Secretaries Week

With the theme of "Better Secretaries Mean Better Business," the week of April 23-29 has been proclaimed as Secretaries Week by Governor Spiro T. Agnew and Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin.

Secretaries Day is Wednesday, April 26.

The week is sponsored by the National Secretaries Association, International, the world's largest organization profession, with over 25,000 members.

Monumental Chapter of the association will observe the week with varied activities, beginning with church services April 23 at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen and Grace Methodist Church. Following a coffee hour the members will assemble at the Baltimore Zoo for a presentation ceremony of the newly acquired Secretary Birds.

The husband of Mrs. Nellie Gibson is ill. He is being treated in the Calvert County Hospital.

Robert Hardy is also ill. He is under the care of his family doctor.

Sigma Gamma holds regional session here

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority will hold the 25th session of the Northeastern Region, here, this weekend.

When the conference begins at four this (Friday) afternoon in the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, one of the topics will be "Youth and Politics." Panelists will include Mrs. Victorine Adams, a member of the Maryland House of Representatives and Miss Ruth Whaley, attorney and legal advisor to the sorority, both members of the sorority. Miss Ann Bishop, TV news commentator, will moderate at these discussions.

A reception will be held later that evening for visiting sorors, national and regional officers, representatives from other sororities and fraternities, and prominent guests.

• • •

ON SATURDAY morning beginning at nine, the business meetings and sessions will begin and workshops will be held. With its emphasis on Youth this year, the Regional Conference will involve 10 committees, two of which will involve "Campus Chapters" and "Resolution and Publicity."

That afternoon a luncheon will intervene two sessions, and that evening Grand Basileus Annie W. Neville of Rocky Mount, N.C. will preside at the banquet.

Following this banquet, sorors from all over the Northeastern region including New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Virginia, and North Carolina will attend a formal, accompanied by their escorts.

• • •

SUNDAY MORNING concludes the Conference with a breakfast and a business meeting. At this time Regional basilei, officers, and other interested sorors of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, will discuss sorority plans, propose recommendations, and evaluate the first two days of the conference.

Miss Sylvia Stokes winner of Iota Phi Lambda title

With Lula Jones Garrett

Sylvia Stokes, sponsored by Mrs. Fannie Poulson, won the "Miss Iota, 1967" title, and was crowned at the popularity contest and fashion show held in the Lemmel High School, Sunday.

Miss Stokes won the honor over 26 young women, who vied for the title. Runners-up were Lutisia Robinson of Carver High Schoolin Linda Wyatt of Baltimore College of Commerce, Vernilla Jones of Dunbar Evening High School, and Patricia Crawley, a young business woman.

The contest and show were a part of Kappa Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority's celebration of National Business Week. The observance is a part of the national program of the sorority to focus attention and interest on business as a career.

Locally, Kappa Chapter encourages young women to pursue business education and administration by giving scholarships to students majoring in these subjects.

All the contestants at Friday evening's affair were presented on stage, each with the sorority's colors, green and white, ribbons running from the right shoulder to the left waist (and looking as pretty as fashion models, too). Each contestant was presented with a sterling silver pin in the shape of keys or typewriters.

Soror Hazel Hyman crowned the winner, replaced her contestant banner with a Miss Iota banner, presented her with a U.S. Savings Bond, and the five runners-up with U.S. Savings Stamps. All of the girls made a beautiful showing and the chapter plans entertaining in their honor in May.

• • •

AS ALWAYS the Pauline Brooks Fashion Saion and her models did a beautiful show with the theme: Fashion Expo '67 — just the right fashions for all occasions for now into summer, plus beautiful hats by Nell Sheridan. There was something for the men also — a male model who brought handsome clothes. The beautiful and exotic decorations on stage plus the Sorority's lighted sign created just the right background for the affair.

As if this were not enough, the sorority awarded 13 door prizes ranging from bracelets, flight bags, sterling silver bud vases to gift certificates. Music was furnished by two-thirds of the Romaro Trio — Norman Ross and Chester Rowlette, with the third member out because of illness.

Soror Gladys Ball is president of Kappa Chapter, Sorors Hazel Hyman and Ethel Douglass served as co-chairmen of the affair. On the committee were: Sorors Thelma B. Jiggetts, Isabel H. McConnell, Marion A. Ransom, Eloise E. Taylor, Mary U. Tucker, Geraldine Hooper, Naomi B. Lee, Fannie B. Poulson, Evelyn D. Wilkey, and Vivian W. Young.

Visting sorors from Gamma Chapter, Washington, D.C., included Past National President Marion H. Jackson, and National Legislative Chairman Edythe Bowman, whose husband accompanied them.

