Clean Block Sidelights

By LINDA CALLOWAY

The June 30 meeting of the AFRO Clean Block was officially started when the Clean Block director, Mrs. Jeanette B. Leath, asked the representations from the various blocks to stand and recite the Lord's Prayer.

The "Clean Block Lady" told the representatives how happy she was to see so many of them out in such bad weather. "This shows that you are very faithful workers," she said.

• • •

AN EXPLANATION was given about the distribution of the trash containers to each block.

Mrs. Leath told the workers that because of the changing of the colors of the cans, only one can would be delivered per block this year.

"We are in hopes of receiving drums from the Humble Oil Company to help us with our trash container problem," she added.

The workers were told how urgent it was for them to turn in all of their registration papers so that they would be fully registered.

• • •

NEAR THE end of the rally the captains from various blocks were asked to come forward and give other workers an idea of just what they are doing and what has been accomplished.

Here are some of the statements made:

"Money has been collected for paint . . . 24 children are working with us . . . We are coming along fine," said Mona Addison, 2000 block E. Preston Street's captain.

• • •

"WE HAVE cleaned many alleys . . . we are constantly picking up cans and bottles. we plan to get flower boxes," said Capt. Willie Young, 1800 Lauretta Ave.

• • •

"WE ARE having some difficulties — old refrigerators have to be moved away, and nobody wants to get up in the morning," said Capt. Bernetta Carter, 1700 N. Chapel St.

• • •

"SOME PEOPLE haven't painted their steps yet," said Capt. William Kelly, 1100 Shields Pl.

• • •

"DURING THE wintertime the adults cleaned the block while the children are in school —we have finished our painting . . . Everyone cooperates . . . our color scheme is lavender and white," said Capt. Floyd Patterson, 1600 Hoffman St.

• • •

"THE KIDS just don't want to get up to work," said Capt. Charles Peaker, 900 Argyle Ave.

• • •

"OUR COLOR scheme is green and white . . . all our painting is done and almost all our alleys are clean," said Capt. Fannie Smith, 100 S. Catherine St.

• • •

"WE GET UP at 6 a.m . . . Our color scheme is red and white . . . All our painting is completed," said Capt. Cynthia Smith, 1200 Jefferson St.

• • •

"WE GET UP at 7.30 a.m. . . . some don't participate . . . We work three times a day. Our colors are red and white," said Capt. Beverly Brown, 300 Schroeder.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are yellow, blue, and white . . . our painting is finished . . . We work everyday," said Coretha Gough, 500 Baker Street's captain.

• • •

"THE PAINTING is finished . . . Our colors are white and blue," said Capt. Cynthia Baxter, 2200 Brunt St.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are aqua and white . . . One family will not participate . . . we work from 7 to 12 o'clock in the morning and 1 to 4 in the afternoon and at night," said Capt. Brenda Henderson, 100 Franklintown Rd.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are yellow and white . . . we have bought our flowers . . . children participate in cleaning up," said Vance Yarborough captain of 1200 Short Ct.

• • •

"WE HAVE collected $12 to help with our expenses . . . Many people participate in clean up block," said Capt. Henry D. Jackson 1400 E. Lafayette Ave.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are white and green," said Capt. Donald Summerville, 1400 N. Bethel St.

• • •

"OUR PAINTING is finished . . . Our colors are green and white," said Jeanette Williams, 2400 Woodbrook's captain.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are green and white," said Geraldine McClairn, captain of 1200 Woodford.

• • •

"OUR COLORS are royal blue, red and white," said Capt. Yvette Boone, 1206 Yeong Ct.

Mrs. Leath told the workers that they should practice unity among one another.

Somerset holds tenant meeting

Approximately 125 tenants attended a meeting last week, for residents living in Somerset Homes.

Benjamin Brown, project manager, was away attending the National Housing Conference in New York City. Mrs. Juanita Harris, social service aide, a very charming person with a dynamic personality, carried on the meeting.

For this meeting special guests were invited, including Mrs. Betty Siedel of Girl Scouts; James David, director of East Baltimore Citizens Group, and Clean Block director Jeanette B. Leath.

MRS. HARRIS, in her message to the tenants, congratulated the residents for their interest in many of the homes. She spoke of how many children had been engaged in cleaning-up, planting flowers, washing windows, etc.

