Colts must beat Packers if they are to stay alive

It's Unitas vs. Starr, Baltimore vs. Green Bay, and a possible "super bowl" berth is at stake Saturday.

It was the same last year, well almost, when the Packers beat the Colts 42-27 to win the Western Conference title in the National Football League.

The only differences then was the site of the game the Baltimore quarterback and the standings of the two teams. Also last year, there was no "super bowl" berth at stake.

In 1965, the game was played in Green Bay and the Colts had to go without Johnny Unitas, who was injured. The Colts needed a victory over Green Bay for Baltimore's second straight conference title. It went down to the famous playoff game.

Now, in 1966, everything is reversed, except the quarterback choices. The site is Baltimore and the Packers need only a victory over the Colts for their second straight conference title, and their fifth in seven years.

JOHNNY UNITAS is in fine shape for the Colts, and he will face the league's most accurate passer in Green Bay's Bart Starr. Starr has completed .631 per cent of his passes, 149 of 236, for 2,161 yards, 13 touchdowns but has had only three intercepted. Unitas is fifth in the league in passing behind no. 1 Starr, and has a record of 164 completions in 294 attempts for 2,269 yards, 18 touchdowns and 20 interceptions.

But the Packers also have perennial threat Jim Taylor and rookies Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski. Elijah Pitts has done a more than adequate job filling in for Paul Hornung.

Baltimore's Alvin Haymond is third in the league in punt returns with a 9.3 average. But the Green Bay defense is tops in the circuit against the pass. In the season-opener the Packers beat Baltimore 24-3 as linebacker Lee Roy Coffey and defensive back Bob Jeter picked off Unitas aerials for touchdowns in the second quarter.

The Colts need the win to retain title hopes, as their only hope lies in forcing another playoff, like last year. A tie in either of their last two games would clinch the title for Green Bay.

In other NFL action, slated for Sunday, Washington (6-6) is at Dallas (9-2-1), St. Louis (8-3-1) plays at Atlanta (2-10) Cleveland (8-4) is at Philadelphia (7 - 5), Chicago 4-5-2), plays at San Francisco (8-2), Detroit (4-6-1) hosts Minnesota (3-8-1) and Pittsburgh (3-8-1) is at New York (1-10-1).

Dallas can clinch at least a tie for the Eastern Conference crown with a win over the Redskins. Dallas' Bob Hayes and the Redskins' Charley Taylor are both making a bid for the NFL receiving title. Hayes has 54 receptions and 11 touchdowns, Taylor 60 and nine.

Gale Sayers appears certain to go over the 1,000 yard mark for the season, as the fleet Chicago halfback needs but five yards to gain that mark.

Sayers is third in the league in rushing, behind Cleveland's Jim Kelly and the Rams' Dick Bass.

2 schools lose accreditation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Two Virginia high schools were among 22 Southern schools recommended for disaccreditation Tuesday by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Association Officers here identified the Virginia schools as Jackson P. Burley High of Charlottesville, Va. and Washington-Carver High of Salem.

NO SPECIFIC reasons for loss of Accreditation were listed, but Association officials said the reasons ranged from having unqualified superintendents to failure to meet standards.

Disaccreditation has the effect of limiting the graduates' college opportunities, since most colleges do not accept graduation from a school without accreditation.

Athletes to aid Provident drive

An all-star team of professional athletes, representing sports in the city, is being organized to aid in the Development Program for a new Provident Hospital to be constructed in Northwest Baltimore.

The athletes, according to Samuel Hecht co-chairman, will be led by John Mackey, Colt star.

They will play an important role in the solicitation of an additional $1,000,000 for the construction of a new Provident, Mr. Hecht announced.

He said the stars will contact individuals, business and industrial firms in the metropolitan area. They will also help other campaign volunteers with solicitations.

The extended campaign for funds (became necessary) by the rising cost of construction.

The First Campaign," Mr. Hecht said "was a complete success. In fact, we exceeded our $2,400,000 goal by more than $50,000."

