South Quiet As Many Congressmen Praise Thurgood

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's appointment of Thurgood Marshall to the Supreme Court drew quick praise Tuesday from many members of Congress, but opposition or silence from most Southerners.

"Great appointment," was the response from several Northern liberals when they heard that Johnson had nominated the first colored lawmaker as a member of the court.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D.-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, praised the appointment and described Marshall as "a brilliant lawyer, a dedicated public servant and a man of vision and dignity."

* * *

BUT SEN. Strom Thurmond, R.-S.C., indicated he might vote against confirmation. He said Marshall had "many qualifications from the standpoint of both training and experience, but his past activities make it clear that he adheres to the most liberal possible interpretation of the Constitution."

Thurmond said the appointment "will unquestionably tip the scales overwhelmingly in favor of the so-called liberal viewpoint on the court, and will, I fear, increase the possibilities of even more far-reaching and dangerous decisions by the court."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., a ranking member of the Senate Judiciary Committee who has led the Dixie fight against much civil rights legislation, said he had "no comment."

Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., said he was surprised at the nomination, which must be confirmed by the Senate, but refused to comment further. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., also would not comment.

One Southerner, however, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., called Marshall a "lawyer's lawyer" with a great future on the court.

* * *

REP. JOHN CONYERS JR., D-Mich., the first colored member of the House Judiciary Committee, said Marshall's appointment was "another milestone toward the fulfillment of America's promise of equal opportunity for all."

Conyers said Marshall's previous judicial and legal experience "will undoubtedly make him one of the great Supreme Court Justices."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., recalled that as Attorney General he had recommended Marshall for the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals and said he believed "he'd make a fine justice."

Kennedy said Marshall had done "outstanding work" on the Circuit bench and has been a "fine Solicitor General."

Sen. Charles N. Percy, R-Ill., called Marshall a "magnificent person" who has displayed an "able, quick mind" and legal competence.

SEN. MARK O. HATFIELD, R.-Ore., said that Marshall has had a "most distinguished record of public service."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R.-Mich., predicted the nomination will be "confirmed without difficulty" by the Senate.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D.-Conn., who has figured on occasion in Supreme Court speculation, said Johnson made "a great appointment of a man who is more than qualified — a man who will serve on the court with great distinction."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., the Senate Republican whip, said Marshall "was a splendid Circuit Court judge and a splendid Solicitor General. He is well qualified for Judicial service."

Sen. James B. Pearson, R.-Kans., also stressed Marshall's qualifications for service on the Supreme Court. "He's a good lawyer," Pearson said.

Va. ME's merge tan church and United Brethren group

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI) — The Virginia Methodist ANNUAL Conference voted Tuesday to merge with the Evangelical United Brethern and to pave the way for absorbing colored churches into conference membership.

The vote to merge the two large churches was 913 to 72. A two-thirds vote nationwide will be required.

The vote to eliminate racial barriers in the Methodist Church structure was 713 to 258, but short of a two-thirds margin which will be required nationally. The resolution would lead to the dissolution of the North Carolina-Virginia Annual Conference, a colored methodist body.

The colored churches within Virginia would eventually be accepted into theVirginia Methodist Annual Conference if the two-thirds vote is achieved nationally.

The Virginia Methodists also voted to hike the minimum pay for ministers to $5,100. The current pay minimum is $4,800 annually for married ministers and $4,500 for single ministers.

The conference delgates also elected five ministers as Delegates to the general conference to be held later this year. The elected men included the Revs. Dr. Carl Sanders, Norfolk; Dr. Roland Riddick, Arlington; Dr. Harold H. Hughes, Arlington; George Lightner, Roanoke; and Dr. Harold Fink, Danville.

John Watson

A stroke claimed the life of [illegible] War II Infantryman, John (Eggie) Watson of 1801 Pennsylvania Ave.

Mr. Watson, 50, died Monday while working on his job in South Baltimore.

While in the service, he spent 11 months fighting in Italy. Upon his discharge, he was awarded the Good Conduct Medal and three battle stars.

Funeal services were held today (Friday) at Kelson Funeral Home. Burial was in Baltimore National Cemetery.

Mr. Watson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Watson; a daughter, Paulette Watson and a sister, Mrs. Mammie Wingate.

Rev. Wood will deliver TV 11 sermon

The Rev. Marcus Wood of the Providence Baptist Church in Baltimore will discuss the qualities that he feels should be present in a "Christin home" when he guests on Sunday Sermon on-Sunday, at 9 a.m. on WBAL-TV 11.

The sermon, entitled "The Making of a Christian Home," will be highlighted by several selections by the Providence Baptist Church Octet under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Contee, who will also provide musical accompaniment on the Television 11 console organ.

ASSIGNED TO SHARP" The Rev. Forrest C. Suth, pastor of Douglas Memorial Methodist Church, Washington, was appointed to Sharpe Street Methodist Church in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Gaines dies

Mrs. Aleathia Gaines, one of the oldest members of New Union Baptist Church, died in her home at 1220 W. Lanvale St. on Tuesday.

'Natural courses' was listed as course of death.

Mrs. Gaines, 87, had been an active member of New Union Baptist since coming to Baltimore from Halifax County, Va.

She was a member of the choir and treasurer for one of the church organizations.

* * *

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held 11 a.m. Saturday, at New Union Baptist Church. Burial will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Mrs. Gaines is survived by her son, Paul Gaines; daughter, Henrietta Johnson; and cousin, Mrs. Minnie Holmes.
