MR. AND MRS. DALE JEFFERSON JR., were married in Baltimore, recently. Mrs. Jefferson is the former Miss Helen Elizabeth Wall.

Miss Helen E. Wall, Alex Jefferson wed

Wearing a dress of white lace, a shoulder-length veil of net and carrying white roses on a satin covered Bible, Miss Helen Elizabeth Wall became the bride of Alex Wesley Jefferson, Jr., Wednesday.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth P. Barnes, at 606 Edgewood St., home of the bride's grandparents.

MISS WALL was given in marriage by her brother, Dennis Earl Wall, and attended by Miss Ramona Wall, her sister. The maid of honor chose a blue floral print for the marriage, and carried pink carnations.

Mr. Jefferson had as best man his father, Alex W. Jefferson, Sr.

MRS. JEFFERSON, JR. graduated from Towson High School, and attended Maryland State College. She is a laboratory technician trainee. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Wall, Sr.

Mr. Jefferson is a senior majoring in physical education at Maryland State College. He is a cadet first lieutenant, advanced air-force ROTC and a member of Arnold Air Society and Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

Meekins gets award for 15 yrs. service

By GERTRUDE M. PARKER

Thomas H. Meekins of Hollinsferry Rd. was among those receiving awards for 25-years Service with the city, at the annual Employees Meeting held at the Hippodrome Theatre on last Friday.

James T. McClelland, director of personnel for BURHA, made the presentation.

Mrs. William E. Brown was hostess to woman's Society of Christian Service of Mt. Winans Methodist Church for their December meeting.

A Christmas Service of worship titled "This little Time" was presented by the program committee.

Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Victoria Anderson. Mrs. Sadie Blocker, is president of the Society.

James Weems U.S. Marine station in Cuba is home on leave spending the holidays with his parents.

Mrs. Earestine King was chairman of the fellowship tea for the Christian Social Concerns held at the Mt. Winans Methodist Church on last Sunday.

Decorations for Christmas were in evidence every where. Christmas expressions were read by Mrs. Elizabeth Parker and Mrs. King. Carols were sung with Sharon Wallace at the piano.

Clarence Moore as Santa Claus presented gifts to the shutins and members.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace is chairman of the concerns. The Rev. William E. Brown is minister.

Mrs. Madeline Harding, teacher at School 156, presented the faculty gift to Mrs. Grace K. Martin at the testimonial held recently. This writer is sorry her name was left out.

Send a message of cheer to Alice Lindsay, Miss Cynthia Williams, Miss Charlotte Wall. Miss Ramona Wall and Dennis E. Wall.

Richard Johnson at University Hospital. Mrs. Alice Lee at the Lutheran Hospital.

Watch night services will be held at the Mt. Winans Methodist Church, Dec. 31 at 11 p.m.

Ga. Legislature to pick governor

WASHINGTON

The Supreme Court finally cleared the way Tuesday for the Georgia Legislature to select the state's next governor.

The court's decision upheld the Georgia Legislature's right — set down in the state Constitution — that it could choose between Democrat Lester Maddox and Republican Howard Callaway.

If YOU Ask ME

BY BETTYE M. MOSS

Christmas joy at 904

This is a true Christmas story:—

There was joy at 904 Whitmore Ave. on Sunday evening.

A cab drove up about 7:30. AFRO Photographer I. Henry Phillips was in his car, bound for a news assignment.

He put on his brakes, squinted, and was motionless for two minutes.

Was it the oldest boy home from Vietnam? He had been expected all month. Could it be?

• • •

Yes, indeed it was. Out of the cab hopped Sp/4 Irving Phillips, home safe after 13 months in Vietnam.

Inside the house, his petite mother and other relatives were waiting.

There were cries of joy — 'loud enough to be heard up the block,' said a neighbor — and of course unrestrained tears.

Soldier Irving, 23, 5 ft. 11, had left Saigon on Dec. 16, and 28 hours later was in his Baltimore home, also on the 16th it had been a long flight.

• • •

'All I ever thought about was coming home,' he repeated over and over.

We all sat transfixed as he told of his life in the Army—where he was a radio teletype operator with a signal battalion.

He interrupted the joyful reunion to satisfy another dream — 'All I want is a steak sandwich from Harley's.'

There were more reminiscences when he returned 'loaded' with Harley sandwiches, and resumed his accounts of war in faraway Vietnam.

• • •

Weaved throughout his stories was extra credit for our infantrymen over there.

'They are the guys who deserve the credit,' he emphasized.

And then he added, 'Everybody over there does his part . . . I never did any fighting, but I was near it.

'I know what it is . . . the men who really have the hard time are the infantry men . . . they deserve all the credit.'

• • •

After a 30-day leave, young Phillips reports to Ft. Meade for discharge.

His plans — 'Right now, just being home makes me happy.

'Maybe after two weeks, I might find a girl, but right now I'm perfectly content being home . . . I was so far away.'

• • •

And, then, he said what made this aunt know he has truly grown up in the army:

'Being passive and going along is not the answer. I want to make a contribution to life . . . I want to do something. . .'

