Use severe weather that took the East Coast by surprise, Mrs. Elizabeth Snow, 1728 N. Bond St., said it was "small" compared to the Blizzard of 1966 that came in January.

Now accustomed to such, she stated she walked eight blocks to work around 6 a.m. and walked home "without too much trouble" that afternoon. Incidently, her children, she says, are referred to as "her three little Snows."

Mrs. Gladys Snow (no relation), 1503 N. Appleton St., told the AFRO she usually goes to work at an oyster packing house near Annapolis at 3:30 a.m. The day of the Big 1967 snow, Tuesday, she stayed home but went in Wednesday morning as usual.

Mrs. Snow is the wife of a contractor, Philip Snow. An oyster shucker 19 years, she is an expert and knows the Lenten season as an Oyster Season in Maryland's seafood history.

About her name, she says most of the jokes come in the summer when folks kid "It's not the time of year for snow."

FOR THE record, snow began falling shortly after dark Monday night and ended Tuesday afternoon with an accumulation of 11 inches and drifts up to two feet, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau at Friendship Airport.

Baltimores more than 190,000 public school pupils were excused from school Tuesday and Wednesday. Most community and social functions were cancelled.

City, State and Federal court closed early Tuesday morning and most agencies and offices let employees off by noon.

Undertakers report they were unable to get to surrounding cemeteries for burials and postponed them until snow removal allowed travel. Graves for Wednesday burials were dug in the morning.

Baltimore National Cemetery had burials at 10:30, 11:15 and 11:45 during Tuesday's snow.

Anticipating bad weather in Winter, government cemeteries have 14 or 15 graves already prepared for burials in advance.

For the blizzard interments, they removed the grave covers and side boards and proceeded in normal fashion.

Two funerals at Baltimore National were cancelled by undertakers who were unable to reach the grounds during the snow.

THE CHARLES R. Law Mortuary held one funeral in the blizzard, that of Thomas, C. Dukes, 221 S. Ballow Ct., longtime Waters AME Church member who died Feb. 3.

The Rev. Melvin Chester Swann presided at the 1 p.m. services at the church.

Law funeral directors returned the body to the funeral home where it remained over night. Burial services were held Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

THE WEATHER this time last year was rainy throughout the week-end with temperatures as high as 47 and as low as 29 degrees.

Snow that fell Feb. 1 and Feb. 2 disappeared as temperatures went to 46 on Feb. 10.

The last snow of February, 1966 was Feb. 24 when eight inches fell. The lowest that month was 2 degrees above zero.

traffic light.

The cars appeared airborne for a fraction of a second after striking the icy bump (i.e. launching pad.)

Bureau of Highways man, Samuel Silverman, called for salt and plow to eliminate the bump. Whether due to the fact the call came direct from central or to natural efficiency, the truck was there in 15 minutes.

Deputy Commissioner John Cavallero, who had manned the radio for Transit and Traffic most of the day, sent a man down in his car to make sure they got the bump on both sides of the street.

The report coming back by radio was: "Hey, I'm getting stuck. You got no chains on this car."

Mr. Cavallero radioed back: "What do you mean? I've got invincible snow tires?"

The loudspeaker in front of him buzzed and crackled back: a loud "guffaw."

Parade to mark 'Washington Day'

George Washington's birthday will be observed in the Baltimore area on Sunday, Feb. 19, with a parade, and ceremonies in the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church.

The Ensign C. Markland Kelly, Jr., Memorial Post No. 174 of the American Legion, pioneers, and Baltimore Chapter No. 7, National Sojourners and Lafayette Camp, Heroes of '76, will sponsor this year's observance.

More than 51 patriotic and civic organizations are now participating in the annual event to be held on the Sunday prior to the birth date of George Washington.

Units parading from 1 Charles Center promptly at 2:30 p.m., north on Charles St. to Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church will be joined by several bands and drum corps.

The Heroes of '76 in Continental costume, Women's auxiliaries in colonial dress, the various styles and colors of service and dress uniforms of armed forces and their unit flags and Old Glory will add color to the parade this year.

Former Congressman Calvin D. Johnson will be the guest speaker.

