Viet fighter raps King, Carmichael

CAMP BEARCAT, South Vietnam (NPI) — Civil rights leaders' opposition to the Vietnam fighting is doing the rights cause "more harm than good," an Army captain has charged.

Capt. Earle McCaskill, assistant judge advocate, Ninth Infantry division, singled out Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Stokeley Carmichael for criticism.

"I don't think they have any business getting civil rights mixed up with Vietnam."

Dr. King may have a point, the captain said, when he charges that billions of dollars spent in Vietnam could be used to help impoverished colored people

"But I think that he makes a false assumption when he concludes that the money would be used for that purpose if there were no war going on," Capt. McCaskill added.

* * *

MAINTAINING that discrimination among soldiers is minimal in Vietnam, Capt. McCaskill spoke, however, of "subtle traces" of bias in promotions and assignments to key command posts.

He said there was a "sort of informal quota system — only so many colored officers make major, even if all are the best qualified."

Few are above the rank of lieutenant colonel in all the services, he said.

1429 McCulloh okayed for boys club

The old Masonic Temple at 1439-31 McCulloh St. will soon be the new home of the Western Police Boys Club, which has been located at 1601 N. Calhoun St. since 1955.

The Board of Estimates was told Wednesday that the move is necessary because the Calhoun St. building belongs to Ames Memorial Methodist Church, Carey and Baker Sts., whose officials plan a youth program there.

The club must vacate the building by the coming Tuesday.

In a letter to the Board, Deputy Commissioner Wade H. Poole, of the Police Department's Operations Bureau, said Buddies Inc. has made available $10,000 for renovations of the McCulloh St. building.

He said also the organization will pay for its maintenance and operation.

The Board of Estimates approved the lease of the new site at a $1 a year rate from the city.
