Sauerkraut, frankfurters with potatoes for feast

You'll have a superb dish when you prepare kraut and frankfurters, one of our favorite combos, in the manner of the French.

You will need 6 hot baked potatoes, ½ cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon chopped chives, ½ teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon celery seed, Dash pepper.

Also 2 cups drained sauerkraut, Paprika, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons currant jelly, 2 tablespoons pineapple preserves, ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1/8 teaspoon dry mustard, and 12 frankfurters, scored.

• • •

CUT THIN slice from top of each potato; scoop out potatoes from shells. Combine and mix with sour cream, 2 tablespoons melted butter, chives, salt, celery seed and pepper. Whip until fluffy. Drain kraut thoroughly; fold into potato mixture.

Spoon mixture into shells. Dot with butter, if desired. Sprinkle with paprika. Brown lightly in broiler. Meanwhile combine 1 tablespoon butter, jelly, preserves and remaining seasonings in saucepan; melt, stirring constantly. Brush frankfurters; broil about 5 minutes or until lightly browned, brushing frequently.

Gadabouting In Baltimore
Coppinites of '38 fete Mr. Henderson

With Lula Jones Garrett

William (Billy) F. Henderson, of the faculty of School 452, had the surprise of his life, Saturday, when Mrs. Henderson secretly gathered his Coppin College classmates, '38, to celebrate his birthday.

The dinner party, in the Garrison Lounge, took on all the airs of an old-fashioned re-union, plus additional gaiety which wives and girl friends added.

Just to insure the surprise, the party was held two days after Mr. Henderson's birthday . . . so when he and Mrs. Henderson entered the party section of the Lounge and 26 chanting voices rang out "Happy Birthday," the honoree was really floored.

Following the dinner party at the Lounge, guests went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson for more partying.

Attending were:

Messrs. and Mesdames William Jennings, Isaiah White, Roland Handy, John Meyers, Thomas Boyd of Washington, his brother-in-law and sister; Myles Robinson, cousing; Errol Taylor, Milton Allen and Dave Johnson, brother-in-law and sister;

Albert Woods, Linwood Koger, Jr., Charles Harris, John Mott, Huborn Blackwell, Mrs. Margaret Robinson, a cousin; and Mr. Bell.

• • •

AND ANOTHER surprise . . . the baby shower given for Mrs. Charlie Moore by her sister-in-law, Miss Edna M. Moore, at the latter's Wolfe St. home, Friday evening.

The Moores are expecting their baby within the month. Dad-to-be is the professional basketball player with the Astronauts. Mrs. Moore is the former Laura J. Thompson, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Dockery Thompson of this city.

Showering the honoree with gifts were friends from Washington including Mesdames Geraldine Briscoe, Sylvia McCants and Sylvia Coffey; and Misses Judy McClinton and Naomi Wills;

Also Baltimoreans: Mesdames Shirley Barber, Nellie
