Potters exhibit

The Potters Guild of Baltimore has been invited by Craft House of Washington, D.C., to hold an exhibit of its members' work, starting Wednesday, Feb. 1, at their Studio Shop, 1669 Wisconsin Ave., N.W.

The Potters Guild, founded in 1956, now has over fifty active members.

The exhibit will be open to the public throughout February.

Mrs. Wallace was Ebenezer AME lifetime member

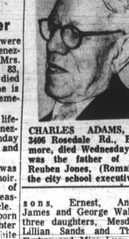
Funeral services were held Wednesday at Ebenezer AME Church for Mrs. Mary Emma Wallace, 83, 509 N. Monroe St., who died Jan. 20 at her home. She is buried in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Mrs. Wallace was a lifetime member of the Ebenezer Church, a former Sunday school teacher, junior and senior choir member.

At her death she was mother of the senior choir. She was also president of the Pastor's Aid and treasurer of the Sunshine Circle.

Mrs. Wallace was born Aug. 28, 1883, the daughter of the late Mrs. Lucy White and Jessie White of Baltimore. She was the widow of Lee Andrew Wallace.

Among survivors are four sons, Ernest, Andrew, James and George Wallace; three daughters, Mesdames Lillian Sands and Thelma Forbes and Miss Lucy Wallace; 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, nieces and nephews.



CHARLES ADAMS, 95, 3406 Rosedale Rd., Baltimore, died Wednesday. He was the father of Mrs. Reuben Jones, (Romaine), the city school executive.

Mrs. Jones was longtime member

This was the appraisal a resident of the 2000 block Bryant Ave. gave this week about Mrs. Mandola Walker Jones, 59, 2008 Bryant Ave.

She died on Friday at Lutheran Hospital.

A lifetime resident of Baltimore, Mrs. Jones was active in civic affairs and a worker in the McKeldin Republican Women's Club.

SHE BELONGED to Union Memorial Methodist Church all of her life. It was there she was married to the late Gilbert Jones.

He was the tailor who died just five months ago, (August, 1966).

For a number of years, she was the director of the Bible School and Sunday School superintendent.

Mrs. Jones was a longtime member of the Great Southern Temple of Elks, belonged to Lodge No. 1, Order of Job, and the Bryant Ave. Neighborhood Association.

Funeral services were held at the church on Wednesday. Burial was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

A daughter, Mrs. India J. Williams, a Baltimore teacher, survives.

SEPARATED BY DEATH — Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Owens, pictured at the April 1965 reception when they observed their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Owens (Theodosia), vice principal, Fleming School, Turner Station, died unexpectedly on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Theodosia Owens funeral on Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday 11 a.m. at Ames Methodist Church, Cárey and Baker Sts. for Mrs. Theodosia Owens, 58, 3701 Egerton Rd.

Mrs. Owens became suddenly ill at home. Her husband rushed her to Sinai Hospital, where she was pronounced dead shortly afterwards.

Mrs. Owens had been principal of Fleming Elementary School in Baltimore County for five years. Before her promotion, she was a first grade teacher for twenty-four years at Fleming Elementary School.

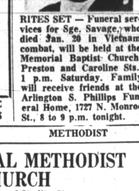
* * *

BORN IN Deal Island, Md., she was the daughter of the late Frank and Mamie Waters Parker.

She was a member of Ames Methodist Church for 25 years. A member of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority and a member of Bocate Social Club.

Survivors include her husband Marcellus Maurice Owens; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Ammons, of Baltimore; two sisters Mrs. Margaret Harris and Miss Naomi Parker, of Deal Island; and one granddaughter.

The body will lie in state at the church on Friday evening. Burial will be in Arbutus Memorial Park. The Kelson Funeral Home is handling arrangements.



RITES SET — Funeral services for Sgt. Savage, who died Jan. 20 in Vietnam combat, will be held at the Memorial Baptist Church, Preston and Caroline Sts., 9 a.m. Saturday. Family will receive friends at the Arlington S. Phillips Funeral Home, 1727 N. Monroe St., 8 to 9 p.m. tonight.

BIRCHE FUNERAL — Funeral Director Herbert Nutter (left) and assistant lead William Meredith H. Birche Jr., Baltimore music teacher and sister, Mrs. Estellena Showes of Cleveland, from Providence Baptist Church Friday following services for their mother, Mrs. Eula Mathile Nutt Birche.

