Probe made at steel plant

A five-member federal team has been investigating charges of racial discrimination at Bethlehem's Steel's Sparrows Point works, CORE's Target City director anounced this week.

Walter Brooks, the CORE leader, said the team which headed by Walter Wynn, Philadelphia regional director for contract compliance.

Mr. Brooks said the federal investigations have agreed to "make an action recommendation early next week," and added, "only results quickly visible will satisfy the workers."

Mr. Brooks repeated an earlier charge that the exclusion of colored workers from better jobs is widespread and has persisted for so long that a massive effort and protest is required to get true job equality in all departments and occupations."

He said segregated locker rooms and company-owned housing are in direct violations of federal anti-discrimination provisions.

The steel plant does considerable contract business with the federal government

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The controversial Child Development Group of Mississippi (CDGM) said Monday it was operating more than 50 head start centers without federal funds.

Director John Mudd said the CDGM centers had opened since Oct. 1.

"This volunteer operation constitutes one of the largest head start programs in the nation," he said. ("It is a vivid testimony to the support which thousands of Mississippians are willing to extend to their program despite the misinformed attacks on CDGM."

Mudd also said there was "encouraging indications that CDGM will be refunded in the near future."

The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) last month accused CDGM of fiscal irregularities and said it would no longer approve funds for the controversial group.

Poverty program director Sargent Shriver told newsmen in Atlanta last week, however, that OEO would be willing to take another look at CDGM if it underwent a complete reorganization.

Much of CDGM's work was being taken over in the state by the new Mississippi Action for Progress (MAP), which has secured funds from HEO.

a pledge from the management of A&P

What we are about to say is not new.
Matter of fact, it's over 100 years old.

A&P IS DEDICATED TO BRINGING THE MOST GOOD FOOD,
TO THE MOST PEOPLE,
FOR THE LEAST AMOUNT OF MONEY.

That is the basis on which our company has grown and prospered over the years.

We think it's important during this period of time to reiterate that pledge.

We want there to be no doubt in your mind about our policy with respect to food costs.

We want you to know we are concerned.
We want you to know we're doing our level best.
We want you to know that above all, "We Care... About You."