For the betterment of the community and for the convenience of the tenants and for those interested in joining the AFRO Clean Block Campaign, garden instruments, brooms, rakes, garden hoses, paint and other necessary equipment have been made available by the management.

Already many of the courts have expressed a desire to join the summer drive, sponsored by the AFRO-AMERICAN.

• • •

CAPTAIN O'DONELL of the Eastern Police District has been contacted by Mrs. Harris, to give more protection to the people in this project.

Late at night, and especially on week-ends, teenagers many times invade the area and vandalize.

For the young children, a shower pole is to be installed for their pleasure and comfort in the play area. Playground equipment has been painted to add beauty to the grounds.

• • •

SOMERSET is fortunate in having in its midst a dedicated VISTA worker, Richard Byrd, who is always ready to assist tenants in the area.

He is constantly helping those who need aid, stimulating interest for the betterment of the community. One of his chief interests is the Tutorial Program, helping those boys and girls who need assistance in their schoolwork.

Last year, students from Goucher, Morgan and Towson State Teachers College, held sessions with the children three times a week at Somerset to tutor in math and reading. This of course was on a voluntary basis.

• • •

AT THE close of school 200 youngsters received certificates of participation.

Mr. Byrd, native of New York, has completed a year at Somerset rendering valuable service to those who needed it, and he has signed up for another year at Somerset.

As mentioned before, he is a "Volunteer in Service to America," a Federal program.

City gives $500 to Clean Block

The Board of Estimates last week approved the annual AFRO Clean Block contribution of $500.

"The AFRO Clean Block renders a great service to the city of Baltimore," said Clean Block Director Jeanette B. Leath," and it is because of this, we receive support for our campaign."

From the F and M Schaefer Brewing Co., a check for $37.50 for two U.S. Savings Bonds was sent in with best wishes for the success of the 1967 Clean Block Campaign, from Joseph J. Waters, vice president.

Other contributions to recently include a check for $10 from Senator Joseph D. Tydings, and from G. D. Owens, $4.

Sondern named

Alfred R. Sondern has been named director of materiel for the Martin Marietta Corporation's Baltimore division.

Vernon R. Rawlings, vice president and general manager, announced the appointment of the 41-year-old Sondern who has held a succession of managment positions in the Corporation's Baltimore, Denver and Baltimore divisions over the past 10 years.

Job vacancies in State Dept.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Program in the Department of State announced that they are hopefully awaiting job applications from the summer's new crop of graduates.

The department has scores of well-paying jobs open to holders of new and not-so new diplomas. Some of the jobs are part-time summer jobs, and others are full-time permanent positions.

• • •

AMONG THE vacancies available are openings for secretaries, stenographers, clerks, typists, communications and records clerks, mail and records clerks, diplomatic pouch clerks and electronic technicians.

The starting salaries range from $3,925 for a beginning clerk-typist to $5,341 for a beginning secretary.

• • •

THE REQUIREMENTS for these jobs are: American citizenship, high school graduation, minimum age of 18 (under, if D.C. resident), ability to pass qualifying physical examination and a satisfactory character and loyalty investigation.

The department is also seeking candidates for the Foreign Service.

The Foreign Service Staff Officer Corps is a career position and its ranks are filled by persons interested in the administrative and consular fields.

• • •

CANDIDATES for the Foreign Service must be willing to accept world-wide assignment and no passed quantities of the service.

Entrance salaries for these positions range from $6,614 to $7,922 for Class 7 Staff Officer depending on the age, experience qualifications of the candidates.

Housing and other allowances are also provided during overseas tours of duty.

Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 31 and must also pass both the Federal Service Entrance Examination (FSEE) at the GS-7 level with a score of 80 or better and an oral examination designed to measure their suitability and qualification to represent the United States abroad.

Persons interested in these positions should contact their regional Civil Service office or the Personnel Office in the Department of State.

"CANDY-STRIPER" — Walnetta Hailey, 850 McAleer Court, (right) "Candy Striper" in the Junior Volunteer Program at Church Home and Hospital, is shown serving pie in the canteen to Miss Barbara Jones, a practical nurse.

Teens work as 'candy stripers'

Twenty-seven teenage girls are doing volunteer duty in many departments of Church Home and Hospital, this relieving adult volunteers for more sophisticated assignments.

