Atlantic Coast League title game Saturday

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — The Virginia Sailors who won minor professional football's best record at 10-1 and the Southern Division title, host the Northern winning Lowell (Mass.) Giants here at George Washington High Stadium for the Atlantic Coast League championship, tomorrow (Saturday) night.

The ACFL title match has been billed as the "World's Champions of Minor Pro Football" and neither the Continental or the North American Leagues have disputed the claim.

* * *

EACH TEAM has beaten the other during the regular season, with Lowell handing the Sailors their lone 1966 loss, 17-16 in New England October 2, and Virginia knocking off the Giants 47-1 in Arlington on November 5.

The game has been moved here to Alexandria and the 15,000 seat GW High Stadium accommodate what the Sailors hope will be a record crowd for minor league football.

THE SAILORS have averaged 35.2 points a game while giving up 16.2 per game to their opponents.

Lowell, normally a rugged defensive club hasn't had the offensive fire-power of the Sailors but do have one of the best balanced teams in the ACFL.

The Sailors scored more points (388) and gave up fewest (185) than any other club in the ACFL in 1966.

Battle may shape up in NAACP election

WASHINGTON

The local chapter of the NAACP is in the middle of electing members to its executive board, getting a successor to past executive secretary, the Rev. Edward Hailes and choosing a president—all to be done by Dec. 31.

On Monday night, the nominating committee of the local branch will present the names of seven prospective members for the next policy making executive board.

On Dec. 10, these names along with any other names nominated from the floor at the meeting to be held at the 12th Street YMCA, 1816 12th St., NW, will appear on the ballot. Voting by the membership on the position will take place at the NAACP's branch office, 1417 You St., NW, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

ONCE ELECTED, the new board will select a new executive secretary, a position which includes the coordination and programming of the chapter's activities on day to day basis.

H. Carl Moultrie on the subject of his presidency for a second, full, two-year term said that "only the nominating committee knows "If he will be re-nominated Monday.

He declined to comment on whether or not he would accept another term if his name were suggested.

THERE HAVE been reports that the Rev. Hailes has been approached about being a candidate for the top spot.

However, Mr. Hailes reportedly declined because of the demands of his new position as director of the training program at the Opportunities Industrialization Center.

It was also reported that Moultrie at first planned not to be a candidate for another term but was said to have changed his mind. Insiders predict that he will probably be elected and that the Rev. Mr. Hailes will get the spot as vice president.

ANOTHER FACTOR at Monday night's meeting, is the possibility of nominations from the floor. Any three dues-paying members may petition for a name on the ballot.

It has been customary for the

In elections past, it has been customarily for the membership to accept for nomination merely those names submitted by the committee. But this time around, Moultrie said: "I don't believe it will be this way."

Concerning the executive secretary vacancy, Moultrie indicated that the local chapter was in a bind locating a suitable person for the post.

The local chapter has notified the national office in New York to assist in filling it by Jan. 1. So far, said Moultrie, "we have received only a couple of applications.

HE ADDED that it would be preferable to fill the position with a local person, but that the chapter would not be adverse to someone from out of town, mentioning that Mr. Hailes came from New Bedford, Mass.

The Rev. Hailes left his $10,000 NAACP post on Oct. 14, which he had occupied for nearly four years.

Moultrie has been president of the branch for three years, succeeding the Rev. E. Franklin Jackson, now Democratic committeeman for D.C.

Moultie has been a member of the board for 15 years, serving as secretary for 10. Vice president for two and president for three.

If Moultrie is nominated and agrees to run, his name will appear twice on the ballot; one for the local office, and again as a regional member from the District.

OUR NEWEST FEDERAL JUDGE —U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson is congratulated by U.S. District Court Judge William Bryant, who swore him in at ceremonies at the court Wednesday.

Judge Robinson sworn, has left UPO board

WASHINGTON

Newly appointed U. S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson spoke with enthusiasm of his new job and added that he has resigned as a member of the Board of Director's of the United Planning Organization (UPO), the local arm of the war on poverty.

Judge Robinson said that his new job, "a very demanding" one, would not allow time enough for the part-time UPO post.

HE WAS NAMED to the lifetime, District Court judgeship on November 4. Since September 1, 1965, he had served as a judge of the Juvenile Court.

HE SPOKE of his new judgeship as a "great challenge," and added, "I'm looking forward to it with a great deal of enthusiasm."

The District Court judgeship, he said, represents "a very real opportunity to deal with a much broader segment of the City."

COMMENTING ON his previous assignment, Judge Robertson called for additional mental health facilities to deal with juvenile delinquents before and after they reach court.

He also criticized one function of the Juvenile Court to decide on cases of criminal non-support. These cases, he added, should rightfully fall under the jurisdiction of the adult courts.

JUDGE ROBINSON attended public schools in Madison, N.J. He obtained his A.B. degree from Cornell University in 1943 and his law degree from Cornell in 1947.

In 1948, he came to the District and set up his own law practice.

He lives in the 1700 block of Sycamore St., NW, with his wife, Sara P., and two daughters, Paula, 17, and Sheryl, 11.

Officiating Wednesday's swearing in ceremony at the U. S. Court House, were Chief Judge Edward Curran and Judge William B. Bryant.

Birthday Tributes

BANKS — A Birthday Tribute to the memory of my dear husband, JOSEPH J. BANKS, on his birthday November 19, and who passed away May 23, 1964
There is a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true;
There is a token of affection
dear,
And a heartache still for you.
What would I give to clasp his hand
His happy face to see;
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
Loving Wife, NORA.

BINKNEY — A Birthday Tribute to the memory of my husband and our father, JAMES STANLEY BINKNEY SR. on his birthday, November 20, who passed away March 24, 1963
Dear husband and father, on this November day
What words can we impart
That would tell the true devotion
We have within our hearts!
No words can tell love's message,
But his we know is true;
There's no one like a husband and father,
No husband and father quite like you.
Wife, MADELINE
Children, TERMA, AUDREY, BARBARA, LEON, MELVIN, JAMES JR., TIM PINKNEY

YOUNG — A Birthday Tribute to the memory of my dear son, NEVA JACKSON YOUNG, on her birthday in November and who passed away August 17, 1965
Birthdays were gay, when you were here
A treasured gift, a kiss sincere.
Now you're gone, we miss you so,
No gift, no kiss on you to bestow
Only a wish, a wish that is true
Eternal peace, dear, just for you.
You'll always remember, as time goes by
And in our hearts you'll never die.
