Dental group entertains at Charity Ball

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Maryland Dental Society had their third annual Charity Ball for Provident Hospital Building Fund, on Friday, at Blue Crest North.

The glitter of the chandeliers seemed almost dull when compared to the dazzel made by the ladies in their ball gowns. A few of the notable ensembles were worn by Mrs. Shirley Gordon whose coiffure was done in shades of green and gold to pick up the dominant colors in her paisley gown. Mrs. Jimmy Poindexter, in a white crepe Grecian gown further enhanced the setting which was in the Grecian motif with marble columns and hanging bird cages. Mrs. Llewellyn Walker and Mrs. Ellsworth Rehtta were charming in shades of pink.

The guests were entertained during intermission by Misses Aleyda and Vanessa Alvarez, daughters of Alvero Alvarez, Baltimore's Panamanian consultant, and Mrs. Alvarez. Mr. and Mrs. Alvarez were the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Rodney. The Misses Alvarez performed dances wearing lovely native panamanian costumes.

Dr. Vernon Pennington, so inspired by the dedicated efforts of the Dental Wives, presented a $500.00 personal check to Charles Tildon, director of Fund Raising for the New Provident Hospital.

Each woman guest received a corsage, and orchids were worn by hostesses.

The active members of the Ladies Auxiliary are:

Mrs. Dennis Tribble, president; Mrs. Cyril Ashby, vice-president, Mrs. Benjamin Gordon, recording secretary; Mrs. George Taylor, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. N. Christmas, treasurer; Mrs. Billy Davis, general ball chairman;

Mrs. Martin Rodney, entertainment; Mrs. Robert Phillips, reservations; Mesdames Bruce Alleyne, Curtis Adams, Sidney Burnett, B. H. Christmas, Raymond Hunt, Edward McDaniel, Charles Watts, Mesdames Gladstone Davis, George Woodland and Dr. Maybell Weaver.

Attending the ball were:

MISS SHEPPARD was a long-time member of the Douglass High School faculty and one of the organizers of the Baltimore Section of the National Council of Negro Women.

Miss Sheppard looked perfectly lovely in a rose colored dress and matching hat. It wa an exciting afternoon for the young lady, but not exciting enough to tire her enough to not be at early mass at St. James Episcopal Church next morning.

MISS KATE SHEPPARD

Guests from 6 cities here for Miss Sheppard's 90th birthday

Miss Kate Sheppard reached her 90th birthday, Sunday, but a day earlier (Saturday) friends from six cities gathered at the Sheraton-Baltimore Inn to pay homage to one they termed "much loved."

For more than a half century, Miss Sheppard has been active in organizations and educational circles in this city and in the social life of Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

* * *

THE PARTY, a surprise, drew friends from each of these states, and from other states as well, and because it was difficult to keep a secret from the alert Miss Sheppard, left many diappointed who would have participated in the fete.

But thee were messages from U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall, a former U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall, a former pupil; and from Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin. Miss Essie Hughes, vice principal of Western High School, brought "Jottings from a Former Student's Note Book," and Miss Nellie Buchanan, "Focus on c Past Years."

Dr. Houston R. Jackson, commenting on "Youthful Maturity" pictured Miss Sheppard a a prime example with the requisities of good health, passing on accumulated knowledge, continued activities in church and community and the passession of an array of reciprocated love. Another speaker was Franklyn Hochreiter, executive secretary of the Mayor's Committee on Problems of the Aged.

* * *

MRS. HOUSTON R. JACKSON served as mistress of ceremonie at the testimonial luncheon. She was introduced by Mrs. Cook. Mrs. Leo Foster made the presentation of a check to the honoree. Miss Hermoine Wharton read the birthday message.

Community honors Mrs. Remus Dorsey

JESSUP, Md. — Mrs. Remus Dorsey was honoree at a dinner at Holiday Inn, West, Saturday, when 160 friends gathered to show appreciation for the service she has rendered to the community through her participation in civic and church organizations.

Born in Howard County, Mrs. Dorsey, who lives on Guilford Road, here, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore, pillars of the community. She has one son, Charles, who teaches at Calvert county and who with his wife, the former Clara Jones, are parents of four children.