Under supervision of Mrs. G. Rae Klevenow, director of volunteers, the "candy stripers" as they are popularly known, work in the admitting office, gift shop, canteen, laboratory, out-patient clinics, radiology and purchasing, among other areas.

The purpose of the junior volunteer program, Mrs. Klevenow says, is not only to provide valuable supplementary service to the hospital, but to interest the girls in the possibilities of careers in the health field.

The girls were recruited mostly from the area east of the hospital in the city and Baltimore County. They are of the age that requires a work permit from the State and they all have completed a Red Cross course.

Public Defender seen needed

"The Establishment of the Public Defender's Office is inevitable in Maryland" is the conclusion reached by the Criminal Law and Procedure Section of the Maryland State Bar Association.

The report of the Committee will be presented to the Annual Association Convention which will be held in Atlantic City on July 5-7.

Gadabouting the USA

With Lula Jones Garrett

In Los Angeles, Calif., last week, Mrs. Lucille Ashford was promoted to the post of Tour Superintendent, Mails, Tour 2, Los Angeles Terminal Annex. With this promotion she became the only woman in the nation to head such a high management position in the distribution and processing of mails.

Mrs. Ashford, who has both a bachelor's and a master's degree in business administration and finance from the University of Southern California, is the widow of Wilbur Ashford, who, at the time of his death in 1960, was superintendent of Greenhead Station in Los Angeles. She is, incidentally, sister-in-law of American League Umpire Emmett Ashford.

Mrs. Ashford, has been in the postal service since 1942, and has served as foreman, general foreman and, last year, assistant tour superintendent.

WITH THE LADIES: The annual Ophelia DeVore Award for outstanding achievement by a woman was presented to Dr. Gladys P. Graham for pioneer work in communications, Friday evening, in the grand Ballroom of Hotel Diplomat.

Dr. Graham, whose career spans a number of professions — teacher, journalist, public relations counselor, psychologist — is the only American woman whose name appears on the masthead of an African daily. While a guest of the Liberian government, she was decorated by President W. V. S. Tubman. Her writings have appeared in hundreds of newspapers and magazines here and abroad. She has broadcast on most major networks.

A member of Psi Chi National Honor Society in Psychology, she taught at LeMoyne College, Allen University and Miles High School. Dr. Graham holds earned degrees from Cincinnati, Columbia and New York Universities and is a member of the American Association of University Women, Alianze Internationale des Femmes, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Education Writers Association, the Drama Desk and Music Critics Association.

Omeba Catherine Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis of Canton, N.C., has been awarded the James G. K. McClure Educational and Development Fund freshman scholarship to attend Shaw University. In selecting recipients of the McClure scholarships, the Fund confines itself to candidates recommended by the colleges. Miss Davis was chosen on the basis of her high school record for both scholarship and leadership, financial need, evidence of Christian character, intellectual promise and demonstrated ambition. A ranking graduate of the Pisgah Senior High School, Canton, Miss Davis plans to pursue a course in elementary education at Shaw, where she will enroll in September.

PEREGRINATORS: Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Blackburn and Mrs. Virginia Swiggett of Dover, Del. hosted Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyer and Mrs. Ella Eaton of Philadelphia and Robert Dyer of Lawnside, N.J. last week.

In Raleigh, N.C., a few days back was Angie Elizabeth Brooks, West African diplomat (she is assistant secretary of State for Liberia), to receive another honorary doctorate. Shaw University conferred a Doctor of Laws degree upon her, (honoris causa in her capacity as an outstanding alumna.)

Earlier she had been similarly honored by Howard University, where she studied law. Miss Brooks is currently celebrating 12 years as representative from her country to the United Nations.

And in Nashville, Tenn. was Dr. Laurie M. Gunter of Seattle, Wash., upon whom the alumni of Meharry Medical College conferred a citation. A plaque was presented by Dr. Robert A. Anderson, chairman of Meherry's Interim Committee.

Mrs. Gunter, a 1943 graduate of the Meharry School of Nursing is now associate professor of nursing at the University of Washington. She also has a B.S. in home economics from Tennessee A and I State University, a degree in education from Fisk University, and a Ph.D. in human development from the University of Chicago.

