Morgan, BJC to share $24,055 federal grant

Baltimore Junior College and Morgan State College have been awarded a $24,055 grant under Title I of the 1965 Higher Education Act of 1965.

The grant will provide the institutions with funds to assist in the education of and underemployment problems in the greater Baltimore area.

The proposed program was developed by Dr. William V. Lockwood, dean of the Evening Division at the junior college; Dr. Homer E. Favor, director of the Urban Affairs Institute at Morgan and H. William Hammond, director of research at the junior college.

Mr. Hammond will also act as program coordinator.

It is significant that this the first time that two institutions of higher education in the State of Maryland have joined forces to attack unemployment problems on one hand and the utilization of untapped human resources on the other.

THE PROPOSAL provides for a comprehensive program designed to secure training and employment opportunities for young unemployed men and women.

The basic goal of the program is to utilize the full resources of Morgan State College and Baltimore Junior College to make a significant contribution toward breaking the cycle of poverty.

An important objective of the program is to educate the community to employment needs in the Baltimore area businesses, and occupational groups.

Carver turns out 267 graduates
