If YOU Ask ME

BY BETTYE M. MOSS

People, places and things

AFRO visitor on Wednesday: Thomas (Tom) Hawkins, Baltimore - born public relations man now living in Los Angeles, where he is a director of Station KGFJ.

Mr. Hawkins was among news representatives from all over the country who were treated to an all - expense trip here to view Social Security operations at Woodlawn.

Also here: N. A. Sweets, St. Louis American; T. C. Jervay, Wilmington, N.C. Journal; Mr. and Mrs. Carter Wesley (Doris), of the Houston, Tex. Informer.

* * *

Cuff note: Tom Hawkins' Baltimore friends would be interested to know he is still at it — promoting events.

His latest venture: Tourama Inc. On the agenda, an August tour of world capitals — $622.35 per, including round trip air fare from N.Y. — Aug. 3-24.

* * *

Church note: Father R. L. Ranieri, new rector of Mt. Calvary Episcopal Church, will celebrate mass at St. Katherine's Church this Sunday.

St. Katherine's, by the way, has a new vicar Father Robert Kley.

* * *

Cuff note: Father Kley is a graduate student at Gallaudet College, Washington. He comes to Baltimore from the Diocese of Colorado.

* * *

Most feted couple here these past two weeks: Bishop and Mrs. Cedric E. Mills (Rebecca), of the Virgin Islands, where he is the Episcopal bishop.

His former church members at St. James and friends have kept them on a round of receptions and dinners.

They will have left our shores by the time you read this.

* * *

Also much entertained have been Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd Davis. (She's Dr. Rebecca Davis, the pharmacist).

Former business manager at Morgan, Mr. Davis becomes budget and fiscal officer with the U.S. Embassy in Accra, Ghana on Dec. 29.

The Davises and their three children, Lloyd, 12; Howard, 10; and Kathleen, 8, leave Baltimore Dec. 8 for the first leg of their trip which will take them to London, Paris and Rome. They arrive in Ghana on Dec. 20.

* * *

People being kind to others: The George Parrish family had a party for the Davis children and invited neighborhood children in to say, 'bon voyage.'

The Modern Mothers, Ashburton Family Group and the 2000 block Bryant Ave. Neighborhood Group also showered the Davises.

'People are very, very wonderful,' observed Mrs. Davis.

On Saturday at 12:30, Big Sisters - Little Sisters Inc., hold their first annual luncheon at Winston Pub in Sutton Place.

Parren J. Mitchell, Community Action director, will speak.

This is the group organized to provide 'culture' for deserving youngsters.

A great big nod is due Mrs. Mary Carter Smith, president, and her associates.

Free culture: The Art for Ear and Eye tea sponsored by The Women at Sharp St. Methodist Church, Dolphin and Etting Sts., this Saturday at 4.

* * *

Date Data: Invitations are already in the mail for the New Year's Night benefit of the Omega Psi Phi Auxiliary's (Quettes) ball at Mondawmin Mall. Auxiliary (Quettes) winter ball for Provident Hospital. It's the group's fourth annual affair.

Thanksgiving - time bids in the mail for the WMN's affair at Eastwind on next Saidee night.

Not only did Mrs. Gladys Holland Derry not cry when time came for her to acknowledge the glowing tributes, she surprised her intimates by giving a moving acceptance speech, including a final lecture for fellow teachers. She was marvelous, and the testimonial audience loved it.

At affairs like this you get a chance to learn things about people you didn't know before. For example Mrs. Derry and her husband, Dr. Harold Derry, first met in the third grade.

On her wedding day her father — the late William G. Holland, then Federal Court deputy marshal — was not sold on losing a daughter and gaining a son. He cried right up to the wedding ceremony.

* * *

Note: Mrs. Derry's family was among the first to live in Morgan Park —back in the days when the area was mostly woods.

This reporter remembers her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holland, because Mrs. Holland (Millie), and this writer's mother, Vashti, were friends and good neighbors.

Mrs. Derry was thoughtful, kind and considerate to her parents with whom she lived, and she was the same way during the 46 years she spent in the classroom. Testimonial speakers said so. Isn't that grand!

* * *

Cuff note: A testimonial guest waiting for the elevator asked: How come people who work in the school offices are told they may have office parties only no testimonials?

This corner would suggest interested persons go to the top and get ruling. After all, you only retire once.

* * *

Honeymooners in our midst recently: Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Monroe. She's the former Dolores Dalton. They were married in Wilkesboro, Pa., honeymooned here with his brother and sister - in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Monroe of Eutaw Place.

More about people, things

Thinking - of - you cards to Mrs. Eloise Richardson, 904 Spa Rd., Annapolis. She is in Indianapolis to bury her mother, Mrs. Elva Stephens, 84. She died on Monday.

* * *

Doing much better, thank goodness, is Mrs. Leslie Bell (Meribah). She had been housebound.

This Thanksgiving time, she says, is special for her; she's glad she is better. Cards will reach her if addressed to 3711 Clifton Ave.

* * *

Dr. Atwell Jones, the physician, had surgery at City Hospitals on Monday.

