Sister of Enon pastor buried in rites here

Mrs. Laura P. Dickerson, sister of the Rev. Arthur J. Payne, pastor of Enon Baptist Church, died in Charlestown, W. Va. May 15.

Funeral services were held May 19 at Enon Baptist Church in Baltimore with burial in Arbutus Memorial Cemetery.

The Rev. James E. Thomas III presided and was assisted by the Revs. Frank L. Williams, Baxter L. Matthews, Vernon Dobson, Marion Bascom and Ward D. Yerby.

• • •

MRS. DICKERSON was born April 2, 1890, the daughter of the late Mrs. Maggie and James Payne of Baltimore.

She was educated in the Baltimore public schools. A faithful member of the Enon Church she was president of the Utility Circle and the Nurses Unit for many years.

She was at one time a practical nurse and beautician.

She and her first husband, the late Oscar Patterson, were parents of three children. The Rev. Sherlock Patterson is the only one surviving.

Her second husband was the late Roger W. Dickerson.

• • •

MRS. DICKERSON moved to Charlestown five years ago to reside with her son, the Rev. Mr. Patterson.

In addition to the son and brother, surviving are 11 grandchildren; four great grandchildren; two nephews, five nieces and other relatives.

Pallbearers were Joseph C. Brown, Herbert Gardner, Leonard Curtis, and Richard Pennington.

Mrs. Mitchell's complaint opens bail bond investigation

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

Charles E. Moylan Jr., state's attorney, credits the complaint Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell of the NAACP made to his office over a month ago as sparking the investigation which culminated Wednesday in the arrest of a local bail bondsman.

The probe is still going on and may lead to further steps by his office, he stated.

The bondsman, John Tumminello of Johnny's Bail Bond firm in the 200 block E. Lexington St. was taken into custody shortly before 1 p.m. May 24 at his offices.

On May 25 (Thursday) Mr. Moylan and aides Leroy Carroll and John Henry Lewin Jr. took the matter to the Grand Jury as a "special."

The warrant, sworn out by Det. Herbert Armstrong of Mr. Moylan's investigating staff charged Mr. Tumminello with extortion and false pretense in taking the $2,200 life savings of Mrs. Mitchell's Correction inmate for a "fix" to obtain a suspended sentence.

AT ABOUT 12:45 p.m. Wednesday, Det. Armstrong, Sgt. Steve Tabeling and Det. Richard Nevin went from the courthouse to the offices of the bondsman nearby for the dramatic and unusual arrest.

The trio of officers from the State's Attorney's investigating bureau received the signal to close in by the way of electronic eaves-dropping equipment.

The right to use the latest modern device was authorized by Judge James A. Perrott the night before.

The signal was given from inside the office by Robert A. Sewell, 45.

As the prosecuting witness Mr. Sewell had been given a marked sum of $100 to hand the bondsman.

• • •

ACCORDING to information at a special press conference with Moylan, the arrest was made after three weeks of intensive investigation.

Mr. Tumminello is accused of obtaining a total of $2,200 from time to time from Mr. Sewell who on Feb. 24 was given a four-year sentence in the House of Correction for assault with intent to murder.

The money was alleged to have been to "fix" it so he would obtain early release.

Judge James K. Cullen imposed the sentence in February.

Records show that the sentence was suspended April 14 with the condition that Sewell go to Fort Howard Hospital for treatment.

Judge Cullen said he consented to suspend the sentence after a priest who operates a clinic for dope addicts reported he had a bed for Sewell at the hospital.

According to Mr. Moylan, Sewell is under treatment at Walter Reed Hospital outpatient clinic instead.

Mr. Moylan revealed that the "fix" promise was made by Tumminello on a trip to see Sewell at the House of Correction where he advised the sentence could be suspended if the money were paid.

Further investigation is being handled by members of the States Attorney's Investigation Bureau and Assistant States Attorneys Carroll and Lewin.

• • •

MR. SEWELL went to the NAACP in Baltimore for aid last month.

A spokesman for the Baltimore Branch NAACP told the AFRO Thursday the man is formerly of St. Mary's County and father of six children.

A Korean War veteran, master sergeant, member of the Military Police and serviceman of 19 years, he is on temporary relief from active duty because of his war injuries.

He was wounded three times, the representative stated, first in World War II and later in the Korean War when part of his face was shot away. Since his countenance was rebuilt through plastic surgery he has been under treatment at Walter Reed Hospital.

Test change brings bumper draft crop

The number of colored youths found acceptable for the draft rose sharply in 1966 as compared to 1965, an Army report shows.

With draft calls increasing and qualification standards lower, 42.5 per cent of the colored youths given pre-induction examinations were accepted in contrast to 29.2 percent two years ago.

The proportion of whites passing pre - induction tests rose moderately from 60.4 per cent in 1965 to 64.8 per cent in 1966.

During 1966, 172,971 colored men were examined and 73,498 were accepted for the military. Among others, 1,436,415 took the tests and 930,699 were approved for military service.

• • •

THE BIG differences in both years were in the educational field, with 27.1 per cent of the colored draftees failing mental tests in 1966. And another 12.1 per cent classified as "of limited trainability."

The ratios of whites in these two categories were 4.5 and 3.1 per cent, respectively.

In 1965, however, 35.3 per cent of the colored people failed mental tests and 18.7 per cent were considered to be of limited trainability.

• • •

IN SOUTHERN states, the numbers failing to pass mental tests dropped from 43.6 to 34.4 per cent in Alabama; from 37.5 to 33.9 in Florida; from 52.3 to 46.5 percent in Georgia;

From 51.4 to 43.3 in Mississippi; from 52.1 to 37.6 per cent in North Carolina; and from 57.3 to 44.2 per cent in South Carolina.

The report showed that only 12.5 per cent were disqualified solely for medical reasons, whereas 25.3 per cent of non-colored youths qualified solely for medical grounds.

Urban League exec urges emphasis on social planning

DALLAS — "Physical planning for the cities is meaningless without social planning," Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director, National Urban League, and president, National Conference of Social Welfare, said today in an address before the National Conference's 94th Annual Forum devoted to "Humanizing the City."

He challenged the nation's social workers to recognize "the special contribution you have to make if the crisis of the cities is to be resolved on human and humane terms," and accalimed the "new prominence given social planning, in and out of the Federal Government."

Young characterized the nation's metropolitan areas as "urban complexes which despite the youth of the country are rotting at the core, already
