A picture we see of a beautiful face,
Reflecting an image of heavenly grace—
A picture which shows many traces of care,
And yet an expression of sweetest love there.
The work of an artist the lovellest art—
A picture of "Mother" that is framed in our hearts;
And though she has crossed to her heaven of rest,
Sweet memories of Mother lie wrapped in our breasts,
The print of her footsteps again we can see,
Her voice we hear, saying, "My dears, follow me;"
No artist can paint us a picture so fair;
It takes a true mother, her love, faith and prayer.
Devoted Children:
CARRIE, JAMES,
ELEANORE, ROLAND
and FRANK.

STEVENSON — In loving memory of our dear mother, LILLIAN BEATRICE, who passed away May 5, 1966:
The memory of my mother, oh, it cometh everywhere;
It shineth in the darkness, and it floateth on the air,
It clings to me, it talks to me, through the liveiong day.

That blessed, blessed memory, that dear familiar tone,
As her spirit watches still, and communeth with her own.
Loving Daughter —

No thought of self, but of "the other;"
I know He said: "Well done, dear mother."

Letters From Vietnam

From Vietnam came a letter to a soldier's wife. Enclosed was a poem written by him. From the wife it was sent to the AFRO for all to read.

Dying and Living

Take a man, then put him alone;
Put him 12,000 miles from home.
Empty his heart of all but blood
Make him live and sweat in mud.
This is the life I have to live,
And why my soul to the devil I give.
You "peace boys" rant from your easy chair,
But you don't know what it's like over here.
You have a ball without really trying
While over here, our boys are dying.
You burn your draft cards, march at dawn
Plant your flags on the White House lawn.
You all want to ban the bomb
There's no real war in Vietnam.
Use your drugs and have your fun
And then refuse to use a gun.
There's nothing else for you to do.
And I'm supposed to die for you?
I'll hate you the day I die,
You made me hear my buddy cry.
And I saw his arm a bloody shred,
I hear them say, "This man is dead".
It's a large price he had to pay
Not to live another day.
He had the guts to fight and die.
He paid the price, but what did he buy?
He bought your life by losing his.
But who gives a damn what a soldier gives?
His wife does, and maybe a son.
But they're about the ONLY ONES.

FROM A Douglass High School graduate now stationed in Vietnam, PFC Raymond Brooks, 1103 N. Fulton Ave., comes this poem which was sent to his mother:

A Day in Vietnam

The sun is blazing and very sunny and hot.
Even on a day like this I think of you a lot.
Oh, How nice it would be to have a spring shower,
Or to look about and see a lovely flower.
The days are very long and sad,
I think of the conflict and I'm mad
That it takes me away from you, so sweet and true,
And leaves me with lonliness without you.
The day of the meeting seems so far away,
I look forward to with hope, and pray.
But freedom will come and bells will ring.
Our joyous hearts will stand up and sing.
With our moments now so young and gay.
Let us thank the God who has saved the day.

Mayor Theodore McKeldin also paid tribute to Mrs. Hunter's devotion and dedication and noted the Department of Public Welfare and Department of Rehabilitation term the Home for the Blind "a blessing to the City of Baltimore" Center in the photo with Mrs. Hunter and the mayor is Henry Marshall.

Dr. King escapes injury as hecklers stone car

LOUISVILL, Ky. (UPI) — Displaying a rock hurdled at him during an open housing march Wednesday night, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., vowed that "upon this rock we're going to build an open city and the gates of injustice will not prevail against it."

At a rally of 400 persons in a church following the incident, King pledged to return "in a few days" to lead another march.

The missile struck a window frame of the car in which King was riding while about 70 demonstrators marched through the predominantly white South End Wednesday evening.

There were no injuries as the result of the incident, but the car sped away from the scene.

KING, HIS brother the Rev. A. D. Williams King, Ralph Abernathy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Rev. Leo Lesser, a Louisville Civil rights leader, had driven to the predominantly white South End after a church rally.

With Lesser at the wheel, the car pulled to the curb and Dr. King told an estimated 75 whites:

"We're all brothers, we want a neighborhood where everyone can live together as brothers."

His remarks drew shouts and screams.

Nevertheless, King persevered.

Shortly thereafter the car was pelted with a rock and it drove away. There were no arrests or injuries during the demonstration by about 75 marchers.
