Witnesses convention at Laurel

"Mankind's life is threatened from two directions," Watchtower Society leader Robert W. Wallen told the concluding-day audience Sunday at the end of a four-day convention at Laurel Race Course.

Mr. Wallen spoke on "Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind Out of Armageddon" in the highlight discourse of the "disciple-making" regional assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"When we look in the direction of man," Mr. Wallen said, "we see evidence piling up that man's mismanagement of the earth threatens his own existence."

"The world," he said, "is threatened by a war with horrifying chemical and pestilential means of mass killing."