Lt. Commander George Rogers, general chairman, and a member of the local Sojourner chapter, will be master of ceremonies.

H. McKenna Distillery, Fairfield, Kentucky. Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey. 86 Proof. Six Years Old.
Mister, here's your bourbon.
It's made by hand. With meticulous care. The hopelessly antiquated, deliciously old-fashioned way. Made by men who know good corn and won't take less. Who stop making whiskey when their limestone pond drops below the "perfect bourbon water" level. If you've never tasted hand made Kentucky whiskey, try Henry McKenna. It's bourbon, Mister. Could be your bourbon.

Snow, people and things

Did you ever stop to think that snow is a great leveler?

Everybody is brought down to the same size . . .

Cars can go only so fast if they move at all. Busses trains and planes are uncertain.

You have to wait and wait in a line of traffic without the annoying honk, honk of the car behind you.

And, people are kinder when there are 12 inches of snow on the ground.

The taxi driver stops at a busy intersection and lets you crowd in.

At another busy northwest Baltimore corner we watched a motorist get out of his car and help a lady whose auto was stalled.

He lifted up the hood and tinkered her when she became excited.

People are more considerate when there is a snowtorm . . . they smile when they greet you on the street . . . they offer you coffee when there is a lunch break it work.

Snow keeps the kids home from school and inside the house . . .

Snow gives everybody something to talk about, 'how deep did they say it was?', 'well, the weather man says we'll get some more this weekend,' etc.

Bless the white snow — it causes us all a great deal of inconvenience, we can't go to scheduled meetings, we can't hurry anywhere. . ., but it slows us down.

Don't you think the Lord sends snow to slow us down, to give us a chance to recover from our hurried pace?

Am reminded of this prayer —

'Slow me down, Lord, ease the pounding of my heart by the quiet of my mind,

Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time,

Give me amidst the confusion of my day calmness of the everlasting hills . . .

February is more a winter month in the Baltimore area it seems.

The one-degree low at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday beat the 11-degree mark of Feb. 8, 1951. Further proof that the Lord is good. Sunshine after the storm.

Sunny side: It may have been snowy and cold, but hasn't the sun been brilliant this week.

People being kind to others even when they themselves are griefstricken: When relatives and friends gathered at the John J. Oliver2 Madison Ave. home after the funeral for Mrs. Oliver, they could not find John.

Reason: He and his son, Jake, and other friends were at nearby Madison Ave. Presbyterian Church.

They were loading the dozens of floral pieces into the family station wagon and other friends' cars.

All of the flowers were distributed to hospitals and homes for the aged.

They certainly brighten things up here,' was the comment we heard from one shutin.

Here for the funeral: — Mrs. Nathalia King Ramsundar, formerly of Crock ett, Tex., now librarian at the Katie Lewis Elementary School in D.C.

Also here: Her mother, Mrs. M. Crezette King. Mrs. Ramsundar divides her time between D.C. and Minneapolis.

Her husband, Cecil, is the biologist doing advanced study at the University of Minnesota.

Sunshine, please, to Hopkins Hospital for Mrs. Anita Cleary. She is down with ticker trouble again.

Also sunshine to Raymond Carpenter, Sr. still confined to Hopkins' Wilmer Institute.

Wet bottle, thank goodness, is Mrs. Ellen Russell, the teacher, 3211 Powhatan.

She has been in for some weeks, will be in for a while yet.

She has been greatly cheered by the sunshine (cards, flowers etc), friends have sent.

She is such a thoughtful person herself, you know.

More good news: Joseph E. (Buddy) Lee the retired YMCA executive, is out of the hospital and doing fine.

In fact, he was well enough last Saturday to accompany his wife, Juliette, to N.Y.

Add to talented youngsters: Fourteen - year - old Wanda Inman. She has aspirations to become a singer.

You can hear her Feb. 15 at School No. 19 (Lexington Terrace), when she participates in the achievement contest.

People moving about: Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Puryear, formerly of 4102 Colbourne Rd. in Edmondson Village, moved to Pittsburgh, Pa. last week.

Their son, Cortez Jr., a junior at Baltimore Junior College, accompanied them and has enrolled at the University of Pitt.