"FUNDS solicited from individuals and businesses, coupled with those earmarked for Provident by the Federal, state, and city governments, will make the proposed hospital a reality," according to Charles C. Tildon development director. Ground breaking is scheduled for the spring 1967.

A model of the hospital will continue to be displayed in the Mondawmin Shopping Center. When the new Hospital is completed, it will close building at 1514 Division St.

Mr. Tildon pointed out that the new building will be built seven levels and house 80 beds, twice the capacity of the present hospital.

Plans for the new Provident also call for an enlarged school of nursing and enlarged outpatient clinics, incorporating the new thinking in outpatient services.

Europeans name Clay 'sportsman of the year'

LONDON (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, who defended his heavyweight title twice in England and once in Germany this year, has been named "sportsman of the year" in the annual balloting conducted in Europe by United Press International.

Clay, slated to make his first 1967 title defense against Ernie Terrell in Houston, Tex., Feb. 6, received 232 votes to outdistance premier miler Jim Ryun of the University of Kansas, for the title. Ryun, who set a world mile mark of 3:51.3 on July 17, drew 143 votes.

THE U.S. made it a sweep on the first three places as sprinter Tommie Smith San Jose State, collected 132 votes on the basis of world records in the 200-yard run (19.5 seconds) and 220 yards around a turn (20.0 seconds).

Auto racing champion Jack Brabham of Australia, was named fourth with 121 votes and Eusebio, Portuguese soccer star, was fifth with 117.

Distance runner Ron Clarke of Australia, was sixth with 97 votes, followed by England soccer player Bobby Charlton, 49; Polish track ace Irena Kirszenstein, 46; Russian gymnast Mikhail Voronin, 44, and the entire English soccer squad that won the world cup, 43.

Touchdown nod to Bears' star

BALTIMORE — Willie Lanier, Morgan State College's little All-American guard, will be presented the CIAA Player of the Year Award at the Touchdown Club's banquet, tomorrow (Saturday) night at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Lanier, who is one of Morgan's stalwarts of the line, will fly to Washington from Orlando, Fla. after participating in the Tangerine Bowl game that same day. Morgan meets Westchester (Pa.) State College in the bowl game.

Captain of the Morgan Bears, Lanier has won three football letters in as many years at Morgan. He is a senior Business Administration major.

Jones No. 3 college scorer

NEW YORK — Leeland (Tony) Jones of the University of Buffalo, closed out the season as the third leading scorer in college football ranks, United Press International reported this week.

Jones, whose mother, Mrs. Carlita (Murphy) Jones is a native Baltimorean, finished behind Ken Hebert of Houston, and Don Bohl of New Mexico State. The BU fullback, however, led All-American Floyd Little of Syracuse.

Hebert scored 16 points in the final game of the season to take the title with 113 points. He scored 11 touchdowns, converted 41 of 46 extra point tries and was successful on two of seven field goal attempts.

Bohl was second in scoring with 98 points on 15 touchdowns and eight extra points, and Jones was next with 96 points on 16 Tds.

Levias denies he'll quit SMU

DALLAS (UPI) — Jerry Levias, the first football player to desegrate the Southwest Conference, has denied reports that he plans to leave Southern Methodist University at mid-term.

Levias said his parents were more concerned than he was over crank calls and letters to him by racially prejudiced fans.

The sophomore split end worked out for an hour and 15 minutes with the Mustangs in preparation for the Cotton Bowl game with Georgia. The Mustangs did lots of running and polishing plays.

COACH HAYDEN FRY talked with Levias earlier and was satisfied his young star would remain at SMU.

Levias, when questioned during an afternoon workout, said he had no plans to change schools. Although he would be spending a few days at home in Beaumont at mid-term, Levias did not expect his parents to try to influence him to leave SMU.

"I've got to convince my parents that there is not as much to it as they have heard second-hand," Levias said.

as well as in the air.

To dispel any doubt that this is a legitimate observation, one need only to consider that West Chester has four players who have scored over 40 points during the season just closed.