* * *

Mrs. Clarence Gittings (Anna), who had surgery at Bon Secours, is up and around. She's the school principal.

* * *

Note on leaves: There will be collection of leaves by the City Sanitation Department on Nov. 28 in the area bounded by Garrison, Park Heights and Gwynns Falls.

On Nov. 21, in the Windsor, North Ave. and Forest Park area.

Do you have excess materials or leaves you want removed? Call the City Sanitation Department and ask for Mr. Moore's office — Phone number is PL. 2-2000.

* * *

Unique: The vegetable verse Emma C. Blake used to advise members of her N.N. Club of a meeting at the Catonsville home of Evelyn C. Keene. This is the group headed by Streisa Gorham.

Excerpt: Remember to collard (call up), up your hostess if you can't make a meeting . . . and, You are the loveliest bunch of asparagus (aspiring) young women . . .'

November birthdays: — Today (Nov. 18), is the birthday of Mrs. Mattie Gardner, the teacher. Also her friend, Mrs. Berniece McDaniels, the nurse.

Police Lt. Violet Hill Whyte also birthdays today.

Mrs. Everett Lane (Kitty), has a big day on Nov. 22.

Dr. Ruth Brett Quarles the Morgan State Student Personnel Counselor, has a birthday on Nov. 23. So does the Rev. A. J. Payne, minister of Enon Baptist Church.

* * *

We made brief mention here last week about the contrast between elementary and secondary schools — in the former, the older children seem to be noisier and bigger than ever.

Another concerned parent called Wednesday to report she is upset too.

She says the high school where her three children are enrolled resounds with noise; and the children take over when they move in the hallways.

* * *

Here is an excerpt from her letter:—

During American Education Week, I attended Open House. What I saw and heard shook me to the point that I came home with a headache.

"True, we hear over and over that the junior high school age is an awkward age, but I just can't help feeling that there is a difference between being awkward and in being outright lacking in habits of control and responsibility.

Are they really lacking or do they just need guidance in developing acceptable habits?

To me: It is a miracle that anyone is able to learn anything with the noise and confusion in the halls and in the classrooms.

The teachers did not seem to be disinterested, but rather carried a look of 'helplessness."

The passing in the halls between classes resembled a mob scene that one might view on television.

The inter-com used for giving messages at the end of the day might just as well have been silent for the attention it got from most pupils.

I cannot say that the staff is not doing its job because I don't know this. I do contend, however, that unless something is done soon, the school won't be a proud name to utter.

'I wrote all this to ask one simple question — What can I do to help?

P.S. This was all in direct contrast to the atmosphere at Douglass where publicity would have one believe that they're 'mowing down in the halls,—gang style'."

The Ministers' Wives of the Washington Area honored Mrs. J. L. S. Holloman, wife of the pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Dr. J. L. S. Holloman, in a "Roses for Rosa" gala on last Monday night.

In April, 1967, Mrs. Holloman will have served with Dr. Holloman at Second Baptist Church for 50 years. During this time, she has reared a family of public - spirited children and been a "mother - beloved" to the wives who are now paying tribute to her.

NOT SO long ago, the AFRO said of her: "If one word could 'apply' apply to Mrs. Holloman, it would be "ubiquitous." She has served as vice president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Lott Carey Foreign Missions Convention: was winner of the Elizabeth Bouey Trophy given by the National Association of Ministers' Wives as the person exemplifying the virtues of faith, hope and love; and has served the Wives Association as president.

Verses to remember

These verses from the poem, "Give Them the Flowers Now," were written by Leigh M. Hodges: —

Closed eyes can't see the white roses,
Cold hands can't hold them, you know,
Breath that is stilled can not gather
The odors that sweet from them blow.
Death, with a peace beyond dreaming,
Its children of earth doth endow;
Life is the time we can help them,
So give them the flowers now!

* * *

Here are the struggles and striving,
Here are the cares and the tears;
Now is the time to be smoothing
The frowns and the furrows and fear.
What to closed eyes are kind saying?
What to hushed heart is deep vow?
Naught can avail after parting,
So give them the flowers now!

* * *

Blooms from the happy heart's garden
Plucked in the spirit of love;
Blooms that are earthly reflections
Of flowers that blossom above.
Words cannot tell what a measure
Of blessing such gifts will allow
To dwell in the lives of many,
So give them the flowers now!

Thanksgiving prayer

These words by A. R. Groutos are from Ideals magazine: —

I'm thankful for all good with which
I've been blessed throughout life.
For hardships, and for heartaches, too,
For failures, trials and strife.

I'm thankful for each little prayer
Someone has said for me;
For loving thoughts, for friendliness,
For all good will I see.
My thanks for hands, with which I could
Serve someone on life's way
For all small deeds of kindness
I'm allowed to do each day.

* * *

I'm thankful for all happines
Each long hour of deep sorrow;
God thus in His great mercy gives
More wisdom for tomorrow.
So give them the flowers now!

