FUNERAL HELD ON THURSDAY

Charles C. Woodland, 83; known as 'Mr. Catonsville'

Charles Cornelius Woodland, 83, educator, retired government worker and civic leader, died on Monday at his home, 77 Winters Ave. in Catonsville.

He was a lifelong resident of the Baltimore County community, which came to think of him as "Mr. Catonsville".

Requiem mass was said Thursday at St. James Episcopal Church in Baltimore, with Father Donald O. Wilson and Father Lloyd George officiating.

Burial was in Western Star Cemetery, Catonsville.

AN AFRO interview in 1948 noted he was a mild mannered man who prided himself on getting along with people, and that he maintained an active interest in the affairs of his community.

Born in Catonsville on Oct. 9, 1883, Mr. Woodland was the son of Phillip and Sarah Woodland.

C. C. WOODLAND

He was a graduate of the old Coppin Normal School and Morgan College.

He taught in the public schools of Kent, Harford, Baltimore County and Baltimore City.

He left the teaching profession to become the first postman in Catonsville, a job he held for 43 years, until his retirement in 1948.

FOR MANY years he participated in and contributed to the political an civic life of his community. He was the GOP executive of the 17th Precinct by unanimous choice of the county and state District No. 12.

He is credited with bringing new life to the Party in his community.

He served as a trustee with a group appointed by the court to administer a trust fund created by the Freedman's Bureau for educational and religious purposes.

* * *

MR. WOODLAND also served on the Baltimore County Grand Jury several times, was vice president of the Catonsville branch of the NAACP and belonged to the Recreational Council of Banneker School and Crescent Lodge of Elks.

* * *

BECAUSE OF his foresight an business acumen, he was able to make it possible for many to engage in profitable business enterprises.

Until his death he served as president of the Catonsville Co-Operative Association, a group which developed several successful business ventures including the Old Greenwood Electric Park.

Mr. Woodland is also remembered for his kindness and deep concern for his fellowman.

He organized and worked diligently with a group of citizens to restore Grace AME Church when it was destroyed by fire, although he belonged to St. James Episcopal Church.

HE IS survived by his wife, Mrs. Sadonia Dorsey Woodland. They observed their 54th wedding anniversary on Sept. 9.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Cephas, Baltimore; son, Colbert Woodland, Catonsville; five grandchildren, Charlene and Charles Cephas, Colberta, Pauletteo and Charles Woodland 3rd.

Another son, Charles Jr., died in September, 1963 at the age of 46. B. M. MOSS.

RITES FOR Sp/4 CHARLES WILLIAMS, inset, 1964 Douglass High honor graduate, were held Tuesday. He died in Vietnam action.

Sp.-4 Williams dies in action in Vietnam

By STERLING PAIGE

"We are here today because of man . . . because we, as a country, have gone forth to protect the freedom of nations of the world. . ."

The words of Army Chaplain Ernest Armstrong were spoken Tuesday at the Morton and Dyett Funeral Home.

In the flag-draped casket were the remains of 21-year-old Charles Williams, Sp/4, U.S. Army.

* * *

A 1964 honor graduate of Douglass High, Williams worked as an orderly at Johns Hopkins and Bon Secours Hospitals before enlisting in the Army in March, 1965.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Daisy) Williams, 2809 Waldorf Ave.

Mr. Williams told the AFRO: "Charles said he wanted to improve himself. He wanted to be a doctor."

Williams earned his medic's certificate and applied for Vietnam duty with the 101st Airborne Division.

Following a 3-day leave, he left November 2 to join the 101st.

A month later, his unit arrived in Vietnam. Williams was killed some three weeks later — on December 29 — while accompanying a combat mission outside Saigon.

"THAT SAME day, Charles wrote me a letter," his mother recalled.

"He said they were going into the mountains and they were thick with the Viet Cong."

Sp/4 Williams also wrote his mother he wanted to send Christmas presents but had been in the field since arriving in Vietnam.

"Charles said he gave a buddy money to buy his baby sister a doll and send it off."

"He asked me to let him know if we received it. It was for Wanda Marie (25 months old)."

Notice of their sons death reached the family long before the letter.

* * *

YOUNG WILLIAMS was junior deacon, usher, and choir member at St. Abraham Baptist Church, 1100 block W. North Ave.

"Whenever Charles came home on leave, he always spent time at his church and sang on the choir. He loved it," his mother said.

