Democratic Club women cite Delegate Victorine Q. Adams

With Lula Jones Garrett

When the Colored Women's National Democratic Campaign Committee of Maryland held its dinner dance at North Point Gardens, Friday evening, they not only paid tribute to the organizer, Delegate Victorine Q. Adams, but serenaded her, since it was her birthday and gifted her with a beautiful silver bowl.

The committee is 20 years old, this month, and was organized, as Mrs. Adams pointed out, when "politicking" by women was not the most popular activity in this city.

And while the organization has grown in numbers and status, she said, there is a continuing need for service for the present and for the months to come, she added.

Mrs. Adams' three-minute speech drew five minutes of applause.

Mrs. Adams looked lovely in the black chiffon which featured an empire line with bodice of crystals hand sewn on black underpinned by flesh chiffon.

Equally chic was Co-chairman Clarice Lav Brooks, whose gown was a tropical print the skirt edged with a narrow band of ostrich, Co-chairman Ruby Anderson in blue and Co - chairman Hortense Press in chic black.

There were scores there to celebrate the anniversary with the ladies, including City Council President Thomas D'Alesandro, Judge Robert Watts (Mrs. Watts wore a lush white silk dinner suit); Charles Tildon, whose financial campaign for Provident Hospital has received support of the club; Archie Williams, attorney; Mrs. Ethel Rich, and Dave Mason, assistant attorney general.

Miss Brooks presided over the short program.

Mrs. Hortense Press welcomed the guests, Miss Pauline Blanchard gave the invocation; a brief memorial was directed by Mrs. Hortense Henry and the presentations made by Mrs. Gladys Barbour and Mrs. Ruby Anderson.

The long evening was devoted to the fun of dining and dancing.

In the roles of hostesses were Mesdames Helen Roy, Edith Stevens, Patricia Thompson, Alma Perry, Anna Gibson, Anna Stokes, Myrtle Johnson, Geneva Griffin, Ethel Club, Pauline Blanchard, Mary Watford, Ethel Daniels, Anita Pleasants, Ruth Turner, Cora Henderson and Ruth Paysour; and Miss Gladys Barbour.

• • •

THE SAME evening Delta Sigma Thetas were swinging at Overlea Hall, for a fine purpose . . . their scholarship fund. And those chic sorors in their fashionable frocks, made me, with my slightly above knee dress, feel positively dowdy. The skirts were mini enough.

• • •

THE NEWLY-ELECTED executive council of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs met, this week, to initiate plans for the next biennium.

Having reviewed the constitution and the basic structure of the organization, each officer offered tentative plans of operation.

The council will hold a one-day district meeting at Len's Oak Grove in Annapolis on June 10th. Mrs. Marian Jones Jackson is receiving reservations.

Composing the executive board of the League are Mesdames Emma Dudley, League president; Margaret Jackson, Cora Gibson, Lillie Strothers, Inez Smith, Florence Williams.

Mesdames Marian Jackson, Thelma Daley, Mabel Scott, Beryl Williams, Virginia Brown; and Misses Sandra East, Vivian Young and Clarice Lav Brooks.