End Don Wilkinson, who looms as quarterback Jim Haynie's favorite passing target, leads the foursome with 46 points. Halfback Dick Nye and fullback Bery Nye follow with 45 and 43, and halfback Gregg Milnes checks in with 42.

MILNES, INCIDENTALLY, shows up as the workhorse of the quick, hard-hitting backfield. The 200-pound running star carried 137 times during the campaign for a total of 686 yards.

Bert Nye rushed 112 times for gains abounting to 441 yards.

Even the second string fullback, Herb Landis, boasts impressive statistics sufficient to give the Bears some uneasy moments. His 100 carries have netted 446 yards.

IN THE passing department, handled for the most part by the agile Haynie, the Pennsylvanians have thrown for an awesome 1837 yards and 14 touchdowns.

Wilkinson, as previously stated, has done the major share of the catching. The 48 points with which he leads the West Chester scoring, resulted from 8 TD passes. In all, the 170-pound sophomore receiver has 41 tosses and 788 yards.

Dick Nye, despite a handicap of only 165 pounds, also promises to be a coming force. He has bagged 22 pitches for 350 yards and 3 touchdowns.

End Mike Haines has 18 receptions for 208 yards, and Milnes has taken 13 for 137 yards.

THE EVIDENCE, then, is that the Baltimore defense will be compelled to be alert to either the run or the pass here tomorrow.

Throughout the week of preparation, Morgan coaches have stressed the importance of the pass rush. They reason that the best way to minimize the threat of their rival air arm, is to get to Haynie as quickly as possible.

IN END Jeff Queen and interior lineman Ron Queen the Baltimoreans have an adequate rush duo. Whether it will be sufficiently adequate remains to be seen.

Banks and his assistants are convinced that getting into the West Chester backfield will force the opposition into a run. They are sure the defense against the rush, headed by Little All-American Willie Lanier won't be embarrassed.

Vengeful Bison hosts St. Paul's

WASHINGTON

The Howard University Bisons are seeking revenge tomorrow night (Saturday) at 8 p.m. in their gym for last Tuesday's second lost to St. Paul's College, 71-60, in Lawrenceville, Va.

The Tigers who will be the Bisons opponents for the second time within five days, are well aware of the Howardmen's feeling after Jim Price's 30 - foot jump with 10 seconds left in Tuesday's game and are preparing to withstand the hosts' thrust.

During the previous encounter in which the score was tied several times in the final moments, Aaron Shingler, the Bisons high scorer in 1965-66 with a 19-point average, led all scorers with 29 markers.

Shingler got assistance from Ed Taylor, the only other Bison in double figures, who had 19 points.

THE BITTERNESS of the loss was more deeply felt by HU because the Bisons were nursing a 10 - point lead at halftime.

The St. Paul set back was the first conference game for the losers and dropped their overall record to 2-2.

Last year, the Bisons struggled to the conference tourney and ended up third in the playoffs.

This year under first-year coach, Marshall Emery, the Howardmen are again looking forward to staying in contention for a tourney berth and are expecting help from several newcomers to supplement Shingler, Taylor, and Frank Williams, their scoring punch from last season.

Following tomorrow's game, the Bisons will host Towson State College, Monday, and travel to Fairleigh-Dickinson in Rutherford, N.J. Tuesday.

Next Friday they will host Virginia Union University in their fourth conference game before they recess for the Christmas Holidays.

All the games begin at 8 p.m.

FREE PERFORMANCE

A Free Youth Performance of "Anabelle Broom" will be given Sunday, December 11 in the Cardozo High School Auditorium by the Missoula Festival Theatians, a traveling theater group from Montana which has been performing for young people in low - income areas throughout the country.

A Spy could grow old trying to steal Jim Beam's secrets. Warning to all enemy agents. The well-guarded Beam formula is no simple matter of putting ingredients together. The real secret is a matter of six generations of Bourbon know-how. Our own espionage reveals there's nothing like Jim Beam—anywhere.