Rev. Wicks retired at Morning Star

Marion L. Harris, chairman of the Trustee Board of Morning Star Baptist Church, told the AFRO this week that the pulpit will be vacant after Feb. 1.

He stated that the pastor the past 15 years, the Rev. Vincent H. Wicks, 60, will officially be retired on Feb. 1.

According to Mr. Harris, the action of the church was taken Wednesday night at the Winter Bi - Annual Meeting held at the church.

Located at 1063 W. Fayette St., Morning Star has a congregation of more than 2,000 members and is one of Baltimore's oldest and largest.

* * *

UNTIL A new pastor is elected, the Deacons Board will take over the pulpit Mr. Harris said. Andrew Minnis is chairman of the Deacon Board.

The AFRO was unable to talk to the Rev. Mr. Wicks. His wife told the AFRO on Thursday afternoon "He has no statement at present. That will come later."

"He was given a leave of absence Oct. 1 and it was extended up to now. He hasn't been well enough to return.

"He is still the pastor until Feb. 1 and will receive his regular salary. He will pick up his retirement after Feb. 1."

'Pinky' Clark's mother dies

ORANGE, N. J. — Mrs. Anna P. Clark, mother of Baltimore (Md) recreation supervisor Daniel (Pinky) Clark, died here Thursday morning at the Orange Memorial Hospital.

She had been hospitalized for little over a week.

A native and longtime resident of New Jersey, Mrs. Clark lived at 316 Halstead St. in East Orange. Her body is at the Woody Funeral Home, 163 Oakwood St., this city, pending funeral arrangements.

In addition to her son, a former football, basketball and track star at Morgan State College, Mrs. Clark is survived by three grandchildren.

Are you troubled, worried, distressed? Have you problems for which there seems no solution?

"HAVE FAITH IN GOD"

For these and other problems for salvation and deliverance, for relief from the fears and horrors which lurk in the dark shadows of our troubled world, we invite you to hear Evangelist I. C. BONNER, dynamic well seasoned, Holy Ghost messenger from St. Louis, Mo.

This dedicated woman has a message for these troubled times. A message of deliverance and of comfort for the total person, body, mind and spirit.

—Welfare fraud

[illegible] has received similar penalties, jail term suspended in favor of a fine nearly equal to the amount charged and a term of probation.

Judge Joseph G. Finnerty, [illegible] warned that failure to [illegible] the lines during the period of probation would result in immediate stirling of the word "suspended" in connection with the jail term.

* * *

TUESDAY MORNING one man, without counsel, received a preliminary hearing and his case was sent to the grand jury, while six women requested attorneys.

Judge Finnerty advised each defendant of the right to be represented by counsel and right to jury trial.

Three women asked for court-appointed counsel. Two sought to employ their own lawyers, and one asked for postponement so her lawyer could be present.

Three of the cases have been postponed for next Tuesday, Jan. 31, and two for Feb. 7.

The session Tuesday morning was observed by several members of the Rescuers from Poverty, a welfare clients' group of U - JOIN.

Mrs. Margaret McCarty, president, said the group wanted to let those accused of fraud know that they need lawyers to defend them.

She said the group would work to obtain counsel for those who wished the Rescuers' help.

"BEGINNING NEXT Tuesday, we will hand out leaflets outside the court about how people can get counsel," the civil rights worker asserted.

"These are mostly people that are so beaten down by the system, they don't know they have rights," she continued.

"We want to show them they have people behind them.

"These people can hardly make it as it is," Mrs. McCarty observed. "And if they can't pay the fines, they will go right to jail."

The group is represented by attorney Gerald Smith, she said, and is working to sign more lawyers for the welfare cases.

* * *

THE METHOD of handling welfare cases in one municipal court on Tuesdays and Thursdays was worked out by the state's attorney, Welfare Department and judges.

Richard Donadio, assistant state's attorney, is main prosecutor for the cases which have been investigated, numbering about 100 present, he said.

Two other assistant state's attorney, Lawrence Wedeman, filled in for him.

Previously all cases had to be taken to Criminal Court.

Under the new method cases of alleged fraud involving aid to families with dependent children and amounting to less than $500 are tried in Municipal Court with jurisdiction from code Article 88A, Section 59.

