Booker T. teacher buried in rites here

Funeral services were held Feb. 13 at Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church for Gareth Chansford Taylor, 34, 1017 N. Augusta Ave., who died at University Hospital Feb. 10.

Mr. Taylor was an Industrial Arts teacher at Booker T. Washington Junior High School 130 a year.

The Rev. Clinton R. Coleman, pastor of the church, delivered the eulogy and presided at graveside services at Arbutus Memorial Park.

A resolution from the Industrial Arts faculty termed Mr. Taylor "a man with a job to fill," a teacher who will be remembered for the quiet, determined way he faced responsibilities despite a serious health problem.

The tribute read at the services recalled that he looked forward to returning to work after confinement at the hospital.

* * *

MEMBERS OF the faculty attending the services included the principal, James R. Hite; David W. Grooms, head of the Department of Industrial Arts; and members, Henderson Neal, Durgie Lawson, Donald Quarles, Cephas Rawlings, Leroy Thompson, James Washington.

Messrs Grooms, Neal and M. Arthur Camper, counselor, served as pallbearers.

Mr. Taylor was born in Elizabeth City, N.C. Feb. 9, 1933 one of the 13 children of Mrs. Ophelia Bell Taylor and the late George Taylor.

He was a member of the Mt. Lebanon AME Zion Church in the North Carolina city and the Pennsylvania Avenue Church of Baltimore.

In 1958 Mr. Taylor was married to the former Miss Vernal Trent who survives him.

A graduate of the Training and P. W. Moore High School of Elizabeth City, Mr. Taylor majored in Industrial Arts at A and T College in Greensboro, N.C. and studied further at Morgan State College.

He became a member of the Washington Junior High faculty in April, 1966.

In addition to his wife and mother, Mr. Taylor is survived by two sons, Gareth Chansford II and Glen Clifford Taylor; six brothers and six sisters.

New bombings are defended by McNamara

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara defended bombing if North Vietnam ...Wednesday. The raids were resumed Monday after a six-day pause.

McNamara said a "Fundamental" was a supplement to the war effort in South Vietnam. "The implication that I consider the bombing ineffective is incorrect," he told a news cinference.

McNamara said the bombing had "clearly accomplished" twin aims of raising South Vietnamese morale and reducing the infiltration or making it cost Hanoi more.

The success if a third aim of showing Hanoi it would have to "pay a price" for continuing the war, he said, "can be judged by the great efforts of the North Vietnamese ti force us to stop the bombing."

DR. KURT AT STATE

PETERSBURG, Va. (UPI) —Virginia State College said Tuesday the man who was chancellor of Austria in 1938 will address the student body Monday on a Free Europe.

Dr. Kurt Von Schuschnigg rejected Hitler's demand that Austria unite with Nazi Germany in 1938. He is a political science professor now at St. Louis University. Von Schuschnigg's only child, a daughter, was born in Dachau concentration camp. He was liberated in 1945 after seven years internment.

Bank guard stricken on job, dies here

Funeral services will be held Saturday at noon at the Hayes Funeral Home, Gilmore St. and Harlem Ave., for Edward Wilkin Hawthorne, 53, 1674 Bruce Ct., who died Tuesday. Burial will be in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

Mr. Hawthorne was a guard at the Maryland National Bank, 26th and Charles Sts. branch. He collapsed on the job and was pronouced dead on arrival at Union Memorial Hospital.

A native of Lunnenburg, Va., Mr. Hawthorne was born Sept. 13, 1913, the son of Mrs. Lucy Hawtrorne and the late Eppa Hawthorne. He moved to Baltimore with his family in 1922.

Mr. Hawthorne was baptised at Leadenhill Baptist Church here.

He was educated in the Baltimore public schools and was graduated from Douglass High School.

The family is in mourning at 3717 Belle Ave.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Daisy Hawthorne; three daughters, Mrs. Lucia Hawthorne Harris, Mrs. Juanita Barbara Brown, Miss Jean Marie Hawthorne; mother, Mrs. Lucy Hawthorne; three sisters, Mesdames Emma H. FREEZE—Not the Icy sort that was prevalent in Baltimore last week, but this version of a dance game is displayed by youngsters attending the Department of Recreation's Valentine Party in the McCulloh Homes Tuesday. Youth Corps worker, Miss Paulette Gregory, watches for movements among the dancers during a pause in the rock 'n' roll music.

Schools to open later this fall

The School Board, meeting Thursday afternoon, approved the 1967 - 1968 school calendar, including a change to a later starting date and later closing date.

Next year students will have a full week after Labor Day before they are called upon to return to classes.

Opening day is slated for Monday, Sept. 11, with the last day set as Thursday, June 20.

New teachers will have their orientation day the day after Labor Day, Sept. 5, with all other staff members due to report Sept. 6.

The calendar provides for 183 pupil instruction days — three over the State minimum, for emergency or snow closings.

For teachers the calendar provides 189 work days.

* * *

A DEPARTURE from the customary schedule follows the lead of other school districts in the State by closing schools on Election Day, Nov. 7.

A day off for teachers also will be scheduled for Sept. 7 if there is a need for a primary election that day.

One other change allows for two full days Oct. 19 and 20 for teachers to attend state teachers conventions. Previously Baltimore schools, unlike those throughout the state, remain open during the first half day of the conventions.

Christmas and Easter holiday vacations remain standard —Monday, Dec. 25 to Monday, Jan 1 and Friday, April 12 to Friday, April 19, inclusive.

THE SCHOOL Board voted to disagree with a proposed which would require all City Council ordinance which would require all residents between the ages of 18 and 21 to register certain employment staius information with the Department of Education.

School Superintendent Laurence G. Paquin said he felt such information was generally available, and the results of such a compelled registration would not be worth the effort.

In personnel action, the Board approved the appointment of Lloyd McDonald, now counselor at Harlem Park Junior High School, as teacher - in - charge of the Neighborhood School for Parents.

The successful experimental school, financed under the Elementary Secondary Education Act, was designed by Mr. McDonald and administered by him this summer at Harlem Park.

Also, Mrs. Laura Geiselman, a teacher at Venable Junior High whose retirement would be effective May 1, will be retained until the end of the school year.

Charles W. Reinhardt, department head of history at Mergenthaler, was named to the same capacity at Northwestern High School.

FEB. 19

Jack Sullivan, administrative assistant to Sen. Daniel B. Brewster and Paul Robinson area manager for the General Services Administration, will be guests at the regular meeting of the Baltimore Chapter of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, 4 p.m. 2025 E. North Ave.