MRS. DORSEY is woman vice chairman of the Howard County Republican State Central Committee, secretary of the Howard County Council of P.-T.A.'s, and member of the Board of Directors of the Howard County Unit of the Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society.

Master of ceremonies at the testimonial was Douglas B. Sands, who was similarly honored as a native son about a year ago. Mr. Sands is a deputy in the U.S. Department of International Affairs. Tributes to Mrs. Dorsey were given by representatives of some of the organizations to which she belongs including the Rev. Arbie D. Webb, pastor First Baptist Church, Guilford; Robert Kittleman, Republican Central Committee of Howard County; Mrs. Juanita Mitchell of the Maryland State Branches of the NAACP of which the honoree is secretary; the Rev. John W. Holland, president of the NAACP, Mrs. Ralph Greene, chairman of the Howard County Interracial Commission, of which Mrs. Dorsey is secretary;

Also Morris L. Woodson, Coppin State College, who represented the P.-T.A.'s; Mrs. Anita Iribe, Howard County League of Women Voters; and Mrs. Ruth S. James, Howard County School Board and the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Dorsey is Troop Service Director of Community 5 in Area IX of the Girl Scout Council of Central Maryland.

Mrs. REMUS DORSEY

* * *

THE INVOCATION and benediction were given by the Rev. Samuel Moore of Unity Baptist Church, Elkridge. Solos were sung by Charles Conway, Mrs. Gertrude P. Flurry, and Mrs. Barbara Exum, sister of the honoree.

Presenting a corsage of yellow roses to the honoree was Mr. Morris Woodson. The Rev. John W. Holland on behalf of the Howard County Branch of the NAACP presented Mrs. Dorsey with $50 toward a life membership in the National NAACP. She said that other branches in the State of Maryland will do likewise, thus giving the life membership through the state branches.

* * *

MRS. JUANITA MITCHELL, president of the State Branches of the NAACP, presented for that group a plaque. Mrs. Alcinda Bradley made the presentation of a large silver tray from members of the dinner planning committee. Mrs. Dorsey was given flowers and other personal gifts.

Among those on the planning committee were Mrs. Alcinda Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. Elhart E. Flurry, Mrs. Frances Brown, Robert Kittleman, Mrs. Agnes Allen, Mrs. Carrie Johnson, Mrs. Sedonia Blackwell, the Rev. John Holland, and Miss Joyce Minor.

Elhart E. Flurry, vice principal of Clarksville Middle School, presented guests, who included the husband of the honoree.

Bethany in 77th year, installs new minister

The Bethany Baptist Church celebrated its 77th Anniversary recently. The Rev. Roland Johnson, the nephew of the late Rev. Clinton Johnson, was installed as the pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson will be the third generation of ministers to serve Bethany. His grandfather, the Rev. Reuben Johnson, was founder.

The Rev. George Smith was the chairman of the anniversary. The new pastor and his wife, the Rev. Mrs. Sarah Johnson, reside at 792 Grantley Ave.

Attending the Annual Day of the Baltimore South District Women's Society of Christian Service at the Arbutus Methodist Church recently were Mesdames Blanche Powell, Sadie Blocker, Desdemonia Levi, Gladys Burkett, and Gertrude Parker.

MRS. ELIZABETH WALACE, chairman of the Woman's Day rally held recently at the Mt. Winans Methodist Church, led the drive which raised $2,357.80. Mrs. Chlorine Smith served as the co-chairman. The Rev. William E. Brown is the minister.

Special membership pins were presented to Mrs. Hattie Burley on Woman's Day by Mrs. Blanche Powell, secretary, Baltimore Southwest District Wesleyan Service Guild, and to Mrs. Gladys Wallace.

Mrs. Martha Watkins, treasurer, Woman's Society of Christian Service, made this presentation Sunday.

Rev. Johnson honored on Anniversary

The congregation of the Ebenezer Baptist Church marked the eighth anniversary of the pastor, the Rev. Maxwell Johnson at a banquet in the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, Thursday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who came to Ebenezer Baptist Church from the Westwood Baptist Church in Richmond, Va., has, according to Deacon Jefferson Johnson, more than tripled the membership and directed $100,000 improvements to the church edifice.

Mr. Johnson was one of he speakers on the Thursday evening program which followed the dinner.