Over $500, these cases receive preliminary hearing for Criminal Court.

In other categories of welfare, cases involving over $100 receive preliminary hearing for Criminal Court under Article 27, Section 140.

* * *

FIVE OF the cases Tuesday — ranging from $168.66 to $448 — involved aid to families with dependent children.

The only man prosecuted Tuesday, Leonard Aldridge, of the 2200 block N. Howard St., was charged with fraud of $468.50 under Article 27, and was held for the grand jury after preliminary hearing.

Judge Finnerty strongly advised him to obtain legal counsel if he is indicted for Criminal Court trial, and released him on his own recognizance as he did the six women.

One woman, Mrs. Shirley Stokes, 35, 900 block N. Fulton Ave., asked for court-appointed counsel midway in her trial, and the judge consented — reluctantly after postponing the case for two weeks for more investigation "to be fair to both the state and this woman."

She is charged with fraud amounting to $448.

The Rescuers from Poverty, seeking added rights for welfare clients, has also announced its intention to picket the legislature in Annapolis Friday (today) for "a realistic welfare budget."

The group expects 60 to 70 demonstrators to be on hand.

Requests for speaking time will be received by mail or phone in the office of William Pinderhughes, administrative assistant, 3 E. 25th St., Baltimore, Md. 21218; HOpkins 7 - 4000, extension 814.

The School Board will take final action on the budget before its submission to the city at its regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 2.

Cooling trend

that brought us the Great Blizzard of 1966 that plumped down more snow than ever in living memory.

Remember these dates a year ago? Jan 26-6.9 inches snow-high, 25 degrees; low 20 degrees; Jan. 29 9.1 inches more snow-high 15 degrees; low, one degree. Jan. 30-3 more inches snow-high 16 degrees; low 12 degrees.

AND, WITH all the Eastern Seaboard in deep shock, there was no hope of spring.

February, 1966 also "messed up" predictions to remain sub-freezing and below normal until Feb. 7 when a warming trend peeped through with 34 degrees high and 8 degrees low temperatures.

A touch of spring came Feb. 6 with 64 degrees high and 26 degrees low temperatures.

BUT on Valentines Day when normally the Weather man is able to say, "It's over", the thermometer plunged to sub-freezing. Before nightfall nearly two inches of snow fell and hung around for days.

Words of meditation

You can see and hear
To accept human beings as they are—not yearn for perfect creatures;
To recognize ability — and encourage it
To understand shortcomings
—and make allowance for them;
To work patiently for improvement — and not expect too much too quickly;
To appreciate what people
do right —not just criticize what they do wrong;
To be slow to anger and hard to discourage;
To have the hide of an elephant and the patience of Job;
In short, Lord, please help me to be a better person.

WORDS OF WEEK

Remember not only to say the right thing in the right place, but, far more difficult still, to leave unsaid the wrong thing at the tempting moment.

A prayer for the week

To Thee, dear Lord, I offer up
The little things of life
The daily cares, the vexing tasks
Encountered in the strife.
For me they mean perfection,
Which Thy eye alone can see,
And the hidden life means union
'Twixt my Heavenly Spouse
and me.
May I thus toil on, unnoticed
Till the Bridegroom cometh near;
Till I wake to Heaven's splendor,
And His words of welcome hear: —
"Come, My Spouse, My
Dove, My Loved One,
Enter into happiness,
Eternal joy shall be thy portion,
Naught but bliss thy soul possess."

Jamboree slated

The senior citizens of Harlem Park Recreation Center, Calhoun near Harlem, will have a free jamboree that includes dancing, on Feb. 16 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Refreshments will be on sale and there will be a white elephant sale.

Mrs. Lillie Gant is president.

Select young women were invited to the dance on the first floor.

Along with their elders they moved to the second floor where fancy ices, chicken salad, Smithfield ham and famous Maryland biscuits were served.

Do you remember this? If so, you may recall that among interested sponsors was Father Charles Uncles, one of the first ordained Catholic priests, and a native Baltimorean.

And, you will remember that among Half Century Club members were Dr. William Wright, John Wheeler, Ashble Hawkins, Dr. R. Garland Chissell, all now deceased.

ment in Rape Cases."

The research material seemed to reveal a double standard of justice exists as to race in Maryland.