Baltimore's Pearl Moulton, assistant professor of social work at the University of Maryland School of Social Work is in New York for the summer. Miss Moulton is matriculating at Columbia University School of Social Work.

THE LOVE LINE: CWO4 and Mrs. Albert Brown of Fort Sill, Oklahoma, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gilda DeWyne, to Lt. Calvin W. Cheatham Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheatham Sr., of Richmond, Va.

Miss Brown formerly of San Bernadine, Calif., has completed her sophomore year with honors, majoring in psychology at Cameron College. She has been active in the drama in high school and college and was in Cameron's production of "Pajama Game" last November. She plans to attend Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts next semester.

Lt. Cheatham, who graduated, last year, from Virginia State College with a degree in mathematics, was outstanding in ROTC. He was a member of Scabbard and Blades, Pershing Rifles Military Honor Fraternity, and editor of the 1965 Year Book. Currently, he is stationed in Vietnam with the Army. Date for the wedding will be set upon his return to the States in the fall.

July 15th has been selected by Gail Patrice Huggins and Lemuel Alvin Mitchell for their wedding, which will take place in Mt. Hope Baptist Church. Announcement of the engagement was made by the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. Kenneth Brooks, last week. Miss Huggins is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Huggins, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, all of Baltimore.

That beautiful pink manse (Liberty Heights, Baltimore) of the Algernon (Carrie) Jacksons was the setting for the lovely, quiet wedding of Creola Blanton and Charles Bennett, Saturday. The Rev. J. Lloyd Garrison read the ceremony, and just a few friends were on hand for the ritual. Afterwards the Jacksons had supper and other refreshments in honor of the occasion. The Bennetts will be occupying the Hilton Rd. home of Colonel and Mrs. Donald Parker while that family is in the Far East — Vietnam and Thailand.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson had, too, just celebrated their first wedding anniversary, and scores and scores of their friends had showered them with gifts and messages, and dropped in informally to wish them continued happiness. Other do'ngs at the Jackson house included graduations of two nieces: Carol F. Jones in Detroit, who was inducted into a National Honor Society, and is going to Michigan State, this fall; and Rosa Marie Williams of Baltimore who will enter Morgan State College. She graduated from Eastern High.

Jean E. Madden (she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Madden of Cockeysville, Md.) was married to Donald L. Henderson of Kansas City, Kans., Saturday, in Washington, D.C. Their reception was held in Pleasant House, Seat Pleasant, Md.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of satin and lace, with veil of fresh illusion, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Dorothy Dunsen of Darlington, Md., charming in pale green, with tiny veil and slippers to match, and carrying pink carnations. Leonard Wisgoff of New York City was best man. The bride is a school teacher in Seat Pleasant.

Students Cheer GI's

CUPERTINO, Calif. (UPI) — Students at Hyde Junior High School are digging into their pockets to buy gifts for U.S. servicemen in Vietnam.

Members of the seventh grade started the project as a token of support of American fighting men. Efforts were accelerated in Feburary when a brother of a student was killed in action. Students have sent more than 50 gifts, including soap, magazines, soft drinks, writing materials and playing cards.

ROOTS ANTI-MINSTREL SHOW

LOS ANGELES (NPI) The Watts community, scene of violent racial disorders last year, recently played host to an anti-minstrel play called "The Super Spook Show" presented by the Watts Repertory Theatre company.

The play, starring Earl Cook as "Super Spook," centered on the exploitation by both white and colored opportunists. Both the dramatic and the comic were mixed together in the stage action.

Church updates Lord's Prayer

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The General Synod of the United Church of Christ modernized the Lord's Prayer last week.

Miss Doris Lindsay, a church spokesman, said the change simplifies the language so it might be more readily understood and be more acceptable to any churches caring to use it.

But it was not obligatory on any church membership.

"It just provides them with a modernized version if they care to use it," she said. "It might be partienlarly useful with young people."

The changes include the part reading, "Give us this day our daily bread," to "Give us today the food we need." It also changes "Thy" and "Thine" to "You" and "Your."

OWES AIRLINE

CHICAGO (NPI) —A community newspaper reported last week that comedian and civil rights advocate Dick Gregory owes American Airlines $7,947 for air travel charged to credit cards. The News Clarion said its information on Gregory's arrearage was based on a complaint filed in circuit court.

