MR. AND MRS. STEVEN H. WAINWRIGHT were marrie in Baltimore, Saturday The bride is the forcer Miss Carolyn Ann Doton.

Miss Carolyn Dotson, Mr. Wainwright wed

Miss Carolyn Ann Dotson and Steven Henry Wainwright were married in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson of Lynchester Road, Saturday.

The Rev. Marion C. Bascom performed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Charles E. Dotson and the late Mrs. Elsie T. Dotson, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a street-length white A-line crepe dress, which featured triangular sleeves bordered with rhinestone, pearls and crystals.

Her headdress, designed by the bride and made by Mrs. Nell Sheridan, was a ugh bouffant bubble caught at the front with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a hugh nosegay of white carnations.

• • •

MISS DEBORAH WAINWRIGHT, sister of the bridegroom, was the sole attendant. Her dress, similar in design to that of the bride, was in pink eyelet with satin trim around the cuffs and hem.

Russell Allen was best man.

• •

MRS. WAINWRIGHT, who made her debut at a Me-De-So Cotillion is a former "Miss Beaux Art," and a talented model.

A graduate of Morgan State College, she is currently a child social worker with the Department of Public Welfare.

Mr. Wainwright attended Baltimore Junior College. He is a mail clerk with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Mr. Wainwright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eccleston Wainwright of this city.

The newlyweds are at home at 4710 Wakefield Road.

Also two thinly sliced green onions, a half cup pitted sliced ripe olives, a cup of cubed Swiss Cheese, salad greens and two hard cooked eggs.

'Inner-city woes could wreck nation'—McKeldin

Problems of the inner-city must be solved, or the troubles of the city can tear this nation asunder, Mayor Theodore McKeldin said Saturday night.

Speaking at the testimonial dinner in honor of Bishop James I. Doswell, the Mayor told 700 guests that he would rather be mayor of Baltimore than governor of Maryland. The greater challenge lay in city government, he said.

• • •

POINTING TO the dwindling population of Baltimore City and the influx of needy from the South and Appalachia, Mr. McKeldin said that he welcomed these people.

"Thank God that these with no skills and no means who have come to the city. Here under welfare they can have food and shelter. These are those for whom Christ died, and I am proud to stand up and fight in their behalf," Mayor McKeldin added.

COUNCILMAN HENRY G. PARKS, also a speaker at the testimonial, told the group that City Council needs big changes. "We can do this if we take steps in the right direction. We are tired of crumbs. We need to open jobs," said he.

The affair marked the induction of the Rt. Rev. Doswell as bishop of the Central Jurisdiction of Maryland of the Church of God in Christ.

• • •

BISHOP DOSWELL, a native of Norfolk, Va., founded St. James Church of God in Christ, this city, in 1940. The church has since been named Doswell Temple and is still pastored by the Rev. Mr. Doswell.

He has served as youth president of the church, as district superintendent of the Fifth District of Maryland, as director for the Missions Board, assigned to Puerto Rico and as presiding bishop of Puerto Rico.

• • •

THE EXECUTIVE Board of the Church of God in Christ appointed him to preside over the newly created Central Jurisdiction of Maryland at the 59th Annual International Convention, recently.

Bishop D. Lawrence Williams, chairman of the Board of Bishops, officially announced the appointment at the banquet.

Pointing out that the Church of God in Christ was the first interracial religious group in the nation, Bishop Williams pointed to the growth throughout the nation.

There are, said he, 1600 churches in Texas; 250 in Los Angeles, 210 in New York City; 192 in Chicago and 92 in Philadelphia.

The chairman stressed the tenets of the church, which decries divorce, riots and the use of tobacco and alcohol.

Gifts, including a trophy, communion set and radio, were made to Bishop Doswell. A plaque and red roses went to Mrs. Doswell.

• • •

FRANK J. ELLIS, chairman of the banquet committee, presided.

Background music was by David Dobson, and a chorus, under direction of Kenneth Laws, sang. Mr. Laws accompanied the singers on the organ.

Mrs. Leola Owens was secretary of the dinner committee; Herbert Williams was treasurer; Mrs. Nettie Higgins, reservations; Mrs. Sheila Hawthorne, arrangements; the Rev. James Dyett, program; and Miss Barbara Byrd, gifts.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS also included:

Mrs. Cora Thomas, John Varnerm, Walter Byrd Jr., Mrs. Frances Taylor, Mrs. Ruby Porter, Mrs. Virginia Cheatam; Mrs. Virgie Harris, Mrs. Rebecca Augustus, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. Deborah Younger, Ulysses Lundy; Miss Viola Johnson, Mrs. Crystabelle Wyatt, George Fleming and Mrs. Clara Ratcliff.
