Hope for 4 of quints runs high

NEW YORK —(UPI) — A team of doctors this week fought to keep alive four infants, survivors of quintuplets born to the wife of a $5,500-a-year postal worker in a Brooklyn hospital. One was stillborn.

The quintuplets were born Wednesday night about a month prematurely at the Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn. One of the girls was born dead.

The four were immediately placed under intensive care in incubators. All were reported in fair condition, but a physician said the boy had the best chance of surviving.

* * *

A HOSPITAL source said the mother, Mrs. Jeanne Harris, a 31-year-old registered nurse, was administered a new fertility drug prior to pregnancy. The couple, married five years, had been childless.

Dr. Barry Kaminsky, one of six doctors attending the mother and infants, said Mrs. Harris was "doing fine."

The quints were born within 14 minutes of each other and weighed: A boy, 4 pounds 1 ounce, born at 8:07 p.m.; B, a girl, 3 pounds 9 ounces, 8:14 p.m.; a girl, 3 pounds 1 ounce, 8:18 p.m.; D, a girl, 2 pounds 10 ounces, 8:19 p.m., and E, the stillborn girl, 8:21 p.m.

SHORTLY AFTER the births were announced, Dr. Kaminsky was asked what were the chances for survival.

"It's hard to say," he replied. "The greater the weight, the better the chance."

He said the delivery room had been set up for triplets with a team of six doctors and six nurses attending the mother.

Mrs. Harris was under sedation during the delivery but "awake and aware of what was going on," Kaminsky added. "She experienced no pain."

AS EACH CHILD was born, he said, another team went to work.

"We're pretty excited about it," Kaminsky said. "It's the first time for any of us."

Another physician seemed perplexed.

"We're going to have to check the X-rays to se what went wrong," he said. "We were expecting triplets and we got quints."

The father, also 31 years old, works as a $106-a-week postal clerk. Both parents natives of Panama.

* * *

THE MOST RECENT quintuplet birth in the United States occurred at Pittsburgh last Nov. 26 when Mrs. Patti Aranson, 22, late birth to five girls. The Aranson quintuplets were two and and died within six days after and one - half months prematurer delicery.

Liuzzo case in appeals court

NEW ORLEANS (NPI) — the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has taken the case of the alleged participants in the Liuzzo slaying under advisement. Mrs. Liuzzo was the woman slain while she was ferrying civil rights workers between Selma and Birmingham in 1965.

Two white men, Collie Leroy Wilkins and Eugene Thomas, were acquitted on a state murder charge but were convicted on a federal charge alleging them to have conspired to violate Mrs. Liuzzo's civil rights.

The men were given sentences of 10 years and they were in court in New Orleans on an appeal. Thomas was also in court on appeal from a conviction on charges of carrying a sawed-off shotgun in his car.

YOUNG MAN identified by police as Iarence Gray is lifted into ambulance after being shot in chest and left leg Tuesday afternoon shortly after three youths sought to steal an electric saw from a car. Western District Patrolmen James Dixon and Junior Chambers said the shooting took place in 1600 block Calhoun after a suspect sought to escape after being taken into custody. Gray is still in hospital.

Baltimore visitors at Annapolis Y event

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

ANNAPOLIS — "The YMCA instills into youth the noblest of thoughts — thoughts which appeal to the best that is within them and challenges them to the highest possible peak of human achievement," said the Rev. Leroy Bowman, when he spoke at the program commemorating National YMCA Week on Sunday at St. John's College.

The Rev. Mr. Bowman, minister of the First Baptist Church, and president of the United Missionary Convention of Maryland, was discussing one aspect of the triangular symbols of the YMCA, the spirit.

"WQTH ITS STANDARD "With its standard and 'triangle' unfurled, the YMCA, in concert with other noble organizations, institutionalizes and personalizes thought as lived and taught and enjoined by Jesus — thought that is healing, encouraging, which motivates and sustains dedicated and daring action," the Rev. Bowman added.

* * *

ANOTHER speaker, Raymond Swartz, associate professor of the U.S. Naval Academy, brought on thinking in reference to another aspect of the symbol, the body.

"What makes the YMCA program important in the United States is its concept of the complete individual — the mind, body and spirit," Swartz stated.

Dr. Vernon Stone, head of the Department of Business Education at Maryland State College, told of the third concept, the mind.

He stated that learning to develop the mind for wisdom is of great importance, and that this is done by considering patterns for mental development.

"The YMCA is the fountain of youth. It feeds the body, mind and spirit of both the youth and adult," Dr. Stone further stated.

* * *

THE ANNAPOLIS Choral Society, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Ressler, sang. Mrs. Henrietta Jenkins, Baltimore, was soloist.

