MSC students pace TV quiz

Morgan State College students from the Institute of Political Education who joined others from New York, Columbia and Harvard universities in a live nationwide telecast news quiz on current events Tuesday night, made an average score of 90.

The 10 MSC students ranked higher across the board than the others taking the test on the Columbia Broadcasting System's "News in Review—1966," according to Augustus A. Adair, institute director. General average for the total group was 78.

Morgan students who participated in the show broadcast from New York City and seen locally Tuesday night over Channel 2, are:

Miss Carolyn Smith, junior; Arlene Carrington, Vivian Jones and Claudia Stevens, all seniors.

Also Robert Bunn, Warren Howe, Elbert Bishop, seniors; Leroy Graham, junior; Samuel Lloyd, sophomore, and James Gilliam Jr., senior.

Credit union election

Nominations for six vacancies in directorships of the SSA Baltimore Federal Credit Union will be placed before the membership at the annual meeting to be held on Jan. 29, 1967.

Teenagers entertain 10 orphans at Fayette St. holiday gathering

A refreshing bit of holiday activity was carried out last Friday by a group of teenagers who proved that many youngsters are thoughtful, kind and charitable.

Six youthful members of St. Peter Claver's Catholic Youth Organization entertained 10 orphans ages four to seven, from the St. Vincent's Home.

The party was the idea of Miss Deborah Garrison, an Eastern High School senior.

She was among a group of teenagers who attended a discussion session at Sparks, not too long before.

"It was there I learned more about other people and their conditions," said Deborah. "the idea came to me then I wanted to do something."

She mentioned the idea of having a party for parentless children to her mother, Mrs. Doris O. Garrison, who immediately approved.

The orphanage was contacted and arrangements were made for the 10 little ones to be the guests in the Garrison home, at 734 W. Fayette St.

IN THE group that acted as hosts were Robert Allen, 18; Darlene Garrison, 14; Maria Allen, 17; Andrea Timmons, 17; and Joanne Norris, 16.

All are junior or senior high students.

The tots were served hot dogs, burgers, french fries, potato chips, peanuts, candies, punch and other goodies.

They spent an enjoyable six hours in the Garrison apartment with their young hosts.

"They had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Garrison, "and they really believe in sweeping and cleaning up."

"I didn't want to give a teenage dance," said Deborah. "I wanted to do something nicer. This was really nice. They had such a good time.

"I would like to do this again. I hope to—maybe before school closes."

Mayor may name veteran supporter to Zoning Bd.

By MAX JOHNSON

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin said Thursday he is "close" to making that integration appointment to the Board of Muncipal and Zoning Appeals.

He has yet to give strong indications of whom he will name but there are indications of whom he favors.

Mayor McKeldin would like to give the $8,023 a year post to a well-known, veteran member of his party who has been a staunch, loyal supporter of him down through the years.

There are two pending vacancies on this board.

The one the mayor plans to fill by a historic integration move requires a person having been in real estate.

Mayor McKeldin promised the AFRO a week ago he would integrate this board.

ALSO FACING the mayor are a vacancy and a term expiration on the unsalaried Civic Center Commission.

The vacancy occurred with the resignation of Judge George L. Russell Jr., following his appointment to the Supreme Bench.

The expired term is that of Nathan S. Jacobson. There are indications, however, that he will be named to another term.

Mayor McKeldin said Thursday he would fill the vacancy soon. The person named will be a member of Judge Russell's race, for his earlier appointment integrated that commission.

Miss Sheffey honored at debutante affair

Members of the famous Northwest Club gave a debutante luncheon in the honor of Miss Carol Sheffey at the 2000 Restaurant last Thursday.

Miss Sheffey, who will be presented by the Me-De-So Club at their Spring Cotillion, is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powell Sheffey.

The members of this club customarily entertain for each girl that is a member of their teen-group. Miss Sheffey was a picture of beauty and wearing a green and yellow-striped dress with a huge orchid at her shoulder and a corsage with a creme colored hat.

She was flanked at the table by her mother, Mrs. Margery Sheffey, who was wearing a chic yellow knit.

There were thirteen of her close friends on hand to celebrate with her and Carol paid a lovely tribute to her mother and father for love and care they have bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Anita Myers, chairman of the affair read a tribute to Carol. Presidents Vyna Skinner and Anethia Williams spoke in her behalf. Mrs. Albert Laforest and Mrs. Harold A. Clark assisted Mrs. Myers in making the affair an unforgetable event for all present.

Guests were: Mary Driver, Rita Bass, Patricia Payne, Carol Sheffey, the honoree, Marsha Countee, Judy Daniels, Carolyn Torsell, Leah Davis, Bonnie Randolph, Alicia Wallace, Yvonne Dungee, Brown Case, Connie Perry

Club mothers present were: Mrs. Margarie Sheffey, Anita Myers, Ruperta Waters, Vyna Skinner, Margaret Driver, Mary Sprow, Iona Collins, Flozella Clark, Cleo Diggs, Anethia Williams, Gloria Phillips and Jimmie Laforest.

Perlman to exhibit

Interested nurses are asked to contact the nursing office at Sinai for an interview as soon as possible, at ext. 8626 (FO-7-7800).

Whoa, there! Clerk shows tennis prowess

Jerome Robert Wallace Jr., 22, 3700 block Reisterstown Rd., was given probation before verdict on a charge of rogue and vagabond when he appeared before Judge James K. Cullen in Criminal Court, Tuesday.

Mr. Wallace, an express company employee, was accused of parking a horse and wagon at the Elgin Ave. and Pulaski St. location of the C and P Telephone Co. Warehouse about 7:30 a.m. Aug. 20.

According to police officers testimony, a man fitting his description and wearing a bright yellow shirt had scaled the 15 - foot high fence that was topped with barbed wire.

Arresting officers said they apprehended Mr. Wallace at Fulton and Pennsylvania Aves. five blocks away. He was wearing a yellow shirt.

HOWEVER, Judge Cullen found, "There is more than one yellow shirt in Baltimore."

Puzzled over the horse and wagon no one could justifiably link to Mr. Wallace, Judge Cullen added. "According to the testimony before me, you can't tie that on to him either."
