Morgan AKA's to hold workshops

With Lula Jones Garrett

Alpha Delta, the Morgan State College chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, will sponsor a tutorial Workshop on the campus tomorrow (Saturday).

At the general meeting, beginning at 10 a.m., Dr. C. L. Wickwire, executive director of the YMCA, Johns Hopkins University, will give the keynote address.

A panel discussion will follow, with Dr. Robert Lloyd, director of special projects, Baltimore city schools; Miss Diana Watts of Echo House, and Walter Carter, social worker, public schools, as panelists.

This session will be opened with invocation by the Rev. Howard L. Cornish of Morgan Christian Center and the introduction by Soror Doris Reynolds, chairman of Tutorial Program. Soror Patricia Ann Turner will introduce Dr. Wickwire.

Following the general meeting, groups will study "Elementary Reading Skills," "How to Set Up a Tutorial Program," "Elementary Math Skills" and "Enrichment."

Lunch will follow.

The afternoon session will feature an address by Warren J. Howze, president of the Student Government of Morgan; reports of recorders, presentations by Soror Reynolds and remarks by Dr. Waters, dean of students, Morgan.

ALPHA ALPHA SIGMA chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority met on Saturday in the elegant home of Soror Sarah Rose on Edgewood Road.

During their social hour they gathered around the brightly illuminated Christmas tree for carols and exchange of gifts. . . and for sandwiches and the traditional fruit cake and egg nog.

Earlier, during a business session, they arranged for the gift of food and clothing to a needy family.

At the session were;

Geraldine Jenkins, Catherine Hagan, Carolyn Robinson, Victoria James, Ida Washington, Lillie Strothers, Jacqueline Gundy, Pauline Butler, Gladys Brown;

Eliza Diggs, Katherine Royston, Vivian Stanfield, Yvonne Jackson, Sonya Jackson, Pafelle Green, Emily Bryant, Sarah Rose and Hortense Franklin.

Soror Bryant is basileus of the chapter.

BEA NIXON entertained the Firesiders Saturday night, gathering a slew of guests around a ladened Christmas table.

Her centerpiece was made of a pineapple combining a variety of cheeses. Bea's Christmas cakes were a light white cake plus her own special fruit cake.

Mrs. Nixon, who is a supervisor at Social Security, has a friend who raises Holly which bears red berries every seven years. Her mantle was tastefully decorated with this live holly.

To add spice to the meeting, Verna Day of the Arena Players gave readings. The most memorable were "The Creation" by James Weldon Johnson, and a scene from the "Mad Woman of Chaillot."

Firesider Clements was behind the bar, and Bea had her card tables decorated with red poinsettia cloths.

Guests about were Mary Marrow, Dellaphine Warrington, Amy Weaver, Iona Collins, Dot Wood, Ann Johnson, Alice Pinderhughes, Mabel Denkins, Ivy Grinage, Hermione Weaver, Bernadine Harrison, Gwen Seaborne and Verna Day.

Firesiders about were Eula Watkins, president; Ada Weaver, Lillian Ross, Iris Mapp, Milburn Brown, Evelyn West, Frances Ashby, Helen Cothorn, Florence Ringgold, Ida Smith, Irma Dancy and Dot Brown.

Secret plans were made by the every other year group who will entertain the rest of the club on December 28th. Last year they spent a day at Charles Town.

WHEN THE MI-CITY Senior High School Chorus of the Baltimore City Public Schools has the first concert of the current school year, Saturday evening, the featured work to be sung will be the Bach Cantata "For Us a Child Is Born" . . . . and soloist will be Rebecca Syndnor of Douglass High School. Carolyn Blue of Carver Vocational School and James Gilbert of Southern High School.

Teri Marshall of Forest Park High School and Rudolph Hampton of Douglass will also have solos on the program. The Chorus is composed of selected voices from the choirs of every high school in the city. William J. Milner, specialist in secondary vocal music is director and Norman Ross, teacher of vocal music at Dunbar, is accompanist for the group. The concert will be in the auditorium of the Woodburne Junior High School.

MISS EVELYN McGINNIS took first prize when Zeta Chapter of Theta Nu Sigma (beauticians) Sorority staged a Hair and Hat Extravaganza at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, Monday evening.

Trophies for hairstyling also went to Miss Shirley Harris, second; and George Rawlings, third.

Mrs. Lydia Starks, chapter basileus, who, incidentally is being backed by Maryland beauticians for the national popularity post when the nation's cosmetologists

Big Sisters, Little Sisters hold annual luncheon meet

Big Sisters - Little Sisters, welcomed its friends to its first annual luncheon which was held at Winston Steak Pub-Sutton Place, recently.

The highlight of the afternoon was an address by Partren J. Mitchell, executive director of Community Action Agency of Baltimore. Mr. Mitchell was introduced by James Nix, president of Big Brothers of Baltimore, in a warm and friendly presentation that set the mood that prevailed throughout the afternoon.

• • •

IN HIS ADDRESS, Mr. Mitchell expressed the dire need for organizations like Big Sisters - Little Sisters, Inc., to foster its goods and purposes with diligence for the good of all the community. He described the conditions and problems which face girls and other citizens in our poverty areas and impressed the audience with its civic responsibility to move with positives steps toward correcting these conditions.

An acrostic by Mrs. Rosalie J. McGuire, president Baltimore Club, Negro Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc. emphasized goods of friendship, citizenship and concern for human welfare.

The audience was further stimulated to "action behavior" by the remarks of Dr. Delores C. Hunt in a moving address.

Other special guests of the evening were introduced by the president of Big - Sisters-Little Sisters, Inc., Mrs. Mary Carter Smith. Among them were Perry Andrews of radio station, W.B.A.L. Dr. George P. Brown, Charles P. Howard, Jr., attorney; and Miss Helen Benton, all members of the board of directors of Big Sisters - Little Sisters, Inc. and Leo P. Williams, assistant director, Big Brother's Inc.

The Rev. Frank L. Williams, pastor of Metropolitan Methodist Church delivered the invocation and benediction.

Those sending greetings included Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, Dr. Robert C. Weaver, secretary, Department of Housing and Urban Development; George A. Seymour, executive director, Big Brothers, Inc.; Dr. Furman L. Templeton, executive director, Baltimore Urban League and Miss Ann Landers.

Other guests of the evening included:

Mesdames Mary Carter Smith, Alma W. Brown, Sedonia B. Marcitt, Ernestine Smith, Blythe W. Peters, Lydia Hardy, Vivian Carter, Lillie Bagwell, Patricia Bassville, Shirley Brawner, Beatrice G. Pitts, Beglie M. Frazier, Deborah Frazier, Bonita Frazier, Marguerite Davis, Mary L. McCrea.
