edition.

Rules of the game will also be published along with the coupon.

Although only two teachers can win the exciting week in San Juan, the consolation prizes are generous, to say the least. They are:

Third Place. $100 cash.

Fourth Place. $50 cash.

Fifth to 14th place finishers will receive $10 each.

Now all attention will be focused on March 24, when the decision of the students will determine who goes to San Juan.

Maybe it'll be your favorite teacher, if you hustle.

REWARD

Wife's conflicting testimony convicts husband of robbery

A wife's testimony that contradicted that of her husband in Criminal Court Monday, partially caused his conviction of robbery at a dry cleaning establishment.

Testimony that she and the defendant went to New York on a bus after he escaped from a Frederick County jail in September conflicted with his story that he and she drove to New York in a borrowed automobile.

In addition, the wife said she aunt they stayed with upstate was well - off and in good health while the husband testified his relative was ill health and had financial condition that prevented her from coming to Baltimore to serve as the alibi witness.

The unusual event came when the defendant Calvin E. Lee, 1100 block Poplar Grove St., on trial for armed robbery, appeared before Judge James A. Perrott.

Judge Perrott found Mr. Lee guilty of the armed holdup of two employees of the dry cleaners in the 700 block Washington Blvd., Oct. 18.

According to the Prosecutor, Mr. Lee had escaped from the Frederick County jail and needed funds to get to New York. He was apprehended by the FBI in New York, Oct. 31.

MR. LEE, however, told the court he and his wife left town in the friend's car and stayed from Sept. 28 until the day the FBI caught up with him.

Asked was her husband away from the New York home at any time while they were visiting his aunt, she replied, "No, he stayed in the house most of the time."

The two women employees of the dry cleaning establishment pointed Lee out as the person who robbed the plant, although Lee was purposely placed on the courtroom benches among courtroom spectators.

Judge Perrott said the ability of the two eye witnesses to pick Lee out from the crowd helped convince him that Lee was in town Oct. 18 and committed the robbery.

Imposition of sentence pending Lee's trial on another indictment.

BACK TO CRC — David L. Glenn, for several months now an administrative aide to Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, is returning to the executive directorship of Baltimore's Community Relations Commission with a $12,440 salary. Mr. Glenn headed the agency a few years ago when it was called Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Mayor McKeldin is seeking a replacement for Mr. Glenn.

Release suspect in shooting of two brothers

Police have released one man questioned in connection with the murder of two brothers in an East Baltimore tavern Sunday night.

The brothers, Floyd V. Shaw, 31, 1200 block N. Broadway, and Coy C. Shaw, 23, 800 block N. Broadway, were dead on the scene at Herb's Cafe, Madison and Bond Sts.

Police, who reported five men speed away in a sedan after the incident, have not yet charged anyone and are continuing the investigation.

Rep. Long puts in direct line

A dime and the time? That's all you need to call Congressman Long (D., Md.) in Washington.

If you live in the Baltimore area, you now can telephone direct to Rep. Clarence D. Long in the District of Columbia for the cost of a local call.

The number is 828-5311. You dial it just as you would any other number in metropolitan Baltimore — and at no extra cost—but it rings in Rep. Long's office on Capitol Hill. If you forget the number, look it up in the Baltimore phone book. Rep. Long put in the phone at his expense.

Rep. Long has been informed by the Capitol Hill's representative of the telephone company that the Maryland Congressman is the only one of the 535 members of the House and the Senate who provides such direct phone service for his constituents.

'Arctic Travels' near completion

Publication of "Arctic Travels," authored by Dr. Herbert M. Frisby, arctic explorer, was the topic of interest at the January meeting of the Herbert M. Frisby Historical Society.

The meeting, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Cole, was attended by 25 members who also heard a report on Christmas gifts sent to several Eskimo communities.

Del. Lena K. Lee (D. 4th), president, presided and reported the near completion of Mr. Frisby's account of his numerous journeys to the far north.

Dr. Frisby, AFRO Arctic correspondent, is a retired Douglass High School science teacher.

Supreme Bench Judge Shirley B. Jones, a charter member was among those attending including:

Mesdames Mamie C. Woodford, Mary Spellman, Naomi Camper, Rosa James, Alex Jefferson, Reva Lewis, Louise Turks, Madeline Harden, Kathryn Frisby, and Miss Jessie Perkin.

Also Mesdames Margaret Wilkens, Cedonia Walden, Margaret Ross, and Bernice McDaniels.

Mrs. Alexander Jefferson will host the February meeting.

'Bat Man' gets 14 years in 1963 hold-up

The last of the three men in the "Bat Man" holdup of the Reisterstown Rd. Western Union Office in March, 1963 was sentenced here Wednesday.

Charles "Bat Man" Jordan, 1000 block Baker St., received a total of 14 years in the Penitentiary. Judge James K. Cullen imposed the sentence.

The 31-year old man was found guilty of the crime at the conclusion of the Dec. 9, 1966 trial in Criminal Court.

Jordan who wore a mask and cape during the robbery, had escaped arrest three and a half years. He was apprehended by police in October, 1966.

The two accomplices who received 20 years each in connection with the robbery that netted $128 are:

Franklin Knox, 39, 1400 block Argyle Ave. and Lloyd Hamm, 31, 4100 block Koko Lane who drove the get-away car.

Sen. Brewster to hold consumers meeting here

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster is to meet with representatives of Maryland's major consumer organizations 3 p.m. Monday at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, to discuss consumer legislation under study in Congress.

Sen. Brewster is a member of the Consumer Subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee that is considering several measures designed to protect citizen buyers.

