Zetas mark 47th year hear Mrs. E. Cutlar

Tau chapter (Alpha Zeta) of Zeta Phi Beta marked the 47th anniversary of the sorority with an elaborate and colorful banquet and program, Saturday.

Two founders, Mrs. Arizona Cleaver Stemmons of Philadelphia and Mrs. Myrtle Tyler Faithful of Flushing, Ohio, were here for the affair.

• • •

THE BANQUET speaker was Mrs. Eleanor B. Cutlar, bellwether of the St. Albans, N.Y., chapter, lecturer, TV panelist, clinical reading specialist and co-author of "A Reading Manual for Teachers."

Tracing the emergence of colored women from the 1600's when they were brought to America from Africa, to the leaders of the current era, Mrs. Cutlar told the group:

"Now that the torch has been lighted and the flame is aglow, the challenge to women who have been privileged to be educated and to be organized is to bear the obligations of mobilizing task forces for action in community development.

• • •

THE HISTORY of the sorority was strikingly dramatized by means of a lifesized book, written in verse and illustrated by Soror Ruth M. Cleaver. The dramatic readings were done by Sorors Althea Cornish, Katharine O. Johnson and Ruth M. Cleaver, against a background of organ music played and taped by Delmar Milbourne.

• • •

THE NEW chapter basileus, Soror Catherine Neal, welcomed the group, and served as toast mistress. Invocation was by Mrs. Cornish, Soror Catherine Neal sang "These Are They," an area dedicated to the five founders of Zeta, affectionately known as "the five founding pearls." Mrs. Cutlar was introduced by Soror Mary Hurt.

Soror Hazel Phillips provided the occasional music, and there were also instrumental selections by Soror Vivian Purviance. Telegrams came from Sorors Pearl Neal of North Carolina, Fannie Watts of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Viola Goines of Springfield, Ohio, the other founders of Zeta.

• • •

SPECIAL CITATIONS went to Sorors Catherine Banks Dixon for donating and sending 100 books to the sorority's school in Africa; to Soror Mary Hurt for promoting the African project locally; Soror Ruth Cleaver, past regional director and current regional historian;

Also to Soror Angie McClain, for ways and means projects, and Sorors Iolene Crowner, Katharine O. Johnson and Reva Lewie.

There were also gifts for the speaker and founders.

• • •

SORORS, other than already mentioned, who attended the celebration, included:

Sorors Elizabeth Demby, Emma Dudley, Sandra East, May Fortune, Mary Horsey, Geraldine Powell, Naomi Smith.

Sorors Mary J. Taylor, Lillian Webb, Ethel Hall, Annie Moreland, Fessey Valentine, Mary C. Smith, Mamie Williams, Precious Williams, Roberta Clark.

Sorors Pittsburgh Purviance, Eva Robinson, Georgia Howell, Arlene Kirkwood, Ann Hall, Carrie D. Jackson, Alberta Alston, Ruth Russell.

Sorors Octavia Jones, Eva Dowd.

Missionary to speak here

Miss Lela M. Johnston, Congo missionary of the Methodist Church in Korea who, recently returned for a year's furlough, will be guest speaker at two "coffees" in the Baltimore area on January 27 and 29.

The first sponsored by the Baltimore Northeast District of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, is on January 27, at 1:30 p.m., at Timonium Methodist Church, Pot Springs and Chantery Roads, Timonium, Md.

THE SECOND is set for Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, at 12 noon on January 29. Dr. Norman W. Clemens is pastor.

A native of Illinois and a graduate of the University of Illinois, Miss Johnson served as a physical therapist at Severance (Methodist) Hospital in Seoul, Korea.

Before entering missionary service, she was a practicing physical therapist in Nebraska and Maryland.

Her missionary service has been sponsored by the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church.

Go - Go girls in Mohawk Revue

Go-Go Girls and the Mohawk Supremes will highlight the YMCA Camp Mohawk Mothers' Club reunion program.

It will be held at 3 p.m., Feb 5, at the Lemmel Junior High School.

Mrs. Mamie Jones, chairman of the reunion announced this week that participants will be campers who attend the YMCA's resident summer camp in Huntingtown, Md.

The reunion is open to the public, free of charge.

• • •

IN ADDITION to the Go-Go Girls and the Mohawk Supremes, other participants in the talent revue will include Miss Vashti Smith, who will give a monologue; and Wilbur Gray, who will play the bonges.

There will also be special awards to 1965 campers by Milton Dugger Sr., a member of the Mohawk Camp Committee.

Leroy Coles Jr., former camp assistant director, will lead group singing.

Edward Clapp is the camp's new director. He succeeds A. P. Moss, who was recently promoted to associate general secretary of the Baltimore Y in charge of all camping activities.

Mrs. Margaret Ross is president of the Mohawk Mothers' Club.

Children's Theatre couse, workshop set

By ADAH K JENKINS

"Creative Drama — an Educational Tool" is the subject of a course to be offered by the Children's Theatre Association on Thursday evenings, beginning Feb. 2, from 7:30 to 10:00 at the CTA scene shop, 618 Piey Street.

A campaign workshop in "Practical Stagecraft" will be offered on Tuesday evenings, beginning Feb. 7, at the same location, where materials and tools for a practical approach to stagecraft will be available.

Mrs. Isabel B. Burger, the instructor, will give practical, step-by-step explanations and demonstrations of the how's and why's of drama, from simple pantomime to formal play production.

The companion workshop is designed to give drama advisors, working with volunteer help and limited budgets, practical solutions to their many problems. The instructor will be Donald Bailey, formerly art instructor at Western Maryland and a specialist in design for the educational theatre.

Mrs. Burger, the founder of Children's Theatre and the author of "Creative Play Acting" (re-vised and reissued this year), is internationally recognized in the field of drama for children. She has lectured in Europe, the Middle East and at 10 different American Universities.

• • •

THE COURSES are open to teachers, camp counselors, recreation leaders and any other interested youth advisors. Tuition is $15 and for both $25, with special rates for students.

Registrations or inquiries should be directed to The Children's Theatre Association, 5 E. Centre St., 21202.
