A NEWLY formed child study chapter, The Druid Park West, has been so busy since September, getting organized they've had little time for relaxation.

What with attending board and business meetings, program planning and fun raising who can find time for play. Aside from an ice skating party in early January it's been work and more work. However, the time finally came for the members to have a night of family fun and include all the children and fathers in get-acquainted activities.

The group was led by the recreation leaders of School No. 60 in a night of games, singing, folk and social dancing. The members and their guests had a total of 49 children between them ranging from 18 months to 14 years and some activity was of interest to each one attending. Refreshments were also served.

The Druid Park West officers are Mesdames Dolores Walker, president; Lillian Johnson, recording secretary; Audrey Sheppard, treasurer; Adelle Harris, program chairman and Cassandra Young membership chairman.

Other members are:

Mesdames Georgiana Dennis, Sylvia Teale, Sally Johnson, Mamie Duren, Anita Parker, Reona Thomas, Margaret Moody, Barbara Mealy and Marie Buster.

Guests attending were Mesdames Harriet Madison, Alyce B. Miller, Mollie Dorsey, Alice Smith, Gwendolyn Smith, Iris Hynson and Helen Branch.

Fathers attending were Calvin Parker, Clarence Young, James Walker, Harry Branch, Thomas Teale and Gerald Smith.

LAMBDA KAPPA MU sorors culminated their annual "Lambda Kappa Mu Week" with a visit to Annapolis to attend a session of the General Assembly.

They were guests of Senator Verda Welcome. 40-plus sorors and members of their youth group, the Kopelles, made the trip. They dined at Anton's and later heard Senator Welcome speak on the plight of Maryland State College at Princess Anne. The project was arranged by Soror Betty Shelton, youth advisor and coordinator.

Other activities of the week included a worship service at Ebenezer Baptist Church, with Soror Naomi Johnson as chairman; and a Youth Symposium held in the Madison Avenue Branch of the YWCA. Soror Gladys Baird presided.

POT-POURRI: Mrs. Dorothy Evans is around again after a session of health-required rest. When she missed last month's dinner party of the Wingoes it was the first of that club's sessions she had missed in 30 years.

Eleanor Anderson is the leading spirit in the newly organized bipartisan group, the Fifth District Executive Council. William Carter, Jr. is chairman. Other officers are Catherine Mueller, vice chairman; Dr. Irvin Hawkins, treasurer; and Jeanette B. Leath, secretary.

Honoree at that elegant luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Granville Roane on Sunday was his sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Roane of Warsaw, Va.

Pretty new face in the Court House at Annapolis, Md. is that of Helen Edmead. She's in the court's law department.

Raymond E. Nelson is the recipient of the 1966 Maryland's Driver of the Year Award.

Cyril O. Byron, associate professor of science at Coppin State College, attended the 15th annual convention of the National Science Teachers Association in Detroit, Mich., over the weekend.

Miss Wyndell Spence bride of Earl Tyson

MR. AND MRS. EARL E. TYSON

Miss Wyndell Virginia Spence, home arts instructor, designed and made her wedding trousseau and the gowns of her attendants, for her marriage to Earl Everett Tyson, here, recently.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Spence Sr. of this city, Miss Spence was given in marriage by her father. The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Isaac Hill in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Florynne McLean played bridal music and the wedding march.

• • •

THE BRIDE'S long white satin gown was designed with a tight-fitting removable bodice, long tight-fitting sleeves and a skirt of soft pleats which fell in straight folds at the front with a detachable train at the back. Designs of nylon applique circled the jewelry neckline and were evidenced on the front of the skirt.

Her illusion veil was attached to a white satin pillbox trimmed in seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white carnations and white satin streamers centered by a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a pair of tiny pearl earrings.

• • •

MISSES OLIVIA and Glenda Spence, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Elaine White served as bridesmaids. Another sister, Miss Patricia Spence, was maid of honor. Renee Spence, the bride's niece, was her flower girl. The bridegroom had as his best man, Willie Brown of this city.

The long sleeveless satin gowns of the bridesmaids were in pastel colors of aqua, pink and yellow and were designed similar to the gown of the bride. Their headpieces, which matched their gowns, were large satin bows and netting.

Their jewelry consisted of singular pearl pendulant necklaces and tiny pearl earrings and their slippers were tinted to match their gowns.

• • •

THE MAID OF HONOR was attired in hot pink and her jewelry was a pendulant necklace, a pearl wedding bell and tiny pearl earrings. The bridesmaids carried tinted pink baby chrysanthemums made into cascades with matching streamers while the maid of honor had white ribbon.

The flower girl wore a baby blue dacron frock with long sleeves. Mrs. Spence chose for her daughter's wedding, a light blue lace ensemble and a small hat made of light blue nylon.

The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a beige knit suit. Her pillbox hat matched her suit. Both mothers wore corsages made of red roses.

• • •

AN INFORMAL reception followed the ceremony. 150 guests attended the reception. Hostesses were Mrs. Jean Spence, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Lana Foulkes, Mrs. Mary Dorch, Mrs. Catherine Lisalson and Miss Mary Johnson.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Harriet Hill of Gainesville, Ind. and Misses Nannie Sawyer, Annatine and Mattie Tyson, all of Philadelphia.

THE BRIDE, graduate of Douglass High School, received her B.S. degree from Morgan State College in 1964. She served as an assistant in the Consumer Protection Section of the Anti-Poverty Program of Baltimore before assuming her present position. She is head of the Home Arts Department under Vocational Rehabilitation at Crownsville State Hospital.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tyson of Hamilton, N.C. attended A. and T. College. He is a salesman for the G. and J. Distributing Co. of Baltimore. The couple i sat home to friends at 1236 E. Kitmore Road of this city.
