CASE NO. 488 — I would like to have a Christmas basket, if possible. My welfare check is very very much and I have four children, 17, 14, 12 and 14 months. I would like the basket so I can have a very very nice Christmas dinner for my children.

CASE NO. 489 — My husband is very sick person and has been all his life. He has an incurable blood disease and it has made my oldest child, 9, mentally retarded. We have three other children, 4, 3 and 2. My husband is completely disabled so we are on welfare. My children need underwear and sneakers very bad. We also could use some food if you have it. Please help us.

CASE NO. 490 — I have seven children, six are with me and one is in Germany. I have boys like to send him since June. My husband left us a year ago and I have been working, trying to make ends meet. The day after Thanksgiving, my girl, 7, fell from a third floor window and fractured 3 ribs, punctured her lungs and has a third degree burn on her back. I also cut her leg. Now I have to stay home because I don't have anyone to watch my children. I do not know how I am going to pay rent, buy food, clothing, etc. for my children. They are boys, 14, 8, and 2½ and girls 13, 10 and 7. The welfare can not help me because I just came back to Baltimore. Please, won't you remember us for Christmas? Please!

CASE NO. 491 — Please help me with my four children with a Christmas basket. It will make us very happy if we could just get something to eat. Please help us. I lost my job and can not go back to work until next month.

CASE NO. 492 — My husband is sick and we just get a little social fare check each month. My son was helping, but he has been in the hospital and cannot help any more. Now he is on a special diet and needs medicine. We are not able to get these things. Could you please help us?

If you could give us a little food for Christmas, maybe we can find a way to take a little out for medicine and his diet. Please help us. The children are in school.

CASE NO. 493 — Please give my neighbors a basket for Christmas. The husband is a cement finisher and has not been able to work because of the weather. They need a basket very bad. They have to pay rent and gas and electric etc. and it is very hard for them.

CASE NO. 494 — My husband is in one place and we are in another. I am on welfare and just get enough to pay the bills. I cannot send my boys to school because they don't have the proper clothes to wear. I am trying to be the hospital and we just don't have any money to spare. I have three boys and two girls and two grandchildren to take care of. Please, Mrs. Santa, do you have any clothes or food? Please help us.

CASE NO. 495 — I have seven children, boys, 10, 5½ and 3½ and girls, 7, 6½ and 4½, and 2½. I would like toys and clothing for my children, if you have any. EEOC to probe Dixie textile jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A public forum to explore minority employment trends in the textil industry will be held in Charlotte Jan. 12-13, The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission announced Tuesday night.

Commission reports show the textile industry provides about 45 per cent of all manufacturing employment in North and South Carolina, but only about 8.4 per cent of the workers are colored.

Chairman Stephen N. Shulman said the commission hopes to bring together at the forum state and local officials, business leaders and civil rights groups, with a view to increasing opportunities for minority workers.

nor relatives could tell him where she was.

He said he had searched several cities, but she seemed to have just dropped from sight. During the entire 48 years, he said, he has never seen her nor been able to find a trace of her.

The divorce was granted on grounds of desertion.

ALSO winning a divorce on grounds of desertion was William C. Boxwell of 637 E. Clement St. from Mrs. Lois Boxwell of 3919 Kimber Road.

Their marriage which took place on August 1, 1964 ended on Dec. 11, the same year, he testified.

On the latter date, Mr. Kimber said, Mrs. Boxwell was to have picked him up from work. When she failed to appear, he began phoning, he said. He located her at her former home, where, he said, she told him that she was not coming back to him.

KENNETH WILLIS of 2111 E. Federal St., who divorced Mrs. Dorothy E. Willis, this week, won custody of five of their seven children.

Two of the children are married and self-supporting.

A 17-year-old daughter, Miss Sarah Willis, told the court that she and the other children wished to be placed in custody of their father. She said that her mother had left them, and though she asked her to stay she said that she was going.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis were married in 1944, and the union ended, he said, in 1962. Mr. Willis said that his wife had left him several times before and that she never gave a reason when she left.

Her last departure was while he was at work, the husband said.