Young women contestants also included:

Jacqueline Braxton, Carolyn Johnson, Rita Bennet, Arlene Bell, Althea Lee, Mona Addison, Anita Bolar, Coleen Boston, Beatrice Cockrell, Valorie Faulkner, Valerie Reddick, Strela Gorham, Velma Griffin, Essie Gross, Juanita Stokes, Gilda Forbes, Bessie McKoy, Carrie Williams, Sharon Wilson, and Dale Parker.

NORMA JEAN PARKER won the "Miss Fashionetta" Contest sponsored by the Epsilon Omega Chapter Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Miss Parker is the daughter of Mrs. Eugenia Hardy Parker and the late Major Norman E. Parker. She is a student at the Roland

Master Beauticians hold 34th showing

The Master Beauticians Association, holding their 34th Annual Spring Trade and Beauty Show, presented the newest trends in hair treatment and styling, here, last week.

The two-day exhibition was held in the Alcazar, with 20 booth holders presenting their wares.

• • •

THE LATTER were chiefly demonstrations of relaxers and wig styling.

"Relaxers," said Mrs. Rose Smith, "have come of age, and are now so safe that they can be used on the hair of a five-year-old child."

The basis of a beautiful hair style, whether your own natural hair, a hair piece or a wig, is in the cutting, demonstrators showed.

In addition, visitors to the show saw demonstrations in color tinting, and, an exotic note of unusual furniture.

• • •

PRIZES AT the Tuesday evening contest went to Stanley Thornton, Miss Joan Petty, Mrs. Lois James, Miss Dorothy Martin, Miss Shirley Harris and Mrs. Arnitra Hopson.

The annual Trade and Beauty Show follows the tradition of the Master Beauticians' Association, which was designed to raise the standards of beauty culture through research, creativeness and education.

CURRENTLY headed by Mrs. Blanche White, the organization's officers also include:

Mesdames Grace Terry, first vice president; Lydia Starks, second vice president; Ann Blair, third vice president; Adele Hendershott, recording secretary; Ola M. Johnson, corresponding secretary;

Marie Steen, financial secretary; Rosetta Tilghman, treasurer; Lillie Mae Spears, chaplain; Ivory Powell, sergeant-at-arms; and Susie Rogers, reporter.

Miss Kramer gets Essex position

Miss Helen V. Kramer, director of the school of nursing at Franklin Square Hospital, has been named associate professor in charge of the nursing course being inaugurated this fall at Essex Community College.

Miss Hicks bride of Harold Ables

Miss Elizabeth Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hicks, was married to Harold Ables, here, Saturday.

The double-ring ceremony, which took place in Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, was performed by the Rev. Boykin Jease. James Kennedy was organist, and Miss Monica Hunt was soloist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace which featured a fitted bodice and five-tiered skirt. Her bouffant veil was held by an upstanding bow at front, and she carried white carnations.

Miss Willie Mae Hicks was her sister's maid of honor. Another sister, Miss Mary Hicks, and Miss Patricia Taylor were bridemaids.

THE HONOR attendant wore a gown of pink lace and satin, and carried pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaids were gowned in blue lace and satin dresses and carried blue and white carnations.

Lenora Hicks, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Thadeus Hicks carried the rings.

MR. ABLES was attended by David Flannels, best man. Ushers were John Ables and M. Calvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ables are at home at 3600 Lucille Ave.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD ABLE leave Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Baltimore, following their wedding, Saturday.

Community center slates lectures

The Lafayette Square Community Center will begin a series of Friday night lectures in a preventive community mental health program called "LIFT." Vernon R. Sheffey, executive director of the center, announced.

Presented in collaboration with the State Department of Mental Health and other agencies, the Life and Mental Health Insurance for Today lecture series will begin on April 14.

Dr. Addison W. Pope, regional mental health director, will be the initial speaker. His topic will be "What is a Nervous Breakdown."

ON APRIL 21, Williard Foster will speak to a teenage group at this meeting; an "Alateen group, designed to help teenagers cope with alcoholic parents, will be formed.

Mrs. Helen Padula will discuss geriatric problems on April 28 and "Family and Children's Society" will be the topic under discussion at the May 5 meeting.

LES UNES VIVANTES (The Lively Ones) were hostesses at a shower for two club members, both prospective mothers, Friday evening. Honorees were Mrs. James L. Benton and Mrs. Eugene Byrd, Jr. Shown at the party which was held in the home of Mrs. Patricia Pinckett, are, from left: Miss Sarah Howell, Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Jamsetta Brown, Mrs. Benton, Mrs. Bernite Hite, Mrs. Linda Dobson, Mrs. Judith Neal, Mrs. Pinkett, Mrs. Othella McDonald, Miss Howell and Mrs. Dobson were guests.