* * *

Just a kind word or a greeting;
Just a warm grasp or a smile —
There are the flowers that will lighten
The burdens for many a mile.
After the journey is over
What is the use of them; now
Can they carry them who must be carried?
Oh, give them the flowers now

Mitchell, Ruth Nichols, Louise Smallwood, Shirley Stokes, Naomi Sullivan, Ann Schneider, Elden Schneider, Ruth Taylor, Evangeline Williams and Charles Younger.

Good Samaritans come to the aid of crash victims

Good Samaritans are rare finds these days, but some still exist.

That's what Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koeltzer of 16 E. Preston St., discovered on Thursday, Nov. 3 about 12:30 a.m.

Their car was struck in head-on collision that day on the Jones Falls Expressway. Scores of cars whizzed by, without a backward glance.

Finally one driver did stop, backed up and offered the injured motorists assistance. An ambulance was called and the Koeltzers were carried to the hospital.

Fully recovered the couple expressed regret that they did not secure the names of the people who came to their aid. "We want to thank them," they said.

'No surprises' when Daly successor named

WASHINGTON
By RONALD SCHWARTZ

Speculation that Samuel Howard will be appointed deputy director of the U. S. Employment Service for the District of Columbia has heightened since Fred Hetzel, director of the U. S. Employment Service for the District, forwarded a recommendation of the Department of Labor.

Presently, Howard, manager of the Department of Labor's Commercial Office for D. C., is one of the seven being considered for the position to be vacated by retiring Victor Daly on Nov. 30. Final decision on the appointment will be made by the Department.

* * *

CONCERNING his recommendation to the Department of Labor, Hetzel said that the appointment, when it is announced, "won't be a surprise to anyone."

WHEN ASKED if Howard would get the job, Hetzel replied: "It would be a surprise if he didn't get it."

The opening carries a GS-14 rating, with a beginning annual salary of $15,106. Howard is now a GS-13

* * *

HOWARD said that he has been asked to withdraw his application for the job and added:

"I've been told that I'm on the inside track. But then I've been told that others have the track.

"I have nothing in writing. I have nothing definite. I wish someone would get me out of this suspense."

HOWARD SAID that he applied for the job because he "felt (he) was eligible for it."

* * *

ACCORDING TO reports, another front runner in the race for deputy director is Mrs. Lila Doar, consultant, Equal Employment Opportunities, Bureau of Employment Security, U. S. Department of Labor.

Supporters of Mr. Howard say Mrs. Doar's ties are chiefly in New York while Howard is a locally based candidate, familiar with the local job situation.

Some contend that Hetzel wanted to give the job to Mrs. Doar who is already a GS-15 in order to raise the GS-14 rating of the post. This, in turn, would justify upgrading his own post to a GS-16 grade level.

* * *

ALTHOUGH DECLINING comment on whether his position has been proposed for upgrading, Hetzel has emphatically denied the report that extra consideration would be given to Mrs. Doar because of her grade level.

Hetzel has stated that the deputy position is currently classified at the GS-14 level and "anybody who accepted the job would have to do so with the understanding that it is a GS -14."

A number of local organizations have threatened to take their protests to the top level at the Civil Service Commission if Mr. Howard does not receive the appointment.

* * *

MRS. DOAR could conceivably accept the position at a lower grade and, in a procedure frequently practiced by the government, be re-elevated to the previous grade within the next two to three months.

Howard, a career government employee, has served in a deputy capacity to Mr. Daly for more than 20 years, and, according to his (Howard's) supporters, is thoroughly familiar with the job details and city needs.

Some groups have also hinted that they would picket the USES if Howard did not get the job.

Howard has been working in the local employment field for 30 years.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — The annual Thanksgiving Service and Holy Communion at Bethune-Cookman College, will be observed Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 10:00 a.m.

'Hall of Fame' jazz concert set

Sunday, Nov. 27, the Lyric Theatre swings to the sounds of the most dynamic music contemporary America has ever produced.

Beginning at 8 p.m., the tribute to Woody Herman, a most logical choice for the initial honor, opens with the flourish of the Art Farmer Quintet.

Art's aleuglehorn, and Jimmy Heath's lyrical tenor saxaphone are combined with a superb rythmn section. Five men, work as one, to perform some of today's finer modern "Mainstream" jazz.

After a brief intermission, the Hall of Fame's first nominee, Woody Herman, presents the most powerful force in big-band jazz. In 30 years Mr. Herman has always fronted a driving band.

This is the first in the National Hall of Fame Concert series, a creation of the Left Bank Jazz Society, intended to further recognition of living, still-performing artists.

Advance tickets are available at all leading department stores, music stores and studios and record shops. Vernon Welsh, president of LBJS stated that his group proposes to bring the best in jazz to large audiences, regularly.

These events will be held several times a year, in addition to the smaller weekly concerts held every Sunday evening. Nominations for the second candidate for the National Hall of Fame Award Concert should be sent to: J. Arthur Miller, Public Relations, Left Bank Jazz Society, 416 East Twenty-Fifth St. Baltimore, Maryland 21218.