19 accused in arson case listed as Minutemen

NORBORNE, Mo. (UPI)—Robert Bolivar DePugh, head of the right-wing minuteman, this week admitted 19 men arrested Oct. 30 at New York City for conspiracy to commit arson on two left - wing camps "are now, or have been Minutemen."

From his home at Norborne, the militant leader said, however, the arrests were a "frame" to hinder his trial in Kansas City and help the election of Nat H. Hentel, the Queens County District attorney.

"My information is that they had drawn plans up to raid the camps, but did not intend to do so. It was an academic training program" he said.

IN NEW YORK, 15 of the 19 Minutemen members referred to by DePugh were indicted by a Queen County grand jury on charges ranging from conspiracy to commit arson to possession of dangerous weapons. The panel declined to indict the other four.

(Shortly after the indictments were returned, a half dozen pickets appeared outside the court building carrying signs reading: "God Bless the Minutemen" and "Patriots vs. Communists".

He said the program was no different than many Minutemen training courses. "They picked love targets to make it more interesting, and to give a feeling of reality to a proposed training program."

DePugh said "another group" (apparently another minuteman group) in the area reported to him what information he had.

"It had come to their notice, so it must have also come to the notice of the state police." the dark-haired leader said.

DePugh said he feels the police knew this, and "they knew they could pick them up and seize them with guns and ammunition, and they did so for an obvious reason.

"Not because they had information that we were going to be conducted, but because it was just before my trial here in Kansas City and Mr. Hentel's election," he said.

DePugh said they were just going out to practice. "We have fell victim to Dallas. It was a mistake on their part.

On Nov. 14, DePugh was convicted by a federal jury of three counts of violating the National Firearms Act.

Burch takes oath as new atty. general

By MAX JOHNSON

Francis B. Burch, victorious Democratic attorney general candidate in the Nov. 8 general election, was sworn in here Thursday with Gov. J. Millard Tawes doing the honors.

The occasion, however, carried far more political significance than just a surface - wise, routine affair.

Gov. Tawes publicly handed over Mr. Burch with his blessing the No. 2 spot in the party's leadership at the Annapolis state level.

Louis L. Goldstein, incumbent comptroller and former state Senate president, inherits the No. 1 spot by virtue of positionly under the Tawes banners and the George P. Mahoney losing debacle in the past gubernatorial race.

Thomas B. Finan, the Tawes gubernatorial candidate and third member of the team, lost to Mahoney in the primary.

Mesdames Goldstein and Burch will handle their parts: women in state affairs with the Republicans' new governor - elect Spiro T. Agnew.

Background directors, of course, will include Maryland's Democratic U. S. Senators Daniel B. Brewster and Joseph D. Tydings.

APPARENTLY WELL aware of this changed Democratic image, a record crowd of party well-wishers and patronage seekers jammed the third member House chamber for the ceremony, and subsequent reception at the historic Emerson Hotel.

After swearing in Mr. Burch, outgoing insurance commissioner, Gov. Tawes had to lend him his pen to sign his credentials.

Mr. Burch explained afterward that he had red ink in it, and he did not want to start off in the red.

Gov. Tawes left no doubt about bestowing a commanding portion of the party reins to Mr. Burch. He praised him and his accomplishments as insurance commissioner highly.

Following the installation in the office of Mr. Burch, his vacated office was immediately filled in the same ceremony.

NORMAN POLOVOY, assistant attorney general, was sworn in as an interim replacement by Orville T. Gosnell, clerk of Circuit Court, Baltimore County where he resides.

Gov. Tawes noted that this was the first time in his memory that such a ceremony on the state level had been held in the city Court House.

Among the 200 or more party faithfuls that witnessed the ceremony and enjoyed the reception were:

Senator Verda F. Welcome, delegate - elect Mrs. Lena K. Lee, Troy Bradley and his wife, Isaiah (Ike) Dixon (all 4th D.), Arthur A. King (Prince Georges County) and Floyd B. Adams (2nd D.).