'Big G'

LONDON (UPI) — The British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) says a play, "To Lucifer, A Son," will be screened despite a reference to God in the script as "Big G."

In the play, Satan wants to explain that hell is really everyone's idea of heaven and sends his son to earth with the message. Hell is shown as a mixture of bingo parlors and discotheques with miniskirted girls. Heaven is portrayed as a place where Beethoven is played.

"It is not sacrilegious," said playwright Johnny Speicht. "It's a little controversial."

Miss Williams married to Dr. Harry B. Rutherford

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. —Miss Karen V. Williams, of this city, became the bride of Dr. Harry B. Rutherford Jr., Washington, D.C., here, this week.

The vows were said at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church with the Rev. Vernon Jones officiating. Music was by Mrs. Adelaide Foster and Miss Johnella Lucus.

THE BRIDE, A June graduate of Hampton Institute, is the daughter of Mrs. Geraldine P. Williams and the late James T. Williams. She is a graduate of the dental school at Howard University.

Given in marriage by her mother, she was escorted by her uncle, Donald Twitty, Hampton, Va.

Miss Williams wore a gown of sandelight silk peau de soie and Alencon lace, the empire bodice was overlaid with the lace which extended into pointed trumpet shaped sleeves to the wrists. The silk shirt flared in A-shape and was brightened by appliques of the lace extending from the scalloped hemline to the center of the front skirt.

The back of the gown had an obi effect of the silk over a fan shaped chapel length train of the lace. She wore a matching petal shaped demicap of the lace centered with a looped princess crown of imported crystals from which was posed an elbow length veil of English silk illusion.

BRIDESMAIDS WERE Misses Linda Kenney, Barbara Dunn, Johnney Williams, Tuskegee, Ala.; Miss Gwendolyn Day, Alexandria, Va.; Miss Diane Kent, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Vivian Pinn, Lynchburg, Va.; and the maid of honor, Miss Lady Washington, of this city.

They were gowned alike in saki dresses designed in skimmer shape. A yoke fitted around the sleevesless bodice detailed into back with rounded tabs extending from the sides and buttons of iridescents. The maid of honor wore turquoise and the bridesmaids were gowned in spring green.

William B. Rutherford was best man for his brother.

Groomsmen were: Eldridge Burns, George Knox, William Winston, Tuskegee, Ala., Samuel Pinn, Lynchburg, Va.; Jim Yerger, Ft. Knox, Ky.; and Joseph Morris, Pensacola, Fla.

William Gaillard was ring bearer. Flower girls were Misses Andrea and Angela Twity, Hampton, Va.

THE BRIDE'S mother selected for her wedding attire a dress of blue chiffon with matching shoes and hat. The groom's mother wore a dress of off white silk with matching shoes and hat. Both wore orchid corsages.

At the reception on the lawn of the bride's home, a redwood fence elegantly dressed with ivy and pink and red roses provided the background for the receiving line. A champagne table on an upstairs patio, a four-tier cake surrounded with roses and topped with a replica of the bride and bridegroom; and a punch table on the mimosa tree-studded lawn were additional features of the reception.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Winfred Davis. Mrs. Alma Hunter and Mrs. Cora Robinson were in charge of reception arrangements.

Hostesses at the reception included Mesdames Lillian Buford, Laly Washington, Corinne Steele, Gwendolyn Kenny, Vivian Mitchell, Willie Wade, Hortense Calhoun, Helen Dibble, Queen S. Jones, Freddye Burns, Elizabeth Wright, Katie Dixon, Harriett Jeffries, Geraldine Page, Norma Gaillard, Norma Blassingale.

Mesdames Erienne Young, Vivian Waller, Pauline Punch, Florence Trammel, Maudry Williams, Catherine Frye and Ruth Frye.

Dr. and Mrs. Rutherford Jr. are honeymooning in Nassau before they return to Ft. Knox, Ky. where Dr. Rutherford is a captain in the U.S. Army Dental Corps.

ATLANTA (NPI) , —At a recent, news conference at which he was surrounded by SNCC members, jazz pianist Les McCann charged the downtown Atlanta YMCA with closing its health club facilities to him because he is colored.

Later, Jack B. Roof, YMCA executive secretary, said "We are 80 percent integrated," but he admitted the health club section "is not integrated because it has a limited capacity . . ."