* * *

OTHER SPEAKERS included Mrs. Iretha Chenault, Mrs. Irene Paige, president of the Women's Convention; Mrs. Mable Gee, Mr. Gladys Patterson and the Rev. Leroy Bowman, all of whom brought greetings from various units of the United Baptist Missionary Convention of Maryland.

A portrait of the Rev. Mr. Johnson was presented by Mrs. Ardelia Lokenan, and presentations of cash gifts to the honoree and to his sons, Sheridan Johnson and William C. Dixon, were made by Mrs. Emma Jackson. Mrs. Johnson was recipient of a silver bowl.

* * *

THE REV. GEORGE FLOYD gave the invocation, and music was by Mrs. Lillie Mae Carter, soloist; a quartet composed of Mrs. Gwendolyn Daye and the wife and sons of the minister; and a chorus by members of Ebenezer.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson is a native of Tamoa, Fla., a veteran of the Pacific and Japan, and a graduate of Florida Memorial College, where he received a B.S. degree.

* * *

HE ATTENDED the School of Divinity at Howard University and Virginia Union University. He received a bachelor of divinity degree from the latter university. He has served as director of the Maryland Baptist Center and School of Religion since 1960. He is married to the former Mrs. Irene S. Dixon, and they have two sons, Sheridan and Clyde.

Theta Nu Sigma cites Mrs. Page

Mrs. Mary Ethel Page, veteran beautician and owner of the Apex Beauty and Barber School, was cited as Beautician of the Year at the 8th annual Mother's Day Award Breakfast given by Theta Nu Sigma Sorority, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Page, who was trained in the Apex School, and who became a member of the staff after her graduation, was recipient of the Baltimore branch from the late Mrs. Sarah Spencer Washington, owner, three months prior to the latter's death.

Since then, Mrs. Page has studied at the University of Maryland and Morgan College.

* * *

IN HER acceptance speech, Mrs. Page urged her sisters to develop more togetherness, to share their skills and to avoid pettiness. "There is enough business for all of you," she told the group.

The honoree received a plaque from the sorority and a large number of gifts from groups and individual admirers.

* * *

ON HAND to see her honored were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Page; a brother, Edward Woodland; and four brothers and sisters-in-law, Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Woodland, Ford Woodland, Russell Woodland and William Woodland.

A score of cousins, aunts and other relatives also attended the breakfast.

* * *

IN ADDITION to directing the Apex School, Mrs. Page has served as State Convention chairman and educational advisor for the Maryland State Beauty Cultural Association.

She is a member of the Empire Development and Investment Association, Woman Power, the People's Democratic Action Organization, the NAACP and the Women's Club, in addition to Business and Professional several social clubs.

* * *

SINCE CHILDHOOD, Mrs. Page has been a member of St. Peter Claver Roman Catholic Church, where she is affiliated with the Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of St. John and the Altar Guild.

Mrs. Margaret C. Mitchell presided at the breakfast program. Father Henry Offer S.S.J., pastor of St. Peter Claver's Church, gave the invocation.

* * *

GUESTS WERE welcomed by Mrs. Ethel Felder. A tribute to mothers was given by Mr. Lillian Tate, and a poem read by Mrs. Christina J. Anderson, basileus of the sorority.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Tross, co-chairman for the affair, introduced Mrs. Page. Mrs. Josephine Monroe was chairman.

Music for the occasion was by Mrs. Hattie Smith and W. Meredith Birche.

* * *

THE BREAKFAST was held in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, and attended by members of the sorority from this city, Washington and Philadelphia.

Among the latter were Mrs. Margaret Fletcher of Philadelphia, supreme basileus of Theta Nu Sigma Sorority; Mrs. Grace Hill, basileus of the Washington chapter; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, Orlando Lee, recently returned from Vietnam; Mrs. Ruth Mathews, and Mrs. Alma West, all of Washington.

Mrs. Christine J. Anderson heads the Baltimore chapter, Alpha Alpha.

RALEIGH, N.C. — Dr. Albert P. Crary, of Washington, the twelfth Public Affairs Forum speaker at Shaw University, informed an audience in Spaulding Gymnasium, "The Antarctic Continent and surrounding oceans were the last areas of our earth to be explored."
