Witnesses baptize 29

Twenty-nine persons were baptized during a three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses here this past weekend.

The convention, held at the State Theatre, drew over 2,400 Witnesses from 17 Baltimore congregations.

The weekend's activities began on Friday with a mass meeting of Witnesses which was patterned after the regular weekly meeting held throughout the year. Saturday's meeting was devoted entirely to the door-to-door ministry of the Witnesses.

Highlight of the covention came Sunday as conventioneers crowded into the State Theatre to view a film which traces the story of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation entitled, "God Cannot Die."

Robert G. Holmes, circuit supervisor of the Baltimore congregations, presided.

The Jehovah's Witnesses are a society of Bible students who seek to spread the word of God through their door-to-door ministry.

Arena Players present second annual awards

By ADAH K. JENKINS

EVENT OF THE WEEK — The second annual Awards Presentation by the Arena Players at the Eastwind, was attended by a large and distinguished audience, recently. With Mike James, from WBR presiding, events moved at an entertaining clip. After greetings from Mrs. Camilla Sherrard, president of the Arena Board, who received a standing ovation, congratulations were extended by Thomas d'Alesandro, president of the City Council.

Vacountess Payne, a veteran Arena Player, afforded a solemn note with her beautiful prayer.

Presentations were then in order, the first being a plaque presented by Sam Wilson, manager director of the Arenas, to Mrs. Morris A. Mechanic in recognition of her dedication, with her late husband, "to the activities of the living theatre . . . and to making possible the Mechanic Theatre in Baltimore."

The second honoree was Miss Ellen Stewart, founder and director of the New York experimental theatre, La Mama, where 200 plays by over 100 new playwrights have been presented. Irv Turner, one of the stars in Arena's first play, made the presentation.

CITATIONS were given Whitney LeBlanc for his outstanding contribution as professor of drama at Towson State College and to Mrs. Mary Carter Smith, long-time Arena player, for her achievements in cultural and civic projects.

Presentations were made by Mrs. Annette Curton and Jerry Levin. A tribute was paid the late Langston Hughes, who was expected in Baltimore this week for the opening of his "Tamborines to Glory" at the Arena Playhouse. Mr. Wilson read a moving quotation from his autographed copy of Mr. Hughes' last book.

Baltimore's own Sallie Blair, pretty and as exuberant as ever, in a shocking pink chiffon, was given a grand welcome.

It was a toss up as to who it enjoyed it more, the vibrant voiced entertainer or the audience, as she made delightful quips at her wonderful family and her former English teacher, Miss Ethel Wise.

The top-notch singer was in rare form and brought down the house with three imitations to the exhilerating rhythm of the Fuzzy Kane Trio.

Miss Blair will be at the Club Harlem in Atlantic City the weeks of July 29 and August 20.

The irrepressible Hyman Pressman composed on the spot a poem to Sallie Blair. Congratulations were read from Governor Tawes, whose letter of commendation prefaced the handsome souvenir programs and from Mayor McKeldin.

An exhibition of the latest rock 'n roll was given by Marie Bailey, and John Taylor (choreographer).

The program concluded with the presentation of the Ladies Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Blanche McRae and of the entire Arena Players membership, who led the opening dance for a social hour.

The closing show for this season will take place at Arena Playhouse, 405 Orchard St. the weekends of June 3, 10 and 17.

Victor Myrik will conduct the music.

NAACP babies in contest

The Baltimore branch of the NAACP will sponsor a baby contest at 2 p.m., Sunday at the Sharp Street Methodist Church.

The title of the contest is "Human Dolls on Parade for Freedom."

The first place winner will receive a gold loving cup.

Votes will be tallied in proportion to cash contributions made in the name of the babies.

This is an annual affair of the NAACP and has been an instrumental fund raising activity each year.

Civil Service recruiting Meade laundry help

The Civil Service Commission has announced that it is now accepting applications for laundry workers for summer positions at Ft. Meade.

There are no specific experience requirements for these positions but applicants must be at least 18 years of age.

Hours of work will be from 4 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. and employees will be paid a night differential.

Ft. Meade officials will arrange transportation to the base.

Those wishing to apply should contact the U.S. Civil Service at the Main Post Office Building.

Coppin courses

mentary school science for classroom teachers, administrators, and science consultants. Units of subject matter will be presented through assigned readings, lectures, demonstrations, and discussion. There will also be demonstrations in which students participate, selected laboratory work, and field trips.

Basic courses and other offerings leading to the B.A. and B.S. degrees are a part of the summer curriculum.

Registration takes place on June 21-22.

Classes begin June 26.

Upper Ten-plus hosts supper party

A party long to be talked about was the elegant black tie affair given by that new couples club, the Upper Ten. Plus at the Hollyday Room in the Village of Cross Keys on Monday evening.

The decor was aqua and white which matched the invitations. Particularly exquisite — the table decorations designed and made by Mrs. David Wright, a member of the group.

Eyecatcher — the fruit and Hors d' oeuvres table prepared by DeShields and from breakfast (coffee and buns) were the guests left the party sometime around one ayem.

GUESTS all beautifully gowned, danced within an overhead canopy to the music of Jimmy Smith and his swinging band.

Something new at this dance: On each table was a copy of the club guest list so which guests dined all evening.

Waiters served hot hors d' oeuvres and a continental that everybody knew who was expected . . . and get this only two guests failed to show!
