Gregory plans Yule visit to prisoners in Viet Nam

LONDON (UPI)—American comedian Dick Gregory said Sunday night he will try to visit United States war prisoners in North Viet Nam this Christmas.

In a British television appearance, Gregory said he would ask North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh for permission to entertain the prisoners.

Asked how he would circumvent the U. S. ban on travel to North Viet Nam, Gregory said: "I don't intend to go with my government's approval. I'll take my chances when I get back.

He said he would take turkeys and other Christmas fare if the trip comes off.

Carmichael trial put off to Tuesday

SELMA, Ala. (UPI)—Stokely Carmichael, the leading expondent of "black power," has "one more chance to appear for trial on charges of inciting a riot in this former racial troublespot.

Carmichael did not show up Tuesday for his trial and City Judge Edgar Russell postponed the case one week. If the Atlanta leader fails to appear next Tuesday, his $500 bond will be forfeited and another arrest order issued.

THE SELMA charges against Carmichael, head of SNCC resulted from attempts by Carmichael and two companions to stage a demonstration Nov. 5 to promote candidates of Carmichael's "Black Panther" party in the Nov. 8 general election.

Authorities said Carmichael, William S. House, 20, and Lorenzo Taylor, 28, used a sound truck to attract a crowd of 30-40 persons.

Taylor was arrested when he reached for a club after he was ordered from the truck. Carmichael was arrested when he lunged at a policeman, and House was taken into custody for telling the crowd "it is time to join forces against the police."

TAYLOR, ACTING as his own attorney at Tuesday's hearings, was convicted and fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail on a charge of blocking traffic, and $50 fine and costs or 30 days in jail for resisting arrest. He served notice of appeal and was released under $200 bond.

House told Russell he had only four cents in his pocket because he was paid irregularly by SNCC and received a court-appointed attorney.

He remained free under $300 bond and Russell said he would try House and Carmichael together if Carmichael appears Tuesday.

All of the "black panther" candidates were defeated in Dallas County, (Selma).
