"This Season There Is Added Reason."

Spring swept into the millinery industry recently with a strong oust of elegance, where over 1,200 retailers, buyers, merchandise managers and industry representatives filled the Waldorf Astoria Hotel to witness the millinery industry's first fashion show.

Among the 1,200 were two of Baltimore's milliners, Mrs. Ann Drayton and yours truly, who attend the shows twice yearly.

The spotlight hit the giant geometric configuration of three stages connected by runways which streaked across the center of the ballroom. As the show began, Padres included a collection of brims ranging in styles from ranch hats to sombreros.

* * *

STRIPES AND straws were next, a dazzling array of colorful straw ribbon and braid. Flower hats for spring and summer '67 tell the real story.

This year the flower hats are more pleasant to see than they were last year. Much of the gaudiness of past years was absence.

The "Swingers" were four teen and pre-teen models dancing around a hat tree blossoming with youth hats.

Berets are highlights of spring and these have changed the shape of that Parisian perennial into fuller, wider silhouettes which framed the face.

This year there is a newer, softer approach to the traditional dress hat. Daytime elegance for the look of today, and bright colors were the story.

* * *

BRIGHT AND light are the keys to spring. Bright colors, light and airy material that add to your active, sporty, tailored, and even, dressy costumes.

Wearability is still a prime feature.

And for the summer months ahead, a hat for every occasion including the beach.

For the swinger on a motorcycle, the hat for daytime fun, or going out evenings, the most beguiling, colorful assortment of brims of lightweight materials.

HATS WILL make the difference. They will be gay, refreshing, romantic, elegant, alluring and most importantly an exciting experience.

Be with the action, find out for yourself why "This Season There's Added Reason For Wearing A Hat."

PALMA sets promenade

Plans for the second part of the Pennsylvania Avenue Lafayette Market Association Easter Extravaganza of 1967," the "Easter Promenade," are just about complete, according to Walter Hendin, co-chairman of the promotion committee.

This year, PALMA's "Easter Extravaganza, 1967," the first part of which features exciting, exquisite fashions in all PALMA stores in the 1500 to 1800 blocks Pennsylvania Ave., will conclude with the second part the "Easter Promenade."

The promenade, which has become a tradition on Pennsylvania Ave. will be held Easter Sunday from 2 to 4 P.M. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Laurens St.

Prizes will be awarded to the best dressed man, woman, couple, and child. These cash awards will be duplicated to the winners' churches.

DURING THE first hour of the promenade, lovely young ladies will mingle with the crowd selecting those who, in their opinions, should be the finalists in the best dressed category.

A panel of judges, headed by AFRO City Editor, George W. Collins, will make the final selections.

Music appropriate to the day will be supplied by a choral group, "The Charioteers."

The proceedings will be broadcast over Radio WEBB.

The annual "Easter Promenade" is sponsored by PALMA stores as one of the many public service events conducted in the area each year.