In addition to his parents and the baby sister, he is survived by three other sisters: Misses Lillie Bell, Mae, and Roberta;

And four brothers: Willie Jr., Jonathan, Phillip, and Raymond Williams.

REV. W. S. WATSON

Greater Olivet in 45th year

The Greater Olivet Baptist Church, 3500 Edmondson Ave., is celebrating its 45th anniversary this month and its pastor, the Rev. W. S. Watson is marking his fifth anniversary on Jan. 15.

Greater Olivet was founded at Laurens St. 45 years ago, opening on Jan. 29. It later was located on Druid Hill Ave., Winchester St. and Riggs Ave. before moving to the present site.

The youth church observes its first anniversary, under the leadership of Michael Gaines, on Jan. 15.

Speakers on Jan. 15 will be: 11 a.m., the Rev. C. L. Washington, St. Timothy Christian Baptist, and at 3:30 p.m., the Rev. R. J. Manning, Shiloh Baptist Church, York, Pa.

On Jan. 22, the 3:30 p.m. speaker will be I. J. Gilliam, New St. Mark Baptist Church.

On Jan. 29, the 11 a.m. speaker will be minister J. Gaines, and then the Rev. Roland Johnson of Bethany Baptist.

The public is invited to the services.

Saturday rites set for for Mrs. Rebecca Peed

Requiem mass will be said for Mrs. H. Rebecca Peed, 74, 1524 McCulloh St., Saturday 10 a.m. at Corpus Cristi Church, Lafayette and Mt. Royal Ave.

Mrs. Peed died January 10, after a long illness. She was the wife of Richard Peed who survives. He is a retired postal worker.

Member of an old Baltimore family, Mrs. Peed was the daughter of Mrs. Emma Taylor Wood and George Wood.

* * *

SHE WAS educated in the public schools. Several years before her marriage she was employed as a practical nurse.

On September 4 1966 she and Mr. Peed marked their 29th wedding anniversary.

Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Helen Gibson, Baltimore; Mrs. Agnes Morris, Washington; four brothers, Howard, Taylor, Albert, and William Wood; and two sisters; Mrs. Ellen Mason and Mrs. Mary Williams; five grandchildren, and six great grandchildren, all of Baltimore.

Mrs. Virginia V. Allen, 83, leaves 73 close relatives

Mrs. Virginia V. Allen, 83, died on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hilson.

She was the widow of James Allen and made her home in Sparrows Point 41 years.

Funeral services will be held 11 a.m. Saturday at Union Baptist Church, Sparrows Point.

Morton and Dyett is handling arrangements. Burial will be in her native Virginia.

Mrs. Allen has 73 immediate survivors. Included are five daughters, Mrs. Hilson, with whom she made her home; Mrs. Dora Parker, Mrs. Birdie B. Fesperman, and Mrs. Nellie Glenn, all of Baltimore; and Mrs. Edna Williams, N.Y.

Also a son, James Allen, Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Annie Pollard, Baltimore, and 19 grandchildren and 47 great grandchildren.

Heritage United to hear Rev. Hilfiker on Sunday

REV. WARREN HELFIKER

Marking its fourth anniversary, Heritage United Church of Christ will feature as its speaker, Sunday morning, the Rev. Warren Hilfiker, associate conference minister, of the Central Atlantic Conference.

This announcement was made by the pastor, the Rev. Wendell H. Phillips. Heritage, formerly known as the Northwest Congregational Church, is located at 3106 Liberty Heights Ave., corner Dennlyn Rd.

Heritage was founded in May 1962, meeting successively in the Fellowship House, Mondawmin Meeting Room and St. Luke United Church of Christ. It moved into its present edifice in 1965.

The Rev. Mr. Phillips refers to himself as belonging to a "new breed" of the clergy, dedicated to extending the church, beyond the pulpit and the boundaries of the building out into the community and becoming directly involved in the lives of its members, thus fulfilling its dedication as a "mission church."

* * *

LAST WEEK the church extended its facilities to the Baltimore City Health Department which will conduct a "Well Baby Clinic" in its Sunday School Rooms from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Wednesday, and 12 to 4 p.m. on Thursday.

The Rev. Mr. Phillips states he sees in 1967 a concentration in the area of membership involvement in the work of the church, and vital ministries to the youth in Baltimore.

