Mayor protests civil rights visit

HAMPTON, S. C. (UPI) — Charles Boyles, mayor of this low country South Carolina town is protesting the planned civil rights visit of several Notre Dame University students during the holidays.

A recent story in the South Bend, Ind., Tribune said the students plan to spend their spring vacations in Hampton County, "informing residents of their voter registration rights."

Boyles said this week that he dent wrote to the Tribune, claiming that the proposed mission is based on "falsehoods," because most Hampton County residents already know their rights, are already registered and have been registered without incident."

Ky. coal miners' sentence upheld

CINCINNATI, Ohio—The U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld the sentencing of four destitute coal miners accused of trying to blow up a railroad bridge in Eastern Kentucky in June 1963. An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court is planned.

400 giggle over gear at Mad Hatters Party

With Lula Jones Garrett

Some were beautiful . . . and some were mighty humptious- those mad, mad hats worn by those 400 women who took the afternoon out to see, be seen and dine with the beauticians, Easter Monday.

And they enjoyed every moment of the time, every morsel of the luncheon, every tinkle of the music.

The luncheon was at Eastwind. W. Meredith Birch and his Cabanoe's provided the music. Arnold Gross was on trumpet, Louis Beal Oliver, just out of the Army, was back on drums and George L. Milburn lent his voice to entrance the ladies.

What also entranced them was a petite femme singer, with the Cabanoe's for the afternoon. She was Hattie Gallher Smith, who you had a hard time listening to for looking at.

For her first number, her curvy little figure was encased in a snugly fitted sheath. On her second appearance, she was clad in a mini-skirt frock, the neckline of which was banded in crystals...as were the legs of the matching little pants worn underneath. When she reached the closing numbers she was in an aqua pants suits...and really selling the new style.

There was some elegant headgear worn by the guests, to say nothing of elegant frocks and suits to go with them.

And as for those who vied for prizes via the other end of the program, some of the maddest concoctions this side of Alice's Wonderland.

When the judging was over, Mrs. Leona Bayline took home the first-prize bond. Her "hat" was a yard-wide skimmer of chiffon, nested with bows and topped with a hair piece. This hat was "designed" by Mr. Joseph of Charlts St.

Second place went to Mrs. Nathalie Brightful, who showed a high-pirising affair of orange straw from which baby chicks peeped and a rabbit reigned at the top.

Mrs. Sadie Givens, third place, showed a Bavarian garden atop of her hat.

Second and third prizes were $15 and $10 saving stamps, respectively.

WHEN ALPHA Alpha Sigma chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority hosts the 25th Annual Northeastern Regional Conference, here, April 14-16, one of the panels will be concerned with "Youth and Politics. . .and one of the panelists will be Ruth Whaley, attorney, secretary to the Board of Estimates of New York City, and legal advisor to the sorority.

Also a panelist will be Baltimore's Victorine Adams, member of the Maryland House of Representatives, and a member of the sorority, too. The conference will be held in the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, and the discussions will begin at four in the afternoon. Ann Bishop, TV news commentator will be moderator. Later that evening there will be a reception.

The sorors will hold their business session, beginning at 9 next (Saturday) morning. A banquet, at which Grand Basileus Annie Neville of Rocky Mount, N.C., will preside, and following the banquet, a formal dance.

Concluding the conference will be a committee meeting on Sunday morning. The Northeastern Region includes chapters in New York, New

Chicken, kidney bean salad

If you feel thrifty when you use one plentiful food you'll feel more thrifty when you make this salad using three plentifuls — chicken, kidney beans and eggs.

This nourishing recipe was developed and tested by USDA food specialists. As a main dish salad it's more important to adjust the size of the servings to the heartiness of appetites. Be prepared for calls for seconds because it's good. This recipe yields 6 servings of ½ cup each.

Use 1 cup chicken, cooked, coarsely chopped; 1¼ cups kidney beans, cooked or canned, drained; 1/3 cup pickle sweet, coarsely chopped; 2/8 cup celery, coarsely chopped;

Also 1 tablespoon onion, finely chopped; 2 eggs, hard-cooked, diced; 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise; 1 teaspoon mustard, prepared; 1 teaspoon pickle liquid. sweet.

Combine all ingredients. Toss lightly.

Chill at least 1 hour to blend flavors. Calories per serving: About 205.

Serve with carrot sticks, tomato wedges, and potato chips. Have tapioca pudding for dessert.

ConCon panel set April 13 by Jaycees

On Thursday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. the Junior Bar Association of Baltimore City will present a symposium on the Constitutional Convention in the auditorium of the Baltimore Life Insurance Company Building, 929 N. Howard St.

A panel of speakers headed by John Brooks, executive director of the Constitutional Convention Commission, and including Garrett Power, John Michener, Lawrence F. Rodowsky and John B. Howard, all of whom have served as reporters to that Commission, will discuss such topics as selection of delegates, Convention procedures and proposals to be considered by the Convention.

This program is open to the public and all persons interested in the changes being proposed in the basic document which embodies the fundamental law of this State are encouraged to attend.
