Sorors Violet Banks, Pearl Cole Brackett, Martha Gover Bradford, Joan Cole, Ellen Fisher, Ethel Hucles, Muriel Jenkins, Helen King, Dorothy Coleman Lymas, Ruth Lighston, Charlotte Mebane, Christine Moore, Constance Murphy, Vashti Murphy.

Sorors Lydia Mussenden, Sanoma Nixon, Mae Wright Peck, Etta Burwell Phifer, Ida Murphy Smith, Lelia Browne, Lucille Venture, Celonia Walden, Vivian Washington, Dukye Wood, and Meta Redden Young.

Indicates all bids may be thrown out

JACKSON, Tenn. — Commerce Construction Co. of Nashville was low bidder at $790,334 for construction of a new men's residence hall at Lane College.

The bid was $90,334 above a $700,000 federal urban development department grant for the dormitory, and school officials indicated all the bids might be thrown out.

Mark Stansbury, public relations director, said school officials indicated they would make modifications in the specifications and re-bid the job. He said new bids will have to be offered within 30 days.

MT. WINANS NEWS

9th grade singer praised by writer

By GERTRUDE M. PARKER

At the Gwynns Falls Parkway Junior High School annual concert, Serteria Harris, 9th grade student, was featured in singing.

Quoting Mrs. Adah Jenkins in Musical Moments, Serteria has a soprano voice of promising timbre and depth.

She is receiving special training from Robert Earl Anderson. Serteria is a member of the Youth Choir of Mt. Winans Methodist Church and daughter of Mrs. Shirley Harris of Hollinsferry Road.

Sp4 Grant Burley Jr. of the First Field Force USA has been serving in Vietnam since July last year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Burley of Puget Street.

Mrs. Evelyn Levi of Hollinsferry Road served on the Federal Jury last week.

The Rev. William E. Brown, minister of Mt. Winans Methodist Church, will be among the ministers attending the pastor's retreat at Buck Hill Falls, Pa. this week.

UNION SERVICES of the churches in this area will be held this Sunday, Jan. 29 at the Mt. Winans First Baptist Church. The Rev. William E. Brown of the Mt. Winans Methodist Church will deliver the sermon.

Combined choirs will render the music. Other ministers participating are the Rev. Roland Johnson, the Rev. W. K. Woods and the Rev. Stewart Turner, host minister.

Mrs. Eleanore Hawkins, formerly of Mt. Winans, died in Chicago. Funeral services were held on Monday. Surviving relatives: Mrs. Hazel Anderson, niece; Clarence Ware, nephew, of Chicago; Mrs. Mary Howard, Mrs. Doris Watkins, nieces of Baltimore and Mr. Lawson Ware, of Cedar Hill.

FEB. 2

Two films evoking the patriotic mood of February occasioned by the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln will be shown at the Catonsville Branch of the Baltimore County Public Library, 1100 Frederick Rd. at 7:30 p.m. They are "Washington, D.C.: Capitol City USA," and "The Face of Lincoln." Both are free.

AA NAACP installs its new officers

The new administrative year has officially begun for the Anne Arundel County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Newly elected officers were installed at the Branch's recent Board meeting.

Taking the oath of office were Samuel Gilmer, president; Spencer Coleman, 1st vice - president; Floyd Downs, 2nd vice - president; Audrey Goldsborough, recording secretary; Betty Chew, corresponding secretary, and Ethel Wilson, treasurer.

Mr. Gilmer outlined plans for the coming year and announced committee assignments.

Chairing the various standing committees will be Walter Blasingame, education; Dallas Pace, political action; Spencer Coleman, press and publicity; Samuel Callahan, level redress; J. B. Johnson, labor and industry; and Dorothy Hunt, membership.

Also Lula Unchurch, community coordination; Eddie Mitchell, veterans; the Rev. Wesley Nash, church work; Robert Green, recreation; Helen Gilmer, fund raising and Willie McManus, housing.

• • •

WALTER BLASINGAME reported to the branch as delegate to the recent annual Board meeting of the national organization in New York City. The Maryland state NAACP sponsored his trip because the local branch took 2nd place among Maryland branches during the recent membership drive.

During the two - month membership campaign, the Anne Aundel County NAACP signed up 263 new or renewal members. Taking individual honors in the branch was Ira Thompson of Shadyside, who alone recruited 79 members.

Centennial registry published at Morgan

A 94 - page college registry, called the Centennial Roster, was released today by the Morgan State College Class of 1967.

The book, which is a complete directory of students enrolled now, faculty and staff, is a project of the Centennial Class of which Haywood Harrison is advisor.

The directory, which is the first of its kind in the college's 100-year history, gives the area of study of each student, classification, home address and phone number of each member of the college community.

Miss Sheila D. Gross was chairman of the directory committee. Members are: Misses Michele Michael, Beverly Kyler, Beverly Umphery, Joan Ruff, Kathy Caine, Willie Lanier; Leslie Boyd and George Reed.

The books are available in the Student Government office in the McKeldin Student Union.
