add even more prominence to his already well-established place in American history."

AS SOLICITOR General, Marshall was the No. 3 man in the Justice Department and argued on the government's behalf before the Supreme Court in major cases.

The new justice was born in Baltimore July 2, 1908 and graduated Cum Laude from Lincoln University in Pennsylvania but only after having been expelled in his sophmore year for hazing freshmen.

He then entered Howard University Law School where he recalls: "I got the horsin' around out my system. I heard lawbooks were to dig in. So I dug, way deep."

The nominee is a six-footer who weighs around 210 pounds.

Mr. Justice Marshall is married to the former Miss Cecelia Suyat. They have two sons, Thurgood, Jr., 11, and John William, 9.

Other living relatives include several cousins.

Welter title bout date moved back

DALLAS — The date for the title fight between welterweight champion Curtis Cokes and Philadelphia's Gypsy Joe Harris has been moved from June 27, to either July 24 or 31, at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

The change was made because Cokes' manager, Doug Lord, has been called to report for summer camp in the Air National Guard.

The fight originally was scheduled for July 21, but it later was moved to June 27.

Harris won a 10-round decision over Cokes in New York's Madison Square Garden earlier this year to earn the shot at the title.

Fortune faces stiff jail term for lottery

Randolph Fortune, 1900 block Gwynns Falls Parkway faces a stiff sentence this week for January lottery law violations at what a Criminal Court judge termed "his substation operation" in the 3700 block Boarman Ave.

Unless the court medical department finds his recent operation at Hopkins Hospital will not permit confinement to jail, the well-known 68-year-old man will receive a long prison term and heavy fines as a five-time loser.

Before the Wednesday trial when he was found guilty as a large operator by Judge J. Harold Grady, Mr. Fortune had four other convictions for 1945, 1947, 1957 and 1964.

IN DIRECTING Asst. States Attys. Joseph Howard and Barrett Friedlander to bring in the report on Mr. Fortune's health, Judge Grady said, "See if he can stand jail because that's just where he is going, and, for quite awhile."

The raid in which Mr. Fortune was arrested was at a residence in the 3700 block Boarman Ave. at 1:10 p.m. Jan. 23.

When Rackets Squad officers crashed in through the front door Mr. Fortune was sitting at a telephone in the dining room, a ballpoint pen in his hand and 25 slips indicating 1,479 numbers with $616.45, the day's play, spread out on the table before him, it was testified.

By his chair was a briefcase containing 14 tapes from 14 stations a master tape indicating $15,797 in play.

DRESSED IN pale yellow trousers and a yellow plaid testify. However, members of shirt, Mr. Fortune did not the raiding party said he was conducting lottery business over the phone.

Quipped Judge Grady, "Well, Mr. gfortune wasn't dialing for dollars."

ALSO FOUND guilty along with Mr. Fortune were Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Vivian) Fallin. Mrs. Fallin, 33, is a well - known singer and her husband, 34, has been employed at the chevrolet plant 13 years.

Representing Mr. and Mrs. Fallen and Mr. Fortune were James McAllister and Maurice Seigel.

The Fallins own the Boarman Ave. two - story brick porch front row house which was established by the court as the next vacancy.

Evers said he was not opposed to West's appointment but took issue with the appointment not going into effect until next spring.

WEST IS a graduate of Southern University Law School Baton Rouge, La., and has been serving as an instructor at Natchez Junior College, a colored institution.

Victory in school board appointment

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI) — Natchez colored folk won a long, hardfought battle Tuesday night when a member of their race was named to the local school board.

The new appointee, George West Jr., son of a funeral director, was elected unanimously by the Natchez Board of Aldermen to fill the unexpired term of the late R. Hicks Parker.

The action came in the wake of an economic boycott of white merchants called by Negro leaders when the aldermen reappointed a white man to the school board last March.

A few weeks later, the aldermen voted 4-2 to appoint West to the all-white board effective March 1, 1968, but colored leaders charged this was "unacceptable" and the boycott remained in effect.

At the time, Civil Rights leader Charles Evers said the city had promised a non-white would be named to fill as the base of Mr. Fortune's operation.

The wife and husband were given individual six months sentences, suspended upon good behavior for two years, and $1,000 fines making the and $1,000 fines each plus court costs.

Mrs. Fallin, smartly dressed in beige and black, was termed "a small player."

She was in the kitchen at the time of the January raid but in her handbag in the bedroom was a slip with 12 numbers indicating $6 in play, four dream books, 10 cut-cards, rubber bands and money wrappers.

Judge Grady found in a composition book containing 17,847 numbers, notes she admitted writing to her husband from time to time.

"Donald, please pick me up at such-and-such a time — Love — Vi."

MR. FALLIN was in the shower at the time of the raid.

Although no lottery was found on him in the shower, Judge Grady said evidence showed Mr. Fallin was aware of the lottery operation in his home.

In testifying to the size of the operations, rackets squad officers said $614.15 in play on the dining room table was take "for that part of the day."

They also testified to Mr. Fortune's "large book," "small book," hits and percentages.

Additional lottery confiscated included 93 slips with 12,737 slips indicating $4,154 in play in the dining room cabinet.

The warrant for the raid was based in part, according to testimony, on "a conversation overheard in the street."
