Whitelock club has fund raiser

A variety supper was given recently by the Whitelock Neighborhood Club to raise money to decorate the basement at the St. Matthews Center on Eutaw Place and Whitelock Street.

The children in the neighborhood hold meetings there during the summer.

The celebration of the first anniversary of the club was held there last August.

Mrs. Hattie Gadsden is president, Mrs. Willie M. Davis, vice president; Mrs. Rosalie Purnell, recording secretary and Mrs. Clara Davis, treasurer.

Urban League gets donation

The Baltimore Urban League Guild held its first open membership meeting March 5 in the Madison Room of the Alcazar Hotel.

The keynote speaker was Mrs. Gladys Thomas of Washington, vice president of the National Council of Urban League Guilds.

Mrs. Marlene Stevens, member, presented Baltimore Urban League vice president, Warren W. Weaver, with a check for $1,000 to promote the program of the local Urban League.

Mr. Weaver and Dr. Furman L. Templeton gave brief remarks encouraging closer Urban League and Guild affiliation. The audience was responsive, as typified by the number of persons who reacted to the call for membership and participation.

Mrs. Esther Steel, the local Urban League Guild president, expressed delight of the large attendance.

Pfc. Benjamin in Germany

City-wide Easter pageant to be held in afternoon

Hundreds of workers are currently involved in preparations for the 38th annual City-Wide Easter Pageant at Baltimore Stadium.

For the first time in the pageant's history, the program will be presented at 4 p.m., rather than at sunrise.

Warren G. Wright, director of the musical pageant, announced that the change in time had been made because of numerous requests and because of the early date of Easter this year.

Mr. Wright added that several hundred young people had been rehearsing for several weeks for the pageant which recreates the events of the first Holy Week in Jerusalem.

Members of the cast have been recruited from the churches of Baltimore and vicinity, The Girl Scouts, the Order of DeMolay, Job's Daughters, the Boy Scouts of America, the Bureau of Recreation and other groups.

Thomas H. O'Connor is president of the committee in charge of the annual presentation.

HOP TO IT! ... for Easter

MRS. PATRICIA BERNARD, right, pins an orchid on Mrs. Anne Drayton, who was the honoree at a testimonial luncheon in Mohawk Inn, Saturday.

Testimonial honors Mrs. Anne Drayton

For the first time at a fashion - luncheon, Saturday, Mrs. Anne Drayton sat serenely by, enjoying luncheon and watching the style show.

The luncheon was held at Mohawk Inn. Heretofore she has been behind scene staging an event. But, said members of Modes Royalettes Club, this was to be "Her Day."

• • •

MODES ROYALETTES include the models who show Mrs. Drayton's hats in the numerous shows she holds in this and nearby cities. And the 300 guests who attended the majority wearing her elegant hats were not only clients but old friends.

Mrs. Drayton has been creating hats here for the past 15 years. A native North Carolinian she started in the hat business at her home in Cherry Hill in 1945. In 1957 she opened the Modes Royale Shop at 1820 Pennsylvania Ave. She has also opperated shops in York, Pa. and Kenston, N.C.

THE QUIET, unassuming Mrs. Drayton, still finds time to maintain a heavy calendar in community activities.

She was instrumental in organizing and served as president of the Y-Wives, the Y-Aides and the Eureka Club of the Madison Avenue branch.

In addition to the YWCA, she is a member of the National Council of Negro Women and the Baltimore Urban League. She is an active member of the First United Church.

Her haute couture millinery is inspired by constant check of the New York Designer organizations, and she has traveled to Paris for inspiration.

• • •

MRS. PATRICIA BERNARD presided at the luncheon program on Saturday. The invocation was given by Miss Agnes M. Austin.

A historical sketch of the honoree was given by Mrs. Lula Mackay and presentations to Mrs. Drayton were made by Mrs. Edna Holland.

Mrs. May Chamberlain was narrator for the fashion show, during which lunge wear, casual wear, suits, evening and cocktail dresses and hats were shown.

Models were Mrs. Piney Ross, Mrs. Edna Holland, Miss Virrie hompson, Mrs. Pauline Jenkins, Mrs. Tenyo Wiggins, Mrs. Maggie Watson and Mrs. Pauline Jenkins.

Mrs. Ruth Sampson and Mrs. Ozell Cryor.

DR. THELMA BANDO, dean of women; Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew, wife of the Governor of Maryland; and Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins in receiving line at reception honoring Mrs. Agnew prior to 11th Annual Women's Week, Morgan College, held at Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Friday evening.

Morgan women end week with banquet

"It is our hope that the Morgan Women's Week will bring each of you to so achieve that it will be said that by her living she helped," Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, president of the college, told a capacity audience, Friday evening.

The occasion was the 11th annual Women's Dinner which closed a week of activities for co-eds at Morgan, sponsored by the Women's Dormitory Council and the Dean of Women and her staff.

The dinner was held in the Ballroom of Lord Baltimore Hotel. It was preceded by a reception in the Florentine Room of the hotel in honor of Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew, wife of the Governor of Maryland.

• • •

THE BANQUET speaker was Mrs. John T. King, Jr., world traveler, vice president of the Peabody Institute and honorary trustee at Hood College. Mrs. King gave a travelogue on the Far East.

Mrs. King was introduced by Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins.

The traditional cutting of the birthday cake was participated in by wives of men who have played significant roles in Morgan's history.

They included Mesdames D. W. O. Holmes, George Grant, Natalie Tilghman, Carl Murphy, Edward Hurt, Edward Wilson.

Also participating in the ceremony were Miss Helen Roberts and Mrs. Ethel Hodges. Mrs. Hodges presented a painting to the college of the late Mrs. Eliza Cummings, her grandmother, from whom Cummings Hall on the campus is named.

THE DINNER, which coincides with the birthday of Dr. Thelma P. Bando, dean of women, drew a serenade to her.

Morgan women also presented to her a gold charm bracelet with the charm inscribed "To Dean Bando from the women of Morgan State College, 1967."

The presentation made by Miss Angetta Flanagan, this year's "Miss Morgan" who termed the gift as "symbolic of their love," and noted that Dr. Bando has served longest in the post of any dean of the college.

A gift to Mrs. Agnew from Morgan women was a gold broach, a black-eyed Susan (Maryland State flower) on a heart.

Gifts of pearls went to Mrs. King, Mrs. Mary Spellman, assistant dean of women; Mrs. Ida Smith, who staged the bridal show: and Dr. Bando from the Gem Jewelry Co.

• • •

OTHER PARTICIPANTS of the evening were Mrs. Mary C. Spellman and Mrs. Bertl Williams who introduced guests; Mrs. Flossie Dedmond, greetings from the National Council and the Morgan Faculty-Trustees' Wives Club; Miss Florence Shipman, the Morgan Singers and the Haithcock Ensemble, who provided the music.