Mr. Puryear is the Contract Compliance Officer for the Department of Defense and has offices in the Pennsylvania City. His job will require extensive travel in all 50 states.

Mrs. Puryear (Geneva) taught in Baltimore public schools the past six years, was formerly the Home Economics teacher at Cherry Hill Junior High.

Since September, she had been home ec teacher at the new Edgar Allen Poe No. 1 School for expectant mothers.

Fannette was a real jewel

There are many people in the Baltimore area who are well and happy today because Fannette Hughes, R.N., passed their way.

She was the kind of efficient nurse who could walk in a sick room and 'take charge.' She was of herself 'good medicine' for the sick room.

Her very presence, her comforting manner, her good humor made you forget your pains.

'good - hearted little child,' 'She tried to do everything for everybody,' 'She never let you give her anything.'

'She was a lovely person.' 'She was a real jewel.' 'She was the best nurse,' 'She never objected to doing the dirty, little jobs.'

These were comments of shocked friends when they learned Fannette was found dead in her appartment this week.

What many did not know was that Fannette Hughes was essentially a lonely person.

She compensated for her loneliness by giving of herself to others.

She was generous with her time and her talents, often refusing pay.

If you had a gift for her, you had to force it in her hands.

If she accepted it, she was back the next week, sometimes the next day, with 'a little something I thought you would like.'

Fannette's loneliness caught up with her on Saturday . . . she had fought against drowning her misery . . . but she lost. Near the end, she was very despondent.

This column will remember her best as a generous, kindly, helpful nurse who devoted her 41 years to making life better for her fellowman.

More about people, things

Since the new semester began, our 11 - year - old sixth grader has been badgering us to find out about the new principal at the Frances Murphy Laboratory School and 'put it in the AFRO.'

So here it is . . .

The new principal of Murphy Lab is Mrs. Gladys Carnahan, a tall and pleasant lady with a musical voice (and Mid - western accent).

She is a native of Grand Junction, Col., where she spent over 40 years as a teacher and principal.

When she retired, she found out 'I wasn't quite ready to retire,' so she came East three years ago to teach at Coppin State College.

She retired last year and was about to take a trip to South America.

But, Frederick Nims Jr., Murphy Lab principal, resigned to take a poverty post, and she was called back to the school room at least for this year.

Mrs. Carnahan is a graduate of the University of Oregon and holds a master's degree from Columbia University Teachers' College.

Birthday note: It's that time again for Theodore (Teddy) Johnson, 2417 N. Pulaski.

Belated happy birthday (Jan. 30), Mrs. Louise Graves. She is the wife of the Rev. Lorenzo Graves, pastor, Calvary Baptist Church.

Members of the male and female choirs of the church gave a surprise birthday party for her last Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Lonnie Tilghman and showered her with many lovely gifts.

Feb. 10 birthday hellos to Miss Theresa Weaver, the teacher. Same day hellos to Dr. Theodore Phifer.

Feb. 12 cards are due the Rev. Robert Newbold, Grace Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Alice Payne, the school principal.

Special belated: Still time to send best wishes to Miss Ivy Boone, longtime AFRO secretary now living in Meadville, Pa. Her's was Feb. 7. Her address: 507 Randolph Lane, Meadville.

Beauty note: Feb. 12-19 is National Beauty Salon Week, sponsored by the Maryland State Beaut Shop Owners' Association. Their theme: "Wear The Promise of Spring in Your Hair," and "Link Up With Us."

• • •

Sunday event: The second annual fellowship luncheon of Waters AME Church at Holiday Inn, Downtown, when Nigerian Ambassador N. Ade Martins will speak.

More belated: Feb. 8 was the day for the Rev. Walter Paige, Faith Baptist Church. Church Note: —Metropolitan Methodist Church will be all spruced up Sunday, by 4 p.m. when Area Biship John Wesley Lord arrives.

Members of the Usher Board who are off from work tomorrow (Saturday) will paint the meeting room on the lower floor.

Furnishing the paint and the labor, the project is their "special" for the year.

The Rev. Frank Williams is pastor. Moses English is president of the Usher Board.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.
