THE LORDS and Ladies of Jack and Jill (sixteen and up) made their November activity one of giving. The group bought groceries, to fill a basket for a needy family. Their artistic talent were used in decorating the basket for Thanksgiving.

Following the preparation of the basket they took loads of magazines they had collected to Provident Hospital, where they distributed them to patients in the wards.

Mrs. Bernice Lotlier was the sponsor for this activity. The co-chairman for this group, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Law, and Mrs. Reva G. Lewis assisted.

Lords and Ladies participating in this project were Marchetta Lottier, Marcia Lewie, Franklin Jones, Chuck and Lewis Law, Janet Waters, Robert Quarles, Linda Wade, John Skinner and Cheryl Gregory.

A committee from the group delivered the basket to a family selected by Lt. Violet Hill Whyte.

Wedding for blind lovers

On Saturday evening, the Anna Mae Hunter Home for the Blind was the setting for another wedding of unsighted lovers.

Mrs. Marion Gibbs and Raymond Jones, both of Washington, were married, there. The bride is a long-time friend of Mrs. Hunter, director of the home.

A reception followed the ceremony and was hosted by Mrs. Willie Mae Perry, Mrs. Louise Palmer, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Ella Bailey, Mrs. Dorothy Spencer and James Duckett.

THE REV. John L. Tilley officiated at the ceremony. Arnett Brown was organist Mrs. Hunter sang.

The bride wore a three-piece ensemble in blue, with beige accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and baby's breath.

She was attended by Mrs. Louise Palmer. Earl Monto was best man.

Mrs. Palmer also wore blue, and her corsage was of roses and chrysanthemums, also in yellow.
