix condition."

MEANTIME, Major William E. Armstrong, heading the Police Commissioner's investigation of the "Case of the Missing Warrant" told the AFRO Thursday the check - up that involves a probe of some police department members and private citizens is "still going on."

Although he refused to give any details, Major Armstrong did say his special detail assigned to the task is working on it "every day."

He also said he'd rather not disclose any facts uncovered so far.

The investigation was requested by Judge Joseph Carter three weeks ago when the warrant said to

Alabama praise for Md. candidate

George Wallace, segregationist governor of Alabama, announced Sunday that George Mahoney, candidate for governor of Maryland, had swiped his slogan.

The announcement was printed in the "Wallace Record" a tabloid supplement in the Montgomery Advertiser Alabama Journal for Sunday Oct. 30, 1966.

Governor Wallace, in his statement, said:

"Look at the election in Maryland.

"They nominated a man Governor of Maryland who had run five times and finally he ran with the right platform and won.

"He used the same slogan, 'A Man's Home Is His Castle, we used in Maryland in 1964, and he came out against all of that so-called civil rights stuff."

Campaigned here in 1964

Governor Wallace established headquarters in Maryland when he entered the presidential primaries against President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Wallace ran against Senator Brewster, a stand-in for President Johnson, and lost 214,123 to 265,713.

Senator Brewster polled 58 percent of the vote, Wallace, 42 percent.

At College Park

Speaking at College Park, Wallace said, and repeated it over and over, "You may want to sell your house to someone with blue eyes or green teeth and that is all right, but you should not be forced to do it."

'Shoot first' plan offered by candidate

By MAX JOHNSON

George P. Mahoney said Wednesday evening, if he becomes governor, he would have police hit and shoot first before asking questions in combating crime on the streets.

The Democrats' controversial gubernatorial candidate announced he favored the use of these Gestapo-type police tactics, in campaign addresses in the city's upper 3rd District and Baltimore County's Randallstown area.

Mr. Mahoney failed to note publicly at the time that cit-

Racist group urges friends to buy guns

The Maryland Chapter of the rabid segregationist National State's Rights Party, urged the election of George P. Mahoney this week and admonished its followers to buy guns and ammunition.

In an edition of its official publication being circulated heavily in so-called "white backlash" areas, the NSRP declared:

"It is not just the difficult job of getting George P. Mahoney in the State House. Just as important is the selection of right-thinking men and women for the General Assembly."

The sheet, "The White Marylander," advised its "Case of the Missing Warrant" told the AFRO Thursday the check - up that involves a probe of some police department members and private citizens is "still going on."

Although he refused to give any details, Major Armstrong did say his special detail assigned to the task is working on it "every day."

He also said he'd rather not disclose any facts uncovered so far.

Be Sure To Vote Tuesday

(AN EDITORIAL)

Next Tuesday is Election Day. All of us have important business to transact at the polls.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Addresses of polling places are carried on another page of this paper. Yours is not far from your house. Determine its location before Tuesday so you will lose no time looking for it.

On another page, the AFRO recommends candidates for election in each of the city's six legislative districts. You can clip this list and take it with you into the voting booth as your guide.

This list will be repeated in Tuesday's Election Day AFRO.

At The Top

Tuesday's ballot is short. A sample ballot is printed in this week's AFRO so that you can study it and be prepared to pull down the proper levers in the voting machine.

At the top of the ballot is a full line marked Questions.

For you, the questions A and B may be considered most important.

Question A gerrymanders the city's Councilmanic Districts and limits us to two councilmen. It is the work of the Pollack-Reed political group.

Vote AGAINST Question A.

Question B makes it possible for us to elect four or more councilmen. It is sponsored by Woman Power, The League of Women's Voters, the Urban League, Councilman Parks, and the clergy.

Vote FOR Question B.

For Questions

Vote FOR the other questions too, but especially

Question C—School Loan
Question F—Incinerator Loan
Question G—Walters Art Gallery Loan
Question K—Inner Harbor Loan
Question L—New Police Building Loan
Question M—Public Building Loan
Question N—Pratt Library Loan

"Continued questions" at the top on the second line of the ballot are marked by numerals. Vote FOR them, except Question 15 which would allow legislators to fix their own salaries.

Vote FOR Question 17 to authorize construction of a new bay bridge.

Vote For Agnew

On the third or the E line of the ballot marked Republican candidates, pull down the lever 1E over the name of AGNEW for Governor.

Then go up to the D line and pull levers over the names of Goldstein, 2D; Burch, 3D; Friedel, 4D.

In the 4th District, for State Senate, Mitchell is 5D; Welcome, 6D; For House of Delegates, Abramson, 7D; Adams, 8D; Brailley, 9D; Dixon, 10D; Epstein, 12D; and Lena Lee, 13D.

Ed Brooke victory would set new precedent in U.S.

By STEVE GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, who hopes to become the first member of his race to serve in the U.S. Senate in 86 years, leads a cadre of citizens aiming for tradition-breaking victories in Tuesday's off-year elections.

Colored candidates are certain to achieve some notable firsts in the 1966 election. But a United Press International survey turned up no evidence of a concerted grab for political power.

Despite gains in registration since passage of the 1965 voting Rights Act, the people still are not exerting much leverage in some Deep South states. Further, they are again faced with choosing between avowed segregationists in many state-wide races in the South.

If Brooke wins his very close race against Democratic former Gov. Endicott Peabody, he will become the first colored U. S. Senator since B.K. Bruce, a Mississippi Republican who served from 1875 to 1881.

As State Attorney General, Brooke currently is the highest elected non-white official in the country and admits that "Yes, I do get tired of being called the first colored this or the highest-colored that.

"I TRY to campaign like anyone else," he adds. "It's just like John F. Kennedy had trouble with his religion

The Republicans this year have 10 non-white candidates running for the U.S. House of Representatives—the most since Reconstruction days following the Civil War. The Democrats are represented by six entrenched incumbents.

The GOP's fielding colored House candidates in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, California, Minnesota and New Jersey.

Five are trying to unseat colored incumbents. They are: Norman Hodges, going against Augustus F. Hawkins in California's 22nd District; Herbert R. Cain Jr., challenging Robert N.C. Nix Sr. in the Pennsylvania 2nd; Rhecha R. Ross against John Conyers Jr. in Michigan's 1st District; David R. Reed against William L. Dawson in Illinois' 1st and Frank Daniels against Charles C. Diggs Jr. in
