Tuesday was a bad day for Henry R. Pierce

Tuesday, March 14, was not a good day for Henry Russel Pierce, 2700 block Tivoli St.

After he faced the judge in one court he found out a judge in another court wanted to see him about something else.

Puffing, the portly man said, "Whew!"

The day started out with a 10 a.m. arraignment in Criminal Court where Mr. Pierce pleaded not guilty to a charge of violating gambling laws, playing cards.

Out on bail, he was immediately attached under uniform support proceedings by the Domestic Relations Court.

The authorities claimed Mr. Pierce was $750 in arrears on the $10 a week support payments for his son.

Richmond, Va. officials were anxious to collect the money for the child who is residing there with his mother, the papers read.

Therefore, Mr. Pierce was escorted up-stairs from the second floor criminal courtroom to the third-floor Domestic Court by the sheriff's deputies.

* * *

AT 2 P.M. he appeared before Miss Lucy Ann Garvey who questioned him on "How can you have money to gamble when you are back in your support of the child?"

The harrassed man replied. "I was not gambling when the raid (on the house in the 1400 block Bond St.) caught me. I was visiting a friend. I just happened to stop in. I wasn't even playing cards."

As to his being out on bail he testified the lady who owns the house put up $35 so he could get out of jail to awai: the Criminal Court trial.

When asked by Miss Garvey why he wasn't working to thus get the support money Mr. Pierce claimed he was under treatment at Hopkins and was due there March 23 to see if an opertion is necessary.

"I've been a hard worker all my life, on my own since I was nine," he stated, adding, but lately I've been sickly."

Miss Garvey concluded the hearing by postponing the case until next Tuesday at 2 p.m. while hospital medical records are being checked.

For the third court appearance Miss Garvey warned, "Be there promptly or you'll be called in as a bail-jumper."

Dr. Weaver snubs white agitators

Two men, identified as members of the Baltimore Citizen's Council, passed out copies of an article attacking Housing and Urban Development Secretary Robert C. Weaver and the NAACP, on the Morgan College campus Wednesday night.

Morgan President, Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, approached the men at the door of the Murphy Auditorium and said, "We'd like to invite you men to attend the college."

The article which charged that the secretary at one time held communistic sympathies, was distributed to white people who had come to the campus to hear Dr. Weaver, the Centennial keynote speaker address the opening of the school Centennial celebration.

MAYOR THEODORE R. McKELDIN was handed one of the articles as he waited to join the academic procession.

Dr. Weaver's car arrived, he walked quickly to the door and was surrounded by a group of Morgan students who apparently wanted to avoid any direct confrontation between the speaker and the demonstrators.

"I'll take that; a student shouted as one of the men attempted to thrust a leaflet into Dr. Weaver's hand.

The student took the leaflet, tore it, and put it in his pocket.

The other man approached Dr. Weaver and attempted to give him one of the papers. Into Dr. Weavtr's hand. ary said.

There were no further incidents.

Question of insanity gets Muslim reprieve

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., (UPI) —Condemned Black Muslim Paul E. Lavergne received a stay of execution Tuesday, 22 hours before he was scheduled to die in the gas chamber.

U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas granted the stay to give the high court time to consider the case.

Lavergne, who had already declined to order a last meal, was conferring with his attorney on death row in San Quentin Prison when word was received of Douglas' action. When told of the stay, he is reported to have declared, "Praise be to Allah"!

The 23-year-old man, convicted in 1965 of strangling a white cab driver, had lost appeals to the California Supreme Court and Gov. Ronald Reagan a supporter of capital punishment, Monday.

Pickets had already gathered outside the prison gates to protest what would have been California's first execution in more than four years. The last execution took place on Jan. 23, 1963.

The condemned man's attorney, LaRue Grim, had argued in his appeals that LaVergne was so twisted with hate of white men at the time of the murder that he was not mentally responsible for the crime.

Grim said a psychiatric examination would furnish evidence showing that LaVergne was legally insane when he killed Peter Giacolone on Jan. 7, 1965.

Economical meals for good eating

Thrifty or spendthrift, any menu may properly sport a rice dish in entree or dessert, especially now when supplies are unusually plentiful and prices reasonable.

Since rice dishes can be as plain or elegant as you choose to make them, this is a good time to feature them frequently.

WHEN YOU DO, it's wise to plan your rice dishes in the context of the whole meal. Bear in mind, for example, that white rice is low in protein, although the protein it does contain is of good quality.

It's also low in minerals and vitamins. But, like other cereals, rice does supply food energy at relatively low cost.

WHEN YOU use white rice, be sure to serve it with foods that supply the nutritive values rice lacks. Serve with eggs, meat, fish, poultry, milk or cheese to provide good quality proteins, vitamins and minerals.

Vegetables, especially green and yellow vegetables, and fruit, whether fresh, dried, raw or cooked, also should be included for their vitamins and minerals

COOK YOUR rice in an little water as possible for it to taste its best — 1 cup uncooked rice to 2 cups water is just about right,permiting it to retain more flavor and a better texture than when cooked in a needlessly large quantity of water.

Boil gently, keeping the heat low. Cover the pan tightly. And don't rinse after cooking.

HERE'S A menu fr a day's good eating using foods that are in plentiful supply and reasonably priced:

BREAKFAST
Sliced Grapefruit
Ready-to-eat Cereal with Plumped Raisins
Toast with Margarine and Marmalade
Milk
Coffee or Tea

LUNCH
Frizzled Rice and Beef Soup
Celery and Fresh Carrot Sticks
Fruit Gelatin
Cookies
Milk

DINNER
Loin End Pork Roast
Glazed Apples
Butter Green Beans
Wedge of Lettuce Salad
Pound Cake a la mode
Milk
Coffee or Tea

THIS RECIPE for frizzled rice and beef soup is for the main dish of the luncheon meal:

Use 3 tblsps. cooking fat, 2/3 cup uncooked white rice, 1 lb. ground beef, 1 clove garlic, minced, 1 cup sliced onions, 8 cups water, 3 tsps. salt, ¼ tsp. black pepper, 1 tsp. summer savory, 1 tblsp. Worchestershire sauce, 1 cup whole kernel yellow corn, and ¼ tsp. Tabasco sauce.

TO PREPARE: Melt the fat in a 4 quart or larger soup kettle. Add the rice, ground beef and garlic. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the beef and rice begin to brown. Add the onions and cook until they begin to turn yellow. Add the water, salt, pepper and summer savory.

Cook, stirring occasionally, about one hour. Stir in the Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco and corn. If uncooked corn is used, cook until the corn is tender. Add more water if a thinner soup is desired. This soup may be cooked a longer time if desired.

Yields 2½ quarts of soup.
