"Ignored landmarks" TV 11 topic

Natives of Baltimore often ignore the many famous landmarks that surround the city, according to Mr. Wilbur Hunter, director of the Peale Museum. Mr. Hunter will be the tour-guide for "Invisible Baltimore," a four-part series exploring the city's historical sights, beginning on June 4, at 4 p.m., on WBAL-TV 11.

Four counties receive state poverty funds

S. Edward Smith, executive director of the Maryland Office of Economic Opportunity, this week announced that anti-poverty grants in the total amount of $183,177 have recently been received by four Maryland Counties and have been approved by Governor Spiro T. Agnew.

The Frederick County Community Action Committee, Board of County Commissioners, received a grant of $67,643 for a summer Head Start program which will enroll 378 pre-school children from low income families in 25 classes at eleven centers throughout Frederick County. The program will focus on child development. Exploratory and creative activities, rather than academic-oriented activities will be carried out.

Each child will receive a complete medical and dental examination and follow-through treatment.

The Washington County Community Action Council received a grant of $71,629 to conduct a summer Head Start program in Washington County which will enroll 340 pre - school children of disadvantaged families at ten centers.

• • •

A GRANT of $12,870 to conduct a summer Head Start program in Kent County for 50 pre-school children was received by the Kent County Board of Education. The project director, Stanley E. Wilson, will work directly under the Superintendent of Schools of Kent County and will also function in cooperation with the newly organized Kent-Queen Anne's-Talbot Area Council.

A grant of $11,035 has been received by Bowie State College in Prince George's County, Maryland, for its third summer Head Start program. The college is required to develop close coordination with the Prince Georges County Community Action Agency in the Operation of the program. Sixty pre-school children from Bowie Town, Fletchertown and Duckettsville will be enrolled in the program which will be conducted at the college. Dr. Marjorie H. Parker, who directed the 1965 and 1966 programs will be the director again this summer.

Morning Star plans annual Men's Day

The Rev. James D. Rice, pastor of the Roanoke Baptist Church in Hot Springs, Arkansas will deliver the sermon at the 52nd annual men's day service Sunday at the Morning Star Baptist Church.

The Rev. Rice, an active civil rights leader, was pastor of the church in 1963 when it was destroyed by a fire of mysterious origin.

Since that time the church has been restored.

Morning Star Baptist Church is located on West Fayette Street near Carrollton Avenue.

Walbrooks split, gird for Leones

Walbrook baseballer, striving to keep the sandlot game alive in the city, won two contests and lost one in weekend action.

Under new manager Richard Doswell, the Walbrook nine whipped Shillers Furniture, 11-5, in Interclub Unlimited League play on Saturday, then came back Sunday to divide a doubleheader with Union Printers. Pitcher Lamont Davis hurled a 3-2 win after his mates lost a 6-0 opener in the Baltimore Major League competition.

Tomorrow (Saturday), Walbrook takes on the Baltimore Pirates at 3 p.m. at Druid Hill 1, then on Sunday plays host to the tought Leone's aggregation in a 2 p.m. doubleheader.

Bonus war's end no pain for Colts' Bubba Smith

By SAM LACY

BALTIMORE

Maybe the bidding war is over in professional football, but Bubba Smith has no reason to be upset.

The mammoth defensive lineman who won unanimous A l l-America honors while playing the last two years at Michigan State, was signed to a Baltimore Colts contract here Thursday morning.

No terms were disclosed by either Harry Hulmes, Baltimore general manager, or Smith, who was the No. 1 pick in the college draft last March. But evidence that Bubba "came out all right" is couched in the fact that the prize rookie admits being "happy" about things.

• • •

SMITH, LIKE most of the present crop of young collegians, expressed disappointment last year when the National and American football leagues merged. The merger had the dual effect of creating a common draft and killing the battle of the bonus.

This meant that promising college players no longer would be able to attract bids in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"We realized we wouldn't get as much as the fellows who came along earlier like Johnny Roland, Mike Garrett, etc. — but I'm happy about the way things turned out," Babba told the AFRO.

• • •

"OF COURSE, it's club policy not to reveal anything in connection with our player negotiations," declared Hulmes. "The end of the 'war' put an end to excessive bonus payments.

"We had to go high for Ray Perkins (pass-receiver from Alabama), but you remember he was signed before the merger.

"As to whether Bubba is happy, that is something he will have to say. The fact that he has signed proves he's satisfied. And I cansay the Colts are happy."

Smith indicated that he would have chosen Baltimore (and the National Football League) even if there had been no common draft. "I liked the NFL in general, and the Colts in particular," he said.

• • •

COACH Don Shula told the Thursday morning press conference that Smith will report to McDonogh School, along with 19 other rookie hopefuls on July 11.

The group will practice twice a day and go through an indoctrination period, after which (on July 13), Smith, Grambling rookie Norm Davis, Michigan's Richie Volk and Perkins will be excused to fly to Chicago to join the College All Stars for their August game against the Green Bay Packers.

• • •

"IN ALL probability," Shula reported, "Bubba will be tried first at an inside defensive line position. His amazing quickness off the ball, his size and over-all strength indicate that he will develop into an outstanding pass rusher.

"We have had a small defensive line in recent years and we're getting some age there. Bubba figures to give us instant size and youth."

IC4-A elects Eddie Hurt

VILLANOVA, Pa. — Edward (Eddie) Hurt, track coach and director of athletics at Morgan State College, was elected president of the IC4A Track Coaches Association here Friday.

Coach Hurt, whose one-mile outdoor relay teams won championships in 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965 and 1966, succeeds James P. Tuppeny, track coach of the University of Pennsylvania.

• • •

OTHERS ELECTED were William Gilligan, Boston College, first vice-president; James H. Kehoe, University of Maryland, second vice-president; Irving L. Kintisch, Manhattan, third vice-president; and Stephen H. Bartold, St. John's, secretary-treasurer.

This IC4A Track Coaches Association is composed of coaches from 68 colleges and universities mostly from the northeast section of the country. It is celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Hurt, a graduate of Howard and Columbia universities, came to Morgan in 1929. Morgan has been a member of the IC4A since 1961.

Davis Cuppers better watch Army, not Ecuador

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The United States Davis Cup team has completed the formality of winding up an elimination match against Mexico.

And perhaps the Americans had better worry more about the U.S. Army than their next opponent, Ecuador.

Arthur Ashe wrapped up the North American zone elimination match Monday with a victory over Rafael Osuna of Mexico, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

That gave the U.S. its third victory in the best-of-five tourney, and it was all over but the shouting— and Uncle Sam.

• • •

THE TEAM can worry about Ashe's status with the Army. Lt. Ashe revealed that his leave from Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., was up Monday.

"I suppose they'll just dock me a day's pay when I get back," he said.

The Army, however, has been known o take a stricker view of soldiers overstaying their furloughs, and the U. S. teams needs Ashe when it takes on Educador, which won the South American Elimination match against Argentina Sunday.
