THE REV. GEORGE A. CRAWLEY JR. and secretary, Miss Thelma Britton, look over plans for new $600,000 St. Paul Baptist Church building.

$600,000 drive opens to rebuild St. Paul

A campaign to raise $600,000 for rebuilding the St. Paul Baptist Church has been announced by the Rev. George A. Crawley Jr., pastor.

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin is serving as honorary chairman of the drive, which began Nov. 1.

The church, located at Guilford Ave. and Lanvale St., was destroyed by fire in January, 1963.

Since that time the church has held services with sister churches and presently worships at the Nazarene Baptist Church, Harford Ave. and Biddle St.

The proposed new building will be erected on a new site at Springfield Avenue and The Alameda, in the Morgan College area.

Building plans have been completed.

* * *

"WE HAVE hopes of getting construction under way in 1967," the Rev. Mr. Crawley said.

St. Paul Baptist was organized in 1910, at 24th and Howard Sts.

During the first 11 years five pastors served the church.

The late Rev. George A. Crawley St. pastored there for the next 33 years until his death in 1964.

Since then, the church has prospered steadily under the leadership of the younger Crawley.

The fund drive will run for 90 days. Offices for the campaign are located at 1040 N. Aisquith, with George Moore, church clerk, serving as drive chairman.

Welfare Council taking nominees for $250 award

The Health and Welfare Council of the Baltimore Area is accepting nominations for it's 13th annual Organization Achievement Award through Nov. 15 at 10 South St.

The award of $25, established by Harry Greenstein, former executive director of Associated Jewish Charities, goes annually to a public or private organization which has made "an outstanding contribution in the field of health, welfare, education, cultural activities or civic progress."

Nominations should be in 200 words or less and describe the accomplishment for which the nomination is made.

A GOOD CITIZEN is registered and VOTES. Prepare NOW to VOTE in the General Election. Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1966.

'My heart is very full . . .'

'My heart is very full. It's been so grand to be back here. Three years ago, I didn't think I could ever leave Baltimore. Now, I have two homes, Baltimore and the Virgin Islands. .'

The Rt. Rev. Cedric E. Mills, Episcopal bishop of the Virgin Islands, was addressing a luncheon in his honor at Baltimore's Sheraton Hotel on Sunday afternoon.

The luncheon was given by members of St. James Church, where Bishop Mills pastored before his elevation to the bishopric. Earlier in the day he had been the celebrant at the solemn high eucharist.

THE 410 luncheon guests, most of them members of the parish, gave him enthusiastic applause and two standing ovations.

He told of the work of the church in the Islands and praised Father Donald O. Wilson, present St. James rector and members of his congregation.

He took special note of 'progress you have made' in church at Lafayette and Arlington Aves. Bids for the the St. James Terrace Apartments, a proposed million dollar project adjoining the apartments were opened this week.

It was Bishop Mills who initiated the housing development. He told his listeners, 'In the Virgin Islands, I am still in the housing business. I hope to get $90,000 cheap money—like 6 percent interest — to build a project there.

THE RT. Rev. Noble C. Powell, retired bishop of the diocese of Maryland, was among platform guests.

He told the audience: 'I was 75 years old three days ago. I waited for this day. . Bishop Mills has set a magnificent example for us.'

The honoree responded, 'I will always treasure his friendship, and I am glad that Mrs. Powell has been able to be his companion these many years.'

* * *

IN ADDITION to Bishop and Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Mills (Rebecca), and Mrs. Harry Lee Doll, wife of the present bishop of Maryland, other platform guests included the Rev. Rex Wilkes, rector, Grace and St. Peter's; Dr. C. R. Campbell, senior warden; and Mrs. Robert Diggs, chairman of the luncheon committee, who made presentations to Bishop mills. These included over $1100 in cash from church organizations.

John H. Murphy 3rd, a vestryman, presided. He noted that Bishop Mills has 'taught us by precept and example to be better Christians.

Music was by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Lois Pickens.

Other members of the luncheon committee were: Mesdames Wright Dixon, De-Witt Howard, Thomas Parker and Perry D. Pennington; and Samuel Phillips, Edgar Smith and Ronald Watts.