Consumer issues coming before Congress this year include bills to assure truth in lending and credit advertising, and to regulate home repairs, door to door sales, mail order insurance and the sale of hazardous products.

Sen. Brewster has called for an investigation of the country's auto insurance industry, as a result of the findings of Maryland officials who have probed some practices in this state.

He is also co-sponsoring legislation to establish Federal Motor Vehicle Insurance Guaranty Corp., to guarantee payments of claims against insurance companies that go bankrupt.

EXPECTED TO attend the session are representatives of:

The Baltimore Urban League, AFL - CIO, League of Women Voters, the Maryland Credit Union League, Better Business Bureau, Maryland Consumer Council, Federation of Jewish Women's Organizations and the Baltimore Consumer Credit Counseling Service.

The meeting is open to the public.

City Council meets Tuesday

The City Council meets the coming Tuesday at 5 p.m., rather than the usual Monday period due to observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

At 2 p.m. Tuesday, the Council's Judiciary Committee will hold a hearing on the controversial east leg of the proposed east-west expressway, the route from Light to Wolfe St., including the lower end of the Jones Falls expressway.

Youths urged to seek jobs at Center

All youths, 16 through 21, including students, residing in the general Baltimore City area, who are seeking full-time, temporary, part-time or summer employment, are reminded by the Department of Employment Security to register for work with the Baltimore Youth Opportunity Center, 1727 N. Charles St., instead of with the Maryland State Employment Service Division at 1100 N. Eutaw St.

The Baltimore Youth Opportunity Center specializes in assisting young people to find employment. Those 22 and older, are served at the Department's Maryland State Employment Service Division, 1100 N. Eutaw St.

The director of the Maryland State Employment Service, J. Dom Aiken, said, "this 'early bird' approach on the part of young people is not only commendable, but very welcome."

School guidance counselors and other youth service groups in the city area are being urged to remind young people, 16 through 21, that the Center is the place to go to find employment, said J. Dom Aiken, director, Md. State Employment Service.

Mrs. O'Hair continues her legal battle

Mrs. Madeline Murray O'Hair of the church - state separation case and David R. Cohen, director of the local Maryland chapter of her Society of Separationists will ask the Court of Appeals to protect Mrs. O'Hair from arrest for a previous Md. conviction if she temporarily returns to Baltimore from Texas to legally fight the sale of her city residence.

She will appeal the decision rendered last week by Superior Court Judge Charles D. Harris, denying her plea.

The threat of arrest if she voluntarily returns to Baltimore stems from a one-year sentence imposed in 1964 by Judge Joseph Carter, who convicted Mrs. O'Hair in absentia of contempt of court, for violating an order prohibiting her and her son, William Murray, from having any contact with Miss Susan Abramovitz, an aquaintance.

Her parents alleged that Mrs. O'Hair and her son had dissuaded Miss Abramovitz from her Jewish faith.

The civil suit demanding the sale of the property was filed by Leonard J. Kerpelman, former lawyer of Mrs. O'Hare with whom she has since broken ties, in behalf of Mrs. Lena Mays, who formerly lived at the disputed Winford Rd. house, along with Mrs. O'Hair.

Mrs. O'Hair asked the court to find a "conspiracy" and grant her damages of $15,000.

THE ATTORNEY who represented Mrs. O'Hair in her unsuccessful plea for immunity from arrest last week, is James H. Anderson Jr., who also represented Mrs. Aileen Davis recently in her court action charging the Social Security Administration that employs her with practicing racial discrimination.

Mr. Anderson cited Article 27, Section 620 A of the Md. Code, as providing that a person "shall not be subject to arrest in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into the state," if he returns to testify in a current legal dispute.

Counsel for the state claimed that the state refers only to those who return to testify in criminal, not civil matters.

The hearing on whether the property is sold is scheduled for 2 p.m. today (Friday) at the Court House, Fayette and Calvert Sts., Room 226.

ONE TAXPAYER called his local IRS office and asked if he could claim three taverns as exemptions since they depend on him for a living.

Citizens meeting to demand better service of city

A citizens' meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 13, to follow up numerous compaints concerning lack of sufficient sanitation and other services.

Open to people from all areas, the meeting will be held at the United Church of Christ, Dennlyn Road and Liberty Heights Ave., where the Rev. Wendell Phillips is pastor.

"We are out to do something about the lack of service by the Bureau of Sanitation in predominately colored neighborhoods," a spokesman for the group sponsoring the session told the AFRO Wednesday.

"We hope the people will come out and help to get services other than garbage collections for our tax dollars."

Gov. Agnew meets the press Sunday

In the first of a two - part close - up, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew will participate Sunday in his first public news conference since his inauguration during the "Today's News For Today's People," "Maryland News Conference" on Sunday, at 5:00 p.m., on WBAL-TV 11.

Gov. Agnew, who served four years as Baltimore County Executive before stepping into the state's highest position, will discuss many of his newly - formed plans for the Administration of the state government as they affect the people of Maryland.

The second of this two-fold close - up of Gov. Agnew will take place on the presentation of "Mr. Agnew Goes To Annapolis" on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 8:30 p.m. when WBAL - TV unfolds the story of the making of a governor, capturing aspects of family life and the "political world."

DES off Feb. 13

All offices of the Maryland Department of Employment Security will be closed on Monday, Feb 13, to celebrate Lincoln's Birthday, an official State holiday.

However, the Baltimore Youth Opportunity Center, 1727 N. Charles St., will be open in the evening only, from 7 to 9 p.m. for special training program.

Claimants for unemployment insurance benefits who regularly report on Mondays have been notified of an alternate reporting date.