According to the latest information, Mr. Howard's revelation of the facts has been referred to the Committee on Grievances of the Baltimore Bar Association. His actions come under "Ethics," the AFRO was told.

Members of the committee the AFRO was able to contact this week said as far as they know no action has been taken.

The committee is composed of local attorneys, Jack Medweleff, chairman; James D. Peacock, vice-chairman; Hurley Cox, secretary and members, John R. Hargrove, Sol C. Berenholtz, Eugene M. Feinblatt, Phillips L. Goldsborough III, Martin B. Greenfield, Leonard Harmatz, Risque W. Plummer, Thomas Waxter, Jr., Joseph H. Young.

A PARAGRAPH from the Bar Association's Canons of Professional Ethics on "The Duty of the Lawyer to the Courts" reads:

"It is the duty of the lawyer to maintain towards the Courts a respectful attitude, not for the sake of the temporary incumbent of the judicial office, but for the maintenance of its supreme importance.

"Judges, not being wholly free to defend themselves, are peculiarly entitled to receive the support of the Bar against unjust criticism and clamor.

"Whenever there is proper ground for serious complaint of a judicial officer, it is the right and duty of the lawyer to submit his grievances to the proper authorities.

"In such cases, but not otherwise, such charges should be encouraged and the person making them should be protected."

At 10, Vivian Canty faces another crisis

The 30 - odd children sang "Happy Birthday dear Vivian." Everyone was happy. The party was a success.

Vivian Canty was ten years old Jan. 11. The party was the Saturday after at the 714 N. Payson St. home of Mrs. Rebecca Canty.

At the height of the childish merriment, Vivian told her mother: "On my next birthday I may be living with my Jesus."

Mrs. Canty burst into tears and rushed from the room. Other grown - ups who heard and knew did the same thing.

They knew that doctors at Johns Hopkins say that Vivian has a brain tumor; that it is getting bigger all the time.

Vivian, a third grader at School 138, has frequent headaches.

Mrs. Canty has been told an operation is the only chance for her only daughter. Even then. . .

"THERE IS nothing else I see to do but go on with it and pray," the worried mother told the AFRO.

"I trusted Him when she was four - and - a - half years, that's all I can do now.

"I ask all our friends and well - wishers to pray for Vivian," Mrs. Canty added tearfully.

Vivian is due at Johns Hopkins on Feb. 9. It is then the date will be set for the brain operation.

THIS WILL be Vivian's second brush with hospitals. She was born in University Hospital and for four years was an apparently normal child.

While the family was living in Miami, Fla., more than five years ago, she began to have troubles.

Mrs. Canty said the child began to sleep all the time. She couldn't keep her food down.

Examinations by doctors there revealed serious brain disorders.

An immediate operation was recommended with a 50-50 chance given.

The little patient entered Jackson Memorial Hospital weighing 47 pounds.

In a few months she was down to 19 pounds.

"The doctors gave up hope," Mrs. Canty said, "but I just prayed."

VIVIAN WAS discharged a few months later. Doctors reported they were unable to locate the tumor.

Other measures had been taken to relieve pressure on the child's brain.

Vivian recovered and was able to resume nearly normal activities. The family returned to Baltimore.

Vivian was registered at Hopkins Hospital for regular follow - up examinations.

Meanwhile she entered school and continued to progress.

Her weight regained-now 99 pounds—Vivian fared well in her studies and loves to attend Sunday school at Wayland Baptist Church.

She likes to sew and clean up house. She also likes dolls.

She plays and gets along well with her brothers; Ellis, 8, and Alphonso, 6.

"Everyone just loves her, she is such a lovely child," Vivian's mother said.

AND SO it was the people

VIVIAN AND MOTHER, MRS. REBECCA CANTY

got together and gave a party for Vivian's tenth birthday.

"I could not have afforded it myself," Mrs. Canty told us. "They furnished almost everything and we had 31 children."

And what was Vivian's birthday wish?

"For Mama to be able to rent a big house so I can have a room of my own."

The family of four lives in a three - room first floor apartment.

Mrs. Canty agrees they do need more space. But there are other pressing problems, too.

"I FIND it hard to keep her in clothes on my income." the mother commented. "Her things are so expensive."

She explained that Vivian requires mostly size 14 clothes instead of children's sizes.

Because of some upset or imbalance in her glandular system, Vivian, nearly three years