Also, David T. Mason, assistant attorney general on Mr. Burch's staff; Frank A. Decosta Jr., assistant city solicitor who is expected to be named an assistant attorney general; U. Theodore Hayes, Workmen's Compensation attorney on the attorney general staff, and Lloyal Randolph, acting chief clerk, Baltimore's Supervisors of Elections.

Duke breaks with bar group over graduate denial

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — The Duke University Law School Wednesday "severed its relationship" with the North Carolina Bar Association because the association denied entrance to a Duke graduate.

The action was disclosed in a resolution approved by the law faculty and announced by Dean F. Hodge O'Neal.

The resolution said the graduate refused admission to the association was Eric Michaux of Durham, a 1966 Duke Law graduate. Denial of membership in the association "represents an obstacle to his professional advancement," the resolution said.

Dean J. Dickson Phillips, Jr., of the University of North Carolina Law School, issued a statement in Chapel Hill deploring the association's policy.

MICHAUX has passed his examination and has been admitted to practice before the North Carolina bar. The events and continuing educational programs, social events and continuing education while the North Carolina bar is the legal professional organization.

The Duke faculty said the association made no inquiries at the law school concerning Michaux's character or legal qualifications.

"Under all these circumstances, we can only infer that his application was rejected solely because of his race," the resolution of the faculty declared. This has been substantially confirmed by recent conversations with representatives of the bar association, Dean O'Neal advised.

200 volunteers map new plans for Provident

Rededicated campaigners for a new Provident Hospital be be constructed in Northwest Baltimore met Thursday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. at Wilson's, Pennsylvania and North Ave., to finalize plans.

The more than 200 volunteers heard a detailed account of new features scheduled for the facility.

Mrs. Victorine Adams and Samuel M. Hecht, co-chairmen of the campaign, in cooperation with Charles G. Tildon, Provident Hospital Development director, were in charge of the meeting.

Division leaders present for the session included Mrs. Martha Allen, Dr. Delores Hunt, Allen Quille, Joseph Bush and William Mumby.

FOR THE "second mile" of the campaign, a goal of $110,000 has been raised toward this goal.

The campaigners are seeking new contributors in the community and also hope to have a number of current pledges raised.

Funds for a new Provident now total $2,541,126 of which more than $1,075,000 was given by the city's colored community.

Mr. Hecht said the total, plus city, State and Federal funds, would permit groundbreaking for the hospital in the spring of 1967.

New features to be adapted by the hospital include a modernized out-patient emergency department, a nursing service which would place all the needs of a nurse in every patient's room, an intensive care unit and plans for future expansion, including an extended care facility.

Mr. Tildon also discussed a Health-Science Auditorium which will permit an attendance of 225 persons.

In addition to use by physicians and nurses for lectures, the auditorium will also be available for community events.

NAACP election slated Tuesday at Sharp St.

The Baltimore NAACP branch will elect officers Tuesday, Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community House of the Sharp Street Memorial Church.

The board of directors will meet at the NAACP office at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21.

Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, longtime president of the local branch, announced the election and board meeting.

21 jailed, fined for '63 demonstrations

DANVILLE, Va. (UPI)—Judge convicted 21 civil rights demonstrators Wednesday of defying a court order during 1963 racial demonstrations and gave them $20 fines and 10 - day jail terms.

Their attorney said the convictions will be appealed.

Judge A. M. Aiken, of Danville Corporation Court, suspended eight days of the jail sentences as he heard the first of 524 cases.

S. W. TUCKER, legal counsel for the Virginia NAACP said he would appeal the convictions to the state Supreme Court.

The cases already have been appealed unsuccessfully to the U.S. Supreme Court in an attempt to get them moved to federal court jurisdiction.

Judge Aiken, upon hearing the appeal notice, issued new bonds for the 21. He set bond at $500 each. Some of the demonstrators were spending the night in jail, unable to raise bond.

THE 21 were convicted on charges arising from a June 10, 1963 incident. They were among 524 civil rights demonstrators arrested during a summer of violence in 1963.

The Rev. Hildreth McGee, who led the demonstrators June 10, 1963, was fined $25 and 10 days with only five days suspended.

Judge Aiken also fined the demonstrators court costs. Those costs have not been set yet. The city of Danville estimates them at about $75,000.