Platform guests and other participants included:

Capt. Edgar Maltby, Dean of the faculty of the U.S. Naval Academy, master of ceremonies; Oscar Ervin Bergendorf, Jr., branch and deputy director of the Annapolis Branch YMCA; Chester Harriman, program chairman;

Also the Rev. Paul Economies, pastor of the St. Constantine and Helen the Greek Orthodox Church; the Rev. G. Holmes Mendelman, St. Paul Lutheran; the Rev. Charles I. Wallace, Calvary Methodist; the Rev. Wesley B. Nash, Mt. Moriah AME;

Also, the Rev. John E. Taylor, vicar of St. Philip's Episcopal Church; Howard E. Nelson, program director of the County YMCA Board; James E. Boardley, Dr. J. S. Kiefer, dean of St. John's College, and the Rev. Winslow D. Shaw, First Presbyterian Church.

* * *

MRS. PAULINE BUTLER presented several baskets of cut flowers to the nursing homes and hospitals from Ancient City Lodge No. 175 of Elks and the Ancient City Lodge Sport Club; the Elks' Pride of Annapolis, Temple No. 76 and the Temple Sport Club; the Cooke-Pinkney Post No. 141 of the American Legion and the Ladies Auxiliary.

Howard E. Nelson is program director of the YMCA for community and club programs.

Widow paid $33,000 by Powell

NEW YORK (UPI) —Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, through an attorney, gave a check for $32,500 to Mrs. Esther James Tuesday as part payment of the defamation judgment he owes the Harlem woman.

The check, made out to Powell by Jubilee Records, was first refused by Mrs. James' lawyer, Raymond Rubin, who insisted a check for the amount should be payable to him and his client. He accepted another check making them the payees.

Steve Blaine, president of the record company, said it represented advance royalties on Powell's new recording, "Keep the Faith, Baby," which was released Monday.

The total amount of damages against Powell, including interest, is approximately $164,000 although a court decision on the exact figure is still pending.

Powell was sued more than three years ago by Mrs. James, who claimed she was libeled when the Congressman called her a graft collector for police during a television program.

Miss Rush, former dean

ATLANTA (UPI)—Funeral services were held here at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday for Miss Ruth Gwendolyn Rush, a member of the faculty of North Carolina College at Durham, N.C. for 38 years.

Miss Rush died Sunday following several months of illness.

She resigned as Dean of Women at NCC in 1953 to become Dean of Students at Spellman College in Atlanta. She retired from that post in 1958.

Judge suggests weapons checks after students say they're seen at school

By ROGER J. NISSLY

"A thorough check ought to be made of this kind of a situation."

That was the reaction Thursday morning of a Municipal Court judge to a stabbing incident that took place earlier in the week at Forest Park High School.

Judge Albert H. Blum, sitting in Northwestern Municipal Court, described the weapon confiscated in the case as a sort of "Far Eastern letter opener that had been sharpened down, with a six or seven inch blade."

The judge expressed his surprise and made the warning after testimony showed the weapons are often seen around the school and are easily purchased.

IN THE case before Judge Blum, a 16-year-old student at Forest Park had been cut on the right hand in an affair Tuesday during a gym class at the school.

Harry Lewis, 4400 block Woodlawn Ave., was treated for the laceration of the hand at Sinai Hospital and released.

Young Lewis told police he was sitting on a bench during the class, when another student began harassing him and moved toward him suddenly with an object in his hand.

The youth said he attempted to move away, but felt a sharp pain in his right hand.

THE NEXT day a warrant was sworn out for Warren Talbert, 18, 2000 block Bradish Ave., and on Thursday he surrendered himself at the Northwestern Station.

He was charged with assault by cutting.

In the Thursday morning hearing, Judge Blum gave the youth a year's probation without verdict.

The decision was rendered on condition the youth pay court costs and restitution for all medical costs incurred in connection with the injury.

The accused youth contended he was only holding the knife for a friend, and that the cutting was an accident which occurred when the weapon had gotten caught on his trousers.

YOUNG LEWIS, the victim, told the judge that he had seen boys with the weapons before in the school.

The other student, Talbert, offered that, "You can buy them."

Thereupon Judge Blum advised Vice Principal Charles F. Michael, present in court, that an investigation should be made of "this kind of a situation."

The charged youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Talbert, were present in court.

The father was identified as an officer with the Baltimore Police Department but when a reporter attempted to verify the fact, Mrs. Talbert stated, "I don't think that's any of the AFRO's business," and hung up.

Police personnel records showed there is a Warren Talbert, an officer, stationed with the Eastern District.

IRS sends 51,000 refunds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Income tax refund checks totalling $6.6 million are already in the mail to 51,000 taxpayers, Internal Revenue Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen said Tuesday.

Cohen urged other taxpayers to take a leaf from the book of these early filers and get their returns in soon. Returns on 1966 income are due no later than April 17.

But returns filed now can be handled more promptly than those sent in near the April deadline when Internal Revenue offices are swamped, Cohen said.

And taxpayers who wait until the last minute also are likely to make mistakes, he said.

This year, for the first time, every federal tax return is being processed with automatic data processing machines.
