Use eggs at peak goodness

For the best flavor and cooking quality, use eggs within a week after purchase, advise USDA food specialists. After long storage they may get an "off flavor" and they may lose some thickening and leavening power.

Put eggs in the refrigerator as fast as possible after you buy them. They will lose as much freshness in a few hours in a hot car or kitchen as they will lose in a week in the refrigerator.

LEFTOVER egg yolks should be covered with cold water and refrigerated in a tightly covered container. Extra egg whites should be stored in the refrigerator in a tightly covered container. It is best to use leftover yolks and whites within a day or two.

Leftover egg yolks make a good custard. Use 2 egg yolks for each whole egg in custard recipes. Extra egg whites combine well with whole eggs in scrambled eggs and souffle and are handy for meringue. Egg whites may also be used in icings, candy, chiffon desserts and of course in white cakes.

Yolks poached hard and pressed through a sieve or potato ricer make a colorful topping for salads, casserole dishes and green vegetables.

Eggs stuffed with crabmeat is a nutritious main dish salad recipe tested and developed by USDA food specialists.

If your market does not have fresh crabmeat you can use canned crabmeat.

THE COUPLES Club donned play clothes, swerved down to Arundel-On-The-Bay for their last meeting of the year, Sunday.

Their minds, however, were more on fun than on funds (its an investment group), though the chairman of the stocks committee, Bill Stanford, did pass a portfolio report to each member.

Those who didn't settle down to cards, settled down to gossip . . . but all settled for a steady march to the buffet when the Franklin Deshieldses (the caterers) advised dinner was being served. And a feast it was!

The couples hosting included James and Yvette Murphy, Thomas and Dellaphine Warrington, Seretha and Lonnie Greene, John and Ethel Rich, Charles and Mary Catherine Law, William and Edna Stafford, and Cliff and Lula Mackay.

Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Russell, Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson, Dr. and Mrs. Al Burwell, John Gaither, Mrs. Victorine Adams, Dr. S. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hythe,

Mr. and Mrs. Doward Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson, Mrs. Edgar Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Veney.
