

VISIT OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON TO ANNAPOLIS*

DEPARTURE ON THE STEAMER FROM BALTIMORE—ENTHUSIASM OF THE PEOPLE—SCENES IN THE HARBOR—LANDING AT ANNAPOLIS—RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT BY THE STATE CONVENTION—SPEECHES BY GOV. SWANN, JUDGE CARMICHAEL, PRESIDENT JOHNSON AND SECRETARY SEWARD—OFFICIAL RECEPTION BY THE ANNAPOLIS AUTHORITIES—VISIT TO THE NAVAL ACADEMY—COURTESIES EXTENDED BY ADMIRAL PORTER—BANQUET AT THE GOVERNOR'S MANSION—INTERESTING INCIDENTS, ETC.

(Reported for the Baltimore Sun.)

The visit which it had been announced the President of the United States would make to the capital of Maryland, took place on Saturday last, under circumstances which will cause the occasion hereafter to be looked upon as one of the most pleasing of the present times in the State. The arrangements perfected by the committee of the State Constitutional Convention were fully carried out from the departure in the steamer from this city to the close in a most agreeable manner. The day was bright and pleasant, and the waters of the Chesapeake almost unruffled.

FRIDAY NIGHT IN BALTIMORE.

The President and Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, remained at Barnum's City Hotel during Friday night as the guests of the city of Baltimore. The Hon. A. W. Randall, Postmaster General, after dining with the President and city authorities, proceeded to Washington in the evening train of Friday. Mayor Chapman waited on the President and Mr. Seward at an early hour on Saturday morning for the purpose of escorting them to the wharf, whence they were to embark for the State capital.

At 8 o'clock the distinguished party were placed in the splendid coach-and-four of Messrs. Mason & Turner, in

*Reprinted from The Sun of Monday, July 1, 1867.