Mr. & Mrs. Jackson observe anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding with a reception in their home, 4512 White Oak Ave., Saturday.

Mrs. Jackson's floral arrangements of huge white mums and silver and green foliage added sparkle to each room.

Her nieces, who served as hostesses, were Misses Angela Payne, Linda Burwell, Carolyn Thornton, Patrice Lightfoote and Terri Payne.

MRS. JACKSON, who, with Mr. Jackson, greeted each guest, was strikingly 'mod' in silver, from head to toe. Her dress, which incidentally was her own creation, was a silver tinsel lame fitted sheath with sweetheart neckline, sheer silver hose and silver crystal encrusted shoes. Her corsage was a white orchid.

MR. AND MRS. EARL JACKSON celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage with a reception in their home in Baltimore, Saturday.

Must become involved to hold respect, Zetas told

Adults must become involved in the issues to today if they are to demand the respect of youth of today, Mrs. Mildred Bradham, said, here, Sunday.

Mrs. Bradham, of Jacksonville, Fla., and international grand basileus of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, was speaker at a tea in Wayland Baptist Church. The tea closed a week long "Finer Womanhood" observation by members of the sorority.

* * *

"TO STAY clear of discussion of civil rights, social issues, scientific and religious conflict and problems of peace and war, is to lose the respect of young people and to drive them into further conflict," the speaker said.

On the otherhand, Mrs. Bradham advised against subscribing to all that youth do on the theory that expanding their intellectual horizons is a means of freedom.

42 years, 2 million miles driving without one chargeable accident

By STERLIN GA. PAIGE

Forty-two years of driving for a total of nearly two million miles without a single chargeable accident is quite an accomplishment.

Such a record has been racked up by Raymond E. Nelson, 539 Pressman St.

Known to his employers and friends as "Nellie," he is a "pro" driver. He has worked for the same company all those years, since he was 19 years old.

Weighing 115 pounds and standing little more than five feet tall, "Nellie" has pushed a 50-ton rig (tractor-trailer) over the roads since the days of chain-drive trucks, solid tires, and gas headlights.

* * *

A FEW weeks ago 600 persons attended the Maryland Motor Truck Association's 33rd Annual Dinner at 'the Eastwind.

There, Atty. Gen. Francis (Bill) Burch presented Mr. Nelson with a certificate.

"Nellie" had been chosen as Maryland's "Driver of the Year for 1966."

"It was a thrill; quite an honor," he said happily.

Next came a television set. And to top it off, his employer, Frank Foley, president of George Transfer and Rigging Company, presented "Nellie" a $100 Savings Bond.

* * *

LATER THIS year Maryland's champ driver will compete with men from all over the country for the title of "National Driver of the Year."

Explaining how he came by his amazing accident-free record, Mr. Nelson said:

"Driving is a full-time job and requires all your attention. Be careful always. Give the other man the right of way.

"Keep your distance — no tailgating. If a light changes to green, I stay there a moment. Some nut just might come through.

"Another thing, I leave for work well ahead of time. I am never in a hurry.

"If I see children, I slow down. You never know what they are going to do," he went on.

"Lots of accidents are caused by two people talking and paying attention to each other instead of to the driving.

"I can drive with my wife to Philadelphia and never say more than two words."

WITH THIS Mrs. Nelson agreed.

"He is a careful driver," she said. "I always feel safe with my husband."

"Nellie" used to make long runs and was away from home five or six days, or even a week, at a time.

"No more of that," Mrs. Nelson put in. "He was away from home too much."

These days "Nellie," the oldest driver with his company, avoids the long long hauls, is usually home every night.

Now 65, he works a standard 40-hour week and has no thoughts of retiring.

"Not so long as I can work," he said. "I wouldn't know what to do. We have a physical every two years. As long as you can pass, you can work."

* * *

THE VETERAN truck driver has seen "all sorts of bloody sights" on the road in his time.

"I used to stop and watch — but not any more."

He has no tall tales to tell of his experiences on the road.

He does recall a particularly foggy night when heading for a northern state.

"I was so foggy you just couldn't see. A bus passed me. It had fog lights. I followed this bus for miles," he chuckled, recalling how he ended up in a small town off the beaten path.

"I stayed over until the fog lifted the next morning, then went on my way."

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Nelson are members of Enon Baptist Church.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Lodia Matthews, a teacher at School 120; and Mrs. Ada Smith, a telephone company employee in the Mondawmin office.

There are six grandchildren.

"Nellie" gives much credit for his safe driving record to his employer.

"During all my years at George Transfer, my boss has never asked what took me so long on a trip.

"They never try to rush a trip. They expect you to observe laws, drive according to conditions — not speed limits — and pull off the road if you feel drowsy.

"My company stresses safety, not time."

As for the company, Mr. Foley said: "George needs more men like Nellie."

MARYLAND'S DRIVER OF THE YEAR 1966, Raymond Nelson, shows his cover photo to wife, Ada. His record is nearly two million miles of accident-free truck driving in 42 years.

Tydings delights school pupils

U. S. Senator Joseph D. Tydings delighted the pupils of Elementary School No. 116 with a surprise appearance, accompanied by Deputy U. S. Attorney Arthur Murphy, who arranged this impromptu visit.

He toured the building, visited many classrooms, and gave a brief message to the upper grade pupils on the value of education in a democracy.

Earlier in the day, Senator Tydings had spoken to a student assembly at Coppin State College about his trip the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar R. to Russia.

Friedel home after surgery

Congressman Samuel N. Friedel was released from the hospital this week after surgery.

Mr. Friedel entered Bethesda Naval Hospital on Feb. 22 and is doing very well after his 12-day stay.

He said, "The surgery was planned for earlier in February but had to be postponed due to a cold. Needless to say, I'm glad it's behind me. I want to thank all of my friends for their letters and cards of good wishes for my speedy recovery."

Mr. Friedel has recuperated sufficiently to leave the hospital, but he has been cautioned by his doctors to take it easy for a while.
