AME Zion women collect $8,800.10

With Lula Jones Garrett

The women of the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church set a fast money-raising pace when they observed their 36th annual Women's Day, Sunday.

When the sheathes were in there were an additional $8,800.10 in their coffers. Top woman in the fund gathering was Mrs. Rebecca Swindell, upon whom they bestowed the title of "Woman of the Year." Project chairman was Mrs. Blanche S. Shelton. Her co-chairman was Mrs. Beulah Moore.

'Business, Economics' is Town Hall topic

"Business and Economic Development" will be the subject for the second Town Hall meeting discussion, sponsored by the Fourth District Democratic Organization next Monday at 8 p.m.

The meeting, with four speakers from different areas of business, will be held at 1524 W. North Ave.

Speakers and their topics include:

David Glenn, director, Community Relations Commission, "Jobs and Income."

Mrs. Edna Johnson, director Consumer Protection Program of the Urban League, "Consumer Protection and Money Management."

John G. Evans, assistant trust officer of the Equitable Trust Co., "Investment for Profits and Security."

"Samuel T. Daniels, associate director of the Council on Equal Business Opportunity, "Small Business Development."

Serving as co-chairmen are Howard Griner and James Sexton.

The discussions are being held regularly on critical issues and problems.