About this and that

Holiday wedding coming up:—

Paul Scott, the Baltimore County school counselor, and Roberta Woodlon, the Baltimore County school librarian, have a Christmas wedding date. Couldn't happen to two nicer people.

Belated, but do rush, happy birthday cards to Morsell Freeland, 1617 Westwood Ave. He was 82 years old on Dec. 20.

Mr. Freeland attributes his long life to the fact that he has been a non-drinker (never taken anything stronger than apple cider.)

Many may remember him as the longtime member (59 years) of Union Baptist Church.

He is also former patron of Perseverance Lodge, Prince Hall Masons and a member of the Knight of Pythians.

• • •

Isn't it grand to be young and innocent?

The 11-year-old in our house has written two letters to Santa.

In the first, she asked for the bicycle she did not get last year, and added this postscript: 'I have saved $20 of my birthday money, so it won't be so hard on you.'

When we advised her that Santa said he did not have the color bike she wanted, we found a second letter to Santa: 'Don't worry about the color, just the English racer, please! I have some cookies ano milk for you.

• • •

Cuff note Marjitta (Connie) Coleman will play the part of an unwed pregnant girl on Focal Point, WJZ-TV on Dec. 27. This Documentary on unwed mothers will be narrated by Dr. Louis Randall.

Connie, or Cookie, as she is know at Camp Mohawk is a tenth grader at Western High School. She has taken dancing and dramatics under Debrah Loudon since she was four.

She is a counselor at Camp Mohawk, a member of the Western High School Band, and a member of St. Greg ory the Great Parish and the UCD.

• • •

People Being kind to other people: Shortly after he came here last April to become assistant minister at St. James Episcopal Church, the Rev. Lloyd V. George and his family lost most of their possessions in a fire.

On Christmas Eve, members of the parish are playing Santa Claus to him. . .

The special collection at the Christmas Eve midnight service will go to him and

Who said there was no Santa Claus?

• • •

Cuff Note: The Rev. Andrew D. Nance will be installed as president of the Baptist Minister Conference of Baltimore and vicinity on Monday, Dec. 26, at noon. Place: The Mt. Hope Baptist Church, Gwynns Falls and Reisterstown Rd.

• • •

Pre - Holiday party which truly glowed was the one given by the Neptune Yacht Club on Saturday evening at Famous Ballroom.

Orchids are due Joe Felton and Travis White, who co-chaired the event which featured crowning of 'Miss Neptune' (Miss Roberta Parker), a Morgan State College honor student).

Highlight: The dance music supplied by Johnny Sparrow and his orchestra. It was tops.

BLACK CHRISTMAS

I dreamed He came again:
I saw once more
The choir of angels and the blazing star,
The wisemen riding in from lands afar.
The shepherds crowding at the stable door. . .
Then—what a fearful sight for eyes to see. . .
Astounded at His new humility.
All turned in a stubborn pride and stumbled back. . .
Offended that the Baby's face was black.

A Christmas prayer

Our Heavenly Father, once more our thoughts turn to Thee. And even as Thou didst give Thy perfect gift of love on that starry night in Bethlehem, so give to all Thy children Thy gift of peace and healing as we approach the birthday of our Savior. We pray that the morning sun shall bring Thy divine blessings for renewed strength to the bodies and minds of all those who are suffering and in the need of compassion. In the name of Him who was born on Christmas Day to redeem us from our sins, we thank Thee in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holly Spirit.

Amen.

(From St. James Methodist Church bulletin)

People, places and things

Glad you're better hellos to Raymond Carpenter Sr., who had eye surgery at Hopkins Hospital, should be home by Christmas.

Continue cheer to Hopkins Hospital for Mrs. Edna Finney Lane; to Md. General Hospital for Harry Roberts

And, be sure to send Christmas cheer to Providence Hospital in D.C., for Mrs. Eugenia Phillips.

• • •

Hellos to Veterans Hospital, 3000 Loch Raven Blvd. for Charles Henderson of Jacksonville, N.C. He's the member of the USO Tour Group who recently returned from Vietnam.

• • •

Cuff note: Howard B. Carter of Downingtown, Pa., won that mink stole which the Smart Set Club raffled for its Knox Day Nursery project. This is the group headed by Mrs. Doris Cole.

• • •

Special thinking of you cards this Christmas time to Mrs. Betty S. Feldman, 5501 Bland Ave.

She is the Good Samaritan who has been greatly discouraged here of late.

Although she has spent the last four years aiding her fellowmen, some of her relatives and friends have deserted her, and made like she was some kind of nut.

Betty is white and belongs to the Bahai Faith (a person who is committed to doing good for her fellowman.)

Readers of this column may recall that an item here some years back urging readers to send her get-well cards, started a chain reaction.

• • •

Among those who sent best wishes was a Md. State Penitentiary inmate, Syng McGowen.

Largely through Betty's efforts, Syng was released from prison and is now living with his wife and family.

Betty's current project is promotion of Syng McGowen's record, 'Peggy-did, Peggy Did.' It is a catchy tune on the Hope label.

• • •

But here's the rub, even though Betty Feldman has spent her own money to promote the recording and to free an inmate, the record is not moving in this area.

Those who can help are not opening their doors.

Send her best wishes — to keep her spirits up and do buy the platter at your record store.
