p. 6

The humble Address of the Upper House of Assembly

Be pleased, Sir, to accept Our sincere Thanks for your kind Speech and this fresh Instance of your Earnestness to cultivate a good Agreement between the several Parts of the Legislature, so necessary for the Pursuit of the true Interest of the Province, by calling us now together in Assembly; nor do your Endeavours for the Happiness of Maryland rest here, But at the same time that you assure us of all such reasonable Compliances from yourself as are consistent with the Trust reposed in you by his Majesty and the Lord Proprietary; you most obligingly recommend to Us Temper and Moderation, and to avoid Heats and Animosities baneful to