Heritage has a Teen-Age Fellowship which meets Sundays. Under the direction of Mesdames Anne Emery and Ethel Payne there is a Youth Study Center held 6:30 p.m. Wednesdays, which is both interracial and interdenominational.

The Teen Canteen, which attracts up to 200 youths is at 8 p.m. Fridays.

* * *

OTHER organizations and their officers include the executive council, William Mason chairman; trustee board, S. Leo Jones, chairman; Dia-Guild, Mrs. Frakie Hickson, president; Men's Fellowship, Charles Mitchmer, president.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson is superintendent of the Sunday School. Mrs. Edna Johnson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Preston Johnson, treasurer, and Walter Davis, chairman of Christian Education.

Mrs. Lettie Wilson is church clerk. Vernon Gaskins, financial secretary, and Mrs. Katie Grove, organist, choir director.

Que-Ettes add $1000 to Provident Fund

With Lula Jones Garrett

The Baltimore Que-Ettes (auxiliary to the Pi Omega chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity) added another $1000 to the Provident Hospital Development Fund, this week. This brought their donation to this project to $3,500.

The gift came from proceeds of tre Winter Ball which they gave on January 2nd, when they and guests, numbering 400, danced from a minute past midnight until four in the morning, sipped champagne and dined from a heavily laden buffet in the beautifully decorated Mall of Mondawmin Center.

The Ball was the fourth such affair given by the ladies to garner funds for their charities as well as their continuing pledge to the Provident project.

Dr. Effetee Payne was general chairman for the ball. Her co-chairman was Penjolo Priest . . . and serving on the dance committee with them were Evelena Henderson, Estelle Hagan, Mildred Williams, Shirley Strother, Sarah Dawkins, Mattie Gardner and Willie Cardwell.

Hostesses included: Mesdames Maola Day, Mary Ervin, Helen Smith, Fannie Sue Perry, Mae Folkes, Elizabeth Custis, Hazel Parks, Jeanette Spencer, Joyce Blanchard, Marian McIntosh, Mildred Austin, Constance Ward, Sarah Bell, Elnora Barber, Beryl Williams, Bernice McDaniels

Mesdames Myrtice Bennett, Kathryn Grant, Celeste Brooks, Ruth Rosedom, Dorothy Koger, Joslyn Braxton, Salome Fuller, Dorothy Perches, Beatrice Holley, Mildred Johnson, Mary Bacote, Mildred A. Williams and Lucretia Whitten.

Oranges by the pound, not size, for juice

This week let us give attention to the abundant supply of citrus that is seasonally peaking.

This is the time when quality is best and prices attractive.

Early season prospects pointed to a citrus crop substantially above the production of the past year.

* * *

SIZES OF oranges vary from season to season, reflecting climatic conditions. The best buys are usually the sizes most plentiful for the season. Weight is a better index of juice yield than size.

You get about as much juice from a pound of small oranges as a pound of large ones. Select citrus heavy for it size, firm, free of blemishes, soft or mold spots. Oranges need not be refrigerated if they are to be used within a couple of days.

YOU MAY want to compare the cost of juice from fresh fruit with canned and frozen several times during the season as prices change. While the convenience of using frozen concentrate has made it one of the fastest growing food products in terms of volume produced and consumed, it never takes the place of the pleasure which comes from eating a fresh orange out-of-hand.

Remember a fresh orange 3 inches in diameter or a six ounce serving of any type orange juice will supply you with the recommended 70 milligrams of Vitamin C you need daily.

* * *

USUALLY THE only oranges identified by variety of Temples, Navels and Valencias. The thin - skinned Florida Juice oranges may be one of a number of varieties and are usually sold as early season or mid-season oranges.

It is easy to tell Navel Oranges by the navel formation at the end opposite the stem. The skins are thick and they are easy to peel and segment. Navels are usually seedless and are ideal for salads, fruit cups and desserts. The Florida navels are in season October through January and California navels November through May. These are usually the most expensive of the orange varieties.

TEMPLE ORANGES are one of the most beautiful and highly flavoted oranges. They are a Florida orange available November to March. The skins are deep red-orange, coarse grained and loose making them easy to peel. The distinctive spicy flavor is delightful to savor. This is a variety gaining in popularity each year.

Valencias are late season sweet juice oranges, with thin skins and almost no seeds.
