The Soft Whiskey motto:

It wasn't always this easy for us to have a good laugh.

Ten years ago, for instance, we found it hard to find anything funny.

At that time, Soft Whiskey was nothing more than a distiller's pipe dream.

(We failed to come up with it so many thousands of times, it became a nightmare.)

Of course now it doesn't really matter when Soft Whiskey was discovered. What does matter is what's in that bottle:

A whiskey that goes down so nicely, you tend to forget that it happens to be a full 86 proof.

We tried harder to be softer.

You accepted us.

Thank you.

As for the much-sought-after formula that started the whole thing, who knows? We're getting so cocky, we may even publish it some day.

On the head of a pin.

We try softer.

GADABOUTING

White House secretary bride of Glord McGuire

(By Elizabeth M. Oliver substituting for Mrs. Lula Mackay who is on vacation).

Lovely indeed were the ceremonies Saturday at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church that joined Glord McGuire, a Baltimore City employee and Miss Carol Stokes, a White House Press Area secretary.

Mr. McGuire is the son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gaywood McGuire of Belle Ave. His bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sara D. Stokes of Liberty Heights Ave. and a former Health Education and Welfare Department, Washington, secretary.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. McGuire are at home in the Seton Apartments after a brief honeymoon.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, John Duvall, at the 2 p.m. double ring, rites. A vision in white satin and lace formal gown, she carried white roses and gardenias. Her gown and those of the bridesmaids and maid of honor were fashioned by a close friend, Mrs. Joanne Jackson.

Bridesmaids in green and gold were Mrs. Regina Brown, Miss Irene Wise and Miss Brenda Gogdall. Mrs. Patricia Wilkins was maid of hor

Rhoi Brown was flower girl while Deon Hodge was ringbearer.

Glend McGuire, the bridegroom's brother, was bestman. Ushers were Kenneth Cullings, Jerome Cullings and Gilland McGuire. A reception was held at the Elegante Room immediately following the wedding.

All season salad

Salads do not just belong to the summer season; they are good the whole year long. The prospects for an abundance of salad greens is not too good this year because of the early growing season freeze. True salad lovers will pay little attention to this, but will take advantage of the many salad recipes that require little or no salad greens.

Gelatin salads are always a favorite, and they always seem to be extra pretty, especially when an attractive mold is used.

Pineapple Sour Cream Salad is the perfect mealmate. Subtle in both color and taste, this delightful combination of lime flavor gelatin, sour cream, and crushed pineapple will be the highlight of any meal.

PINEAPPLE SOUR CREAM SALAD

1 package (3 oz.) lime flavor gelatin
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy sour cream
1½ cups drained canned crushed pineapple

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add cold water, lemon juice, and sour cream. Beat until blended. Pour into a shallow pan. Quick-chill in freezer 20 to 25 minutes or until firm about 1 inch from edge but soft in center.

Pour mixture into a chilled bowl and whip with rotary beater until fluffy. Fold in pineapple. Pour into 1½-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm in refrigerator (not freezer) 30 to 60 minutes. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Make 6 to 8 servings.

Egg-buying tips for all

Do you know a good egg when you see one? Or what size egg is the best buy for your money?

The answer to these questions are found in a newly-revised popular publication, "How to Buy Eggs by USDA Grades and Weight Classes," recently issued by the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

* * *

THE LEAFLET offers tips on how to buy and use eggs. It explains the relationship between egg size and prices and the difference between "size" and "grade." Cooking and appearance qualities of the various consumer grades of eggs also get special attention.

For a free copy of "How to Buy Eggs by USDA Grades and Weight Classes," Leaflet 442, write to the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Please use your zipcode.
